Macmillan Confers With Kennedy On NATO Policy

President Hopes Consultations Will Strengthen Allied Bonds

WASHINGTON (AP)—President John F. Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan conferred for two hours today on problems of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and ways of increasing Western cold war unity.

The two men met at the White House at 11 a.m. and broke off their session for lunch at 1:10 p.m.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger announced that two subjects were discussed: International finance and economic problems and NATO and correlation of Western policies. Kennedy regards his talks with Macmillan as the start of series of top-level Western consultations which he hopes will strengthen Allied cooperation in the face of Soviet threats and pressures.

NOTHING TO SAY

Salinger told the scores of newsmen from all over the world, who were crowded into the White House executive office lobby, that he had nothing to report except the topics discussed.

A fleet of limousines brought the British leader and his ranking foreign affairs advisers into the White House three minutes ahead of the scheduled start of three days of intensive policy discussions.

Macmillan had a helicopter ride last night from Andrews Air Force Base, where his plane landed, to the Naval Observatory grounds near the British Embassy.

LAOS PROBLEMS

Although many problems of cold war strategy were due to be considered, today's conversations were expected to concentrate on the rather complex British proposal for a Laotian cease-fire.

The British have received indications from the Soviets that Russia will accept the British plan for a verified cease-fire before the beginning of 14-nation talks on pacification of the troubled Asian nation.

Kennedy, leaving an administration policy conference at the State Department Tuesday night, said that "the cease-fire is what we are most anxious to have, and we are hopeful that . . . we'll have one."

THE HEAT IS STILL ON IN MARIN COUNTY

Marin County continued to enjoy skies and warm temperatures today. The weather is expected to remain that way for the rest of the week, said the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Temperatures dropped very slightly yesterday. San Anselmo recorded a high of 87; San Rafael, 85; Woodacre and Mill Valley, 82; Terra Linda, 81; Sausalito, 80, and Belvedere, a mere 75.

Judge To Quiz Finch Jury On Progress

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jurors mulling life or death sentences for Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff were to be asked late today for a progress report.

Superior Court Judge David Coleman made the announcement as the panel entered its 10th hour of deliberation with no indication of how it is doing. A quick decision had been expected.

Big Science Grant For Drake Teacher

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

Fame in his chosen field came today to Norman N. Goldstein Jr. when he was named project director of a $25,000 grant by the National Science Foundation.

Goldstein, 36, an almost-lifelong resident of San Anselmo who teaches physiology at Sir Francis Drake High School, will use the money to develop new instruments and equipment for the study of electrical energy of nerves, muscles and the heart.

"The high cost of commercial equipment and instruments needed for these studies has made it necessary for high school and college teachers to touch on them only lightly, if at all," Goldstein said.

Result of the project, he said, will be circuit diagrams as well as instruction and textbooks on the construction and use of instruments which can be put together at low cost by high school teachers with a rudimentary knowledge of electronics.

"Having such equipment for the first time in high schools will make possible the detailed study of components of breathing, blood pressure, blood flow in limbs, blood oxygenation in vessels and movements of the heart," he predicted. He added that it would also make possible humane experiments on living animals—including students.

Apparently the National Science Foundation agreed with Goldstein's predictions, presented to the foundation several months ago in a 40-page brochure. The grant to the youthful teacher is one of the largest the foundation has ever awarded a secondary school and is the largest ever given by the foundation for development of laboratory equipment.

Working with Goldstein on the project, scheduled to begin in June, is Dr. James G. Callas of Santa Venetia, Kaiser Foundation Hospital pediatrician.

Special consultants to Goldstein and Dr. Callas will be Dr. John C. Bettinger of San Rafael, specialist in internal medicine and director of the cardiopulmonary laboratory at Marin General Hospital, and Dr. Robert D. Dunbar of San Rafael, neurological surgeon and professor at University of California medical school in San Francisco. Dr. Bettinger will assist on cardio-pulmonary function problems while Dr. Dunbar will advise on problems related to neuro-muscular physiology and neurology.

Three University of California professors will act as an advisory panel. They are Dr. Nello Pace and Dr. Robert Macey, professors of physiology, and Dr. Lester Reu-

PRIVATE FIRM RULED OUT

Supervisors Request Grand Jury To Make Juvenile Hall Survey

Marin County's board of supervisors yesterday asked the county grand jury to make a survey of juvenile hall.

Chairman William D. Fusselman said he got the idea because of other recent activities of the grand jury—such as recommending that the recorder not go to the civic center, and slapping the supervisors for their January stop-work order.

Administrator Alan Bruce had recommended that the supervisors hire a private firm to do the survey, a project generally approved by all concerned including Probation Officer Walter H. Busher.

A motion by Supervisor Walter R. Castro to follow Bruce's suggestion was defeated 3-2, with Supervisor William Gnoss voting with Castro. Gnoss then supported Fusselman's suggestion, which passed 4-1, with Castro voting "no."

"We have a county administrator and he should be the man authorized to hire consultants," said Castro. "We're abrogating our duties."

Busher appeared again before the supervisors asking two-month trial from May 1 of an increase in staff because of Juvenile Hall additions now near completion. He wanted two senior group supervisors, one group counselor and one senior stenographer-clerk for a total outlay of $3,416 and said sufficient funds were in the regular salary classification.

He was backed by Roy Michael of the probation committee.

"I'm confused," said Gnoss. "I think there's too many people but maybe I'm wrong so I favor having unbiased experts come in."

Bruce estimated that a national firm would survey the hall for from $500 to $4,000, depending on scope of study.

Bruce had also found that Marin County probation budget estimate works out at a ratio of .072 of a staff member to each child at the hall whereas the average for six other counties is .060.

Busher said he felt a survey would disclose need for the staffing he has asked. Everybody seemed ready to vote for Bruce to proceed, when Fusselman proposed that the board "ask the grand jury to procure some sort of investigation from an outside source."

"I don't think this is for the grand jury," Castro protested. "I feel a sense of responsibility."

"That's how I felt last January," said Fusselman, referring to the stop-work action at the civic center which he initiated.

"The grand jury sent us a

Russia Withdraws U.N. U-2, RB-47 Complaint

But U.S. Won't Drop Tibet, Hungary Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Russia dropped the U-2 and RB-47 plane incidents today but the United States declined to withdraw the question of Communist suppression of Hungary and Tibet from the United Nations agenda in return.

Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin told the General Assembly's main political committee that "under the new conditions" since President John F. Kennedy took office, it would not insist upon U.N. action against the United States for the flights of the planes.

The Soviet complaint put before the Assembly last year described the flights of the American U-2 plane that was downed over Russia last May and the RB-47 reconnaissance plane downed over the Barents Sea in July. The complaint described the incidents as "acts of aggression."

NO STRINGS, BUT

Zorin attached no strings to the withdrawal of the complaint from the General Assembly's agenda, but asked that debate on the Communist suppression of Hungary and Tibet also be canceled.

Zorin said Russia had decided to drop the complaint because it "has properly assessed the fact that one of the first steps of the new U.S. president, Mr. Kennedy, on his inauguration, was the issuing of an order prohibiting U.S. military planes from violating the air space of the Soviet Union."

RESERVES POSITION

Ambassador Charles W. Yost, deputy chief of the U.S. delegation, welcomed Zorin's announcement, but said the Hungarian and Tibetan items "do not, however, fall in precisely the same category." Yost said the United States would "reserve its position entirely as to the appropriateness and necessity of considering" Hungary and Tibet at this assembly session.

The Russian announcement came after a brief committee debate on a U.S. plan for economic development of Africa.

POLICE CHIEF POST

Tam Teen-Agers Tout For Terzich

Two hundred Tamalpais High School teen-agers have petitioned the City of Mill Valley to appoint Officer Dan Terzich as chief of police on retirement of James P. McGowan May 1.

The petition, delivered to the city hall, reads: "We the undersigned teen-agers respectfully request that you appoint Officer Dan Terzich to the position of chief of police of Mill Valley. We all are students at Tamalpais High School.

'NICEST THINGS'

Said Terzich today: "This is one of the nicest things that ever happened to me."

The petition was started by Bill Kott, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Kott of 11 Forest Avenue, Mill Valley. He said Terzich has been trying to get recreation for youth and "we'd rather see him get the job than anyone else on the force."

Terzich, according to John George, dean of boys at Tam high, attends practically all athletic events at the school and even follows the Tam team to games in other cities. He served as an umpire of school baseball games for two years. Each year, students present him with a yearbook because of his interest in the high school.

ONE OF FIVE

Terzich was one of five candidates who passed a written examination for the chief of police job on March 25 — the only one of the five who is a Marin resident, City Manager A. E. Almcrants disclosed today.

Oral examinations for the five are to be given April 15 at the Mill Valley City Hall by a board composed of Jordan L. Martinelli, retiring Marin Superior Court judge; Leigh Brilliant, Walnut Creek police chief, and Gordon A. Harrison, a Mill Valley engineer. Almcrants will make the appointment from among three candidates recommended by the board.

Terzich, 54, has been on the Mill Valley police force since 1953. He earlier served as a San Quentin Prison guard, a Marin County deputy sheriff, was a

Heavy, Heavy Hangs Over Council Head

The Sausalito City Council was warned last night that the ceiling over its head might cave in with the heavy load of books from the library above.

Former Mayor Alan H. Scurfield sounded the alarm. "Life and limbs of youngsters using the library are in danger" to say nothing of the councilmen below, he declared.

Scurfield brought up the subject during discussion of a planning commission proposal that city offices be located in a civic center on the sandspit, and following Mrs. Charles E. Finney's declaration that "the police station has to go out of here."

Scurfield pointed to a bulge in the ceiling above Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich's head. "See the floor up there!" he said. It's coming through."

Fred Perry Jr. proposed the fire marshall survey the building for fire hazards.

"A flash fire in these old buildings could cause a terrific hazard," he said. "Haste makes waste and wait makes waste."

The council moved unanimously to ask City Engineer John L. Hunter to survey the stability of the library floor and, in a second motion, to ask a report on the safety of the building from the fire marshal.

Barber Files Appeal In Murder Conviction

WOODLAND (AP)—A former San Rafael barber convicted of first degree murder filed a handwritten notice of appeal with Yolo County Superior Court yesterday.

Elwood J. Williams, now at the Vacaville State Hospital, was sentenced to life imprisonment March 28 in the shooting death of his wife, Holly, Nov. 19, in Davis.

Tractor Kills Ex-Marinite In San Jose

Thomas J. Bates, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Bates of 16 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera, was killed yesterday while working on a construction job near San Jose.

Bates was employed as a soils engineer by a construction firm starting a new subdivision. He was kneeling on the ground when an earth-moving tractor ran over him, Santa Clara County sheriff's officers reported.

The tractor driver, Donald N. Rodoni of Saratoga, said he did not see Bates in the tractor's path.

Bates attended Larkspur-Corte Madera School, Marin Catholic High School and College of Marin. Since his graduation last year from San Jose State College, he had made his home in Saratoga with his wife, Diana. Their son, Thomas Jr., is 4 years old.

Bates was a veteran of four years Navy service and served during the Korean War. He was born in Corte Madera.

Survivors also include a brother, Harold J. Bates Jr. of Marinwood; and two sisters, Mrs. Rosemary Carroll of Eureka and Mrs. Patricia Rossoni of Pinole.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Irish Troops Take Over Elisabethville Airport

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—Irish troops took control of Elisabethville airport today. A U.N. source reported President Moise Tshombe has backed down from his threatening anti-U.N. position.

The U.N. military chief in the Congo, Gen. Sean McKeown of Ireland, warned Tshombe that Indian troops would be brought into Elisabethville if there were further attempts to interfere with U.N. operations at the airport, the source reported.

An advance guard of the Irish U.N. troops was flown into Elisabethville early today to hold the airport until the arrival of Indian Gurkhas. Secessionist strongman Tshombe opposes the dispatch of Indian troops to his province.

The airport guard of Swedish U.N. troops, attacked yesterday by a rampaging mob incited by Tshombe, retired to their camp on the outskirts of Elisabethville as the Irish took over.

General McKeown had a two-hour meeting with Tshombe at the presidential residence. The U.N. informant said Tshombe agreed to rescind all sanctions he had ordered against U.N. personnel.

The source added that the U.N. force would continue to operate in Katanga, alongside Katanga authorities.

Floating Command Post For U.S. In Atom War Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—Kennedy administration concern for insuring the survival and unbroken control by the U. S. military leadership in event of a nuclear attack has raised the possibility that a command post might be established afloat.

Mentioned in speculation about such a possible seagoing command post are the nuclear cruiser Long Beach, the Northampton, a command ship for the Atlantic Fleet, and the giant nuclear submarine Triton.

In his budget message to Congress, President John F. Kennedy asked for 16 million dollars in new contract authority to be used for "invulnerable and continuous command posts and communications centers."

He said these "are only the beginning of a major but absolutely vital effort to achieve a truly unified, nationwide, indestructible system to insure high-level command, communications and control and a properly authorized response under any conditions."

Kennedy didn't go into detail, but it is known Pentagon studies now under way are considering the possibility of floating command posts to which U. S. leaders might retreat if land command centers were knocked out, or threatened with destruction.

Vice Adm. John T. Hayward, deputy chief of naval operations for development, told Congress recently the Navy's major research and development effort in this area is "on a command control ship which will provide high command—the data processing equipment, displays and communications essential to effective control of naval, unified or combined military forces."

By high command, Hayward said he meant a major fleet commander or unified force commander, possibly even the Joint Chiefs of Staff or the president.

The 14,000-ton Long Beach, now at the Bethlehem Steel Co. shipyard in Quincy, Mass., is due to be commissioned Sept. 1. Powered by two nuclear reactors, the 721-foot ship will be manned by 800 men and officers and will be armed with anti-aircraft missiles and rocket torpedoes. It also will be equipped with the most advanced electronic tactical control system.

The Northampton, designed originally as a cruiser, now is flagship of the Atlantic Fleet and is classed officially as a tactical command vessel.

It is 677 feet long and displaces 17,200 tons. Recently the conventionally powered Northampton was equipped with improved helicopter landing facilities and better communications equipment.

Not long ago, the Navy decided to redesignate the 5,900-ton Triton an attack submarine, instead of a radar picket craft.

Last year, the Triton sailed around the world under water. This demonstrated an ability that might be useful in a command ship trying to direct U. S. forces while remaining out of reach of enemies seeking to destroy it.

Step Ahead By GOP Seen In St. Louis

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republican National Chairman Thruston B. Morton said today that the vote rolled up by the losing GOP candidate in the St. Louis mayoralty election was "a great forward stride toward future victories."

Morton issued a statement noting that the Republican total was a 100 per cent gain over the 1957 polling.

In yesterday's election, Democratic incumbent Raymond R. Tucker received 101,601 votes in defeating Republican Ben H. Lindenbusch who polled 59,469 votes. In 1957, Morton pointed out, the Republican candidate received 30,816 votes.

"This is a highly significant accomplishment in our long-range program to whittle down the monolithic Democratic vote in the big cities," he said. "While we did not select St. Louis as a test city we did use this election as the scene of redoubled big city effort. The result is most gratifying and indicates what we can accomplish in the future if we really get down to more and more united effort."

Morton said the Republicans knew they could not win the St. Louis election. "But we did believe we could make a great forward stride toward future victories," he said. "This we have done even beyond our expectations."

Runoff Apparent In Texas Vote

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Republican John G. Tower, who campaigned against President John F. Kennedy's New Frontier, and Sen. William A. Blakley, who ran as a conservative Democrat, appeared headed for a runoff today in Texas' special U.S. Senate race.

Thousands of votes remained to be counted in yesterday's contest but the Texas Election Bureau said that if the trend continues Tower, 35, and Blakley, 62, will face each other in a runoff.

The last tabulation showed Democratic Rep. Jim Wright close behind Blakley. Wright campaigned as a moderate.

The election is to fill the Senate seat vacated when Lyndon B. Johnson resigned to become vice president.

Late returns from the election bureau showed Tower leading the field of 70 candidates with 321,686 votes, Blakley second with 186,666, and Wright 166,776.

Under Texas election law a candidate must poll a majority to be elected. Otherwise the two top men must face each other in a runoff. The runoff is set tentatively for June 3.

Tower seeks to be the first Republican elected to the U.S. Senate from Texas since Reconstruction days.

The names of 71 candidates appeared on the ballot. One candidate died before the election. Six withdrew too late to have their names removed.

Only six of the candidates polled many votes. Besides the leading three the others were Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, 48, a moderate, and liberals State Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez, 44, of San Antonio, and Maury Maverick, 40, of San Antonio.

Junior College Money Proposals Are Argued

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—Bills to provide additional state funds for operation of California junior colleges took their first faltering steps through the legislature yesterday.

For nearly two and one-half hours proponents of four different methods of providing more state aid argued the merits of their plans before a subcommittee of the education committee. Finally, at 6 p.m., chairman Richard T. Hanna (D-Fullerton) said he had to leave. This effectively ended the session without any sort of a vote being taken.

There was little testimony on the bills from other than the experts. A Marin contingent of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy, president of the College of Marin trustees, Kent O. Seymour, a member of the board, and Dr. Stephen E. Epler, director of the college, did not get a chance to testify. However, Dr. Epler filed a statement with the committee urging passage of AB 1848 by Assemblyman Carl A. Britschgi (R-Redwood City).

This bill, Dr. Epler said, would increase state aid to junior colleges from 28 per cent to 33 per cent. Its provisions "distribute state support to junior colleges on the basis of need, giving more support per student to junior colleges with less assessed valuation per student."

Dr. Wallace W. Hall, associate state superintendent of public instruction and former Marin County schools superintendent, compared the provisions for junior colleges in AB 1848, AB 1000 and AB 2285, the latter two by Gordon H. Winton Jr. (D-Merced). He did not discuss AB 70 by Lou Cusanovich (R-Van Nuys) which provides the state would pay all costs of junior college students who would have gone to college or university if the state master plan for higher education had not designated junior colleges to take over these 50,000 new students in the next 10 years.

Cusanovich had decided to drop his bill and told Chairman Hanna to "put it at the bottom of the box." But another committee member, John L. E. Collier (R-Los Angeles), insisted on debating the bill.

Dr. Hall said AB 1000, the general school financing bill of the state Department of Education, would grant approximately the same over-all additional aid to the junior colleges as AB 1848, about $5,600,000. The two bills differ in methods of figuring the school's share.

AB 2285 would add $900,000 more than these two, according to the legislative auditor.

No one even tried to guess where the additional money was coming from. Winton mentioned it saying.

The bills go before the whole education committee later this week.

Scout Paper Drive Slated In Mill Valley

There will be a paper drive Saturday in Mill Valley by Boy Scouts to raise money for the upkeep of Mill Valley Scout hall.

Persons may either place papers in bundles of about 25 pounds on their curbs between 8 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Saturday or bring them to the Mill Valley Firehouse any time Friday and up to 2:30 p.m. Saturday, Lowell F. Jett, chairman, said.

DUMPED AT POLLS

Flamboyant Illinois Mayor Loses

AURORA, Ill (UPI) — Paul Egan, whose eight years of public conflicts made him one of the nation's better known mayors, was beaten by a margin of more than two-to-one yesterday in his bid for re-election.

Egan polled 6,994 votes to 15,177 for his opponent and the new mayor, Jay L. Hunter, 69, a retired high school principal.

During his two terms as mayor, Egan battled local officials, business leaders and leading citizens.

Egan, 68, was drawing $27.50 weekly unemployment compensation when he won election to his first term as mayor in 1953. He warred against merchants and factory owners who, he said, drove his weekly newspaper out of business.

He fought against officialdom, and sometimes landed in jail. He fired and hired several police chiefs, and once tried to fire his entire police force.

Poulson To Face L.A. Runoff Test

LOS ANGELES (UPI)— Mayor Norris Poulson, seeking his third four-year term, failed to Garner the needed 50.01 per cent of the vote over seven opponents in yesterday's municipal primary election and must face the test of a runoff in the May 31 general election.

Final semi-official election returns with all 4,712 precincts complete showed Poulson with 179,273 votes. Former Congressman Sam W. Yorty was closest to him with 122,478 votes, meaning they will meet in the runoff.

None of the other five candidates was in contention. A ninth name appeared on the ballot but the candidate withdrew before voting time.

Blood Bank Coming

The mobile unit of the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank will be at Marin General Hospital between 9 and 11:45 a.m. Friday, Mrs. Kenneth Denman, chairman of the Marin County blood reserve program, announced.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Tobacco Mogul Wed

ATLANTA (UPI) — Tobacco millionaire R. J. Reynolds, 55, honeymooned on his private island off the Georgia coast with wife number 4 today.

Reynolds announced his marriage on the high seas to Dr. Annemarie Schmitt, 31, of Karlsruhe, Germany, in a statement distributed yesterday by a public relations firm here.

They were married aboard the Holland American line ship Rotterdam in the South China Sea March 15—the day circuit judge Henry Durrance ruled at Claxton, Ga., that Mrs. Muriel Marston Reynolds of Toronto, Ont., was not entitled to a new trial in her divorce from the cigarette king.

'Fish' Cookies

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall held a luncheon yesterday and fed his guests cookies made of "fish flour," which could change the lives of millions in the world's underdeveloped areas.

"Fish flour," or animal protein concentrate, could change a situation in which more than two-thirds of the world's population suffers from a protein deficiency, he said.

The department said the United States, using only one species of fish, could supply 100 million persons with one ounce of the concentrate daily for a year.

Odd Sheep

CHURCHVILLE, Va. (AP)—W. W. Ashby, Augusta county farmer, has one of the oddest flocks of sheep in the country. They were captured in 1958 on an island off the North Carolina coast and are thought to be survivors of a ship wreck. Ashby says they have extremely small bones and can run like deer.

Two Released

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI)—Two American businessmen, held incommunicado by the Cuban government since March 24 when their private plane was forced down in Havana, said today they were questioned only once before their release.

Linden Blue, 24, of Denver, Colo., and Donald Swenson, 36, an American citizen who resides in Toronto, Canada, arrived in Miami last night. Each lost about 10 pounds during the 11-day jail stay, in which they were held without charge.

Cooley Charged

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) — The district attorney's office was expected to issue a formal murder charge today against one-time cowboy singing star Don (Spade) Cooley in the beating death of his estranged wife.

Sheriff's deputies booked the 50-year-old former radio and TV performer on a murder charge yesterday, saying his 14-year-old daughter watched in horror Monday night as he beat Ella Mae Cooley, 37.

An autopsy showed Mrs. Cooley, who once sang for Cooley when he had a western band, died either of a ruptured aorta suffered from abdominal blows or a ruptured thyroid gland brought about by choking.

Deportee Hunted

GUATEMALA (AP) — Carlos Marcello, New Orleans underworld chieftain deported from the United States, today faced arrest or deportation again if Guatemalan immigration officials can catch him.

Marcello arrived here yesterday aboard a U.S. border patrol plane and promptly disappeared in company with Col. Antonio Batres, second in command of the Guatemalan air force.

Immigration officials waiting for Marcello were left empty-handed when his plane landed at a military airport. They angrily vowed to hunt him down.

Senegal Assured

DAKAR, Senegal (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson assured Premier Mamadou Dia today the United States will help finance Senegal's four-year economic plan.

Johnson and Dia told newsmen a technical assistance agreement between Senegal and the United States will be signed soon.

Actress Divorced

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress-model Suzy Parker was divorced in Paris March 21 from writer Pierre de la Salle, her American lawyer has revealed. De la Salle, 34, didn't contest the suit, which charged incompatibility, attorney Paul O'Dwyer said yesterday.

Havana Says U.S. Cruiser Fired At Cuban Airplane

HAVANA (UPI) — Acting foreign minister Carlos Olivares charged early today a U.S. cruiser fired anti-aircraft guns at a Cuban plane two weeks ago near Imias in eastern Cuba.

Cuban authorities got Swiss Ambassador Walter Bossi out of bed before dawn to deliver a note from Olivares denouncing what he called the "aggressive attitude" of U.S. forces in Cuban waters.

The note, replying to yesterday's U.S. protest against Cuban efforts to seize the American cable schooner Western Union, cited the cruiser's alleged March 23 attack as a sample of "grave . . . provocative . . . criminal activity" by ships from the U.S. Navy's Guantanamo base.

It said nothing to indicate the plane was hit or that anyone was insured in the alleged attack. It did not indicate what type of plane was involved or what it was doing in the vicinity of the cruiser.

Olivares's note also charged that U.S. planes violated Cuba's air space 49 times between Feb. 15 and March 15.

Olivares denounced the U.S. protest as a "smokescreen . . . to hide five (unspecified) transgressions of the most elemental standards of international law."

The note said the U.S. Navy's rescue of the Western Union was "an aggression or at least a provocation by U.S. armed forces."

The note charged that the cable vessel was two miles offshore Friday when it was seized by a Cuban patrol boat, which fled when the U.S. destroyer James W. Weeks arrived to "survey the situation."

The captain of the Western Union says his ship was seven to eight miles from the coast, well outside the three-mile limit, when it was seized.

11 Property Owners Win Sewers Battle

Eleven owners of Shoreline properties between Mill Valley's Miller Avenue and Tamalpais Valley Junction yesterday won a long battle for sewers without payment of connection fees.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors finally approved a contract with this stipulation between Almonte Sanitary District, where the Shoreliners have paid fees for 10 years without getting service, and Kay Park Sewer Maintenance District. The vote was 3-1 with Chairman William D. Fusselman abstaining. Supervisor Walter R. Castro opposed.

Considerably riled by Fusselman's doubts as to the propriety of the proposal, Deputy County Counsel Robert A. Smallman laid it on the line that everything was proper, declaring, "If it weren't legal I wouldn't have drawn it up."

Asst. Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell gave a blackboard demonstration showing that because they are in the Almonte area, the Shoreline property owners have paid about $3,000 to the Almonte district over the past decade without getting anything for it.

"If they have paid $3,000, somehow the money should be found to pay the (connection) fee (to Kay Park)," said Fusselman.

A proposed contract, rejected by the Shoreliners, had called for connection fees they said would run to around $900 each.

A consideration in the fee-free contract accepted is that the property owners must pay for constructing a $12,000 line to tie in with the Kay Park line, with treatment by the Mill Valley plant.

Public Works Director, Marvin W. Brigham contended that the Shoreliners sought "a free ride," as connection fees are in lieu of initial payment for plant.

He opposed Smallman's contention that the proposed contract without fees would solve a long-standing problem and provide "the only way to get rid of a health hazard."

"There are other ways," insisted Brigham.

Supervisor J. Walter Blair moved acceptance. Castro opposed on a basis of past experience on district boards during which he said no such exception had been made. Fusselman said he had no objection if the ordinance weren't being violated.

The supervisors also:

1. Accepted bid of Bank of America for $85,000 in Novato Unified School District bonds, 1957, series D, at 3.94643 per cent interest; and bid of First Western bank, San Francisco, for $315,000 in 1960 series A bonds of the Novato district with 3.90809 per cent interest.

2. Approved a motion of Supervisor Blair that bids for the county petroleum supplies (to be submitted both as package deal and separately for gasoline, diesel fuel and lubricants) be submitted to the board unopened.

3. Reappointed Alton Lerch as member of the Marin County Housing Administration, and confirmed Fusselman's reappointment of Dr. William Upton and George Scott as members of the planning commission.

4. Granted permission for Tiburon Tommie's Pier 41 restaurant in Tiburon to enlarge, conditional on providing 14 parking spaces at all times and an additional 31 after regular working hours.

5. Postponed until next week consideration of an opinion by county counsel on a proposed agreement between the state and Bel Air Flood Control Zone, involving a drainage facility apparently in conflict with a planned community development.

Novato Planning Session Tonight

The last of a series of citizens' informational meetings on Novato city planning will be held tonight, with discussion of streets and highways scheduled.

The public meeting will begin at 8 o'clock in the Novato High School cafeteria.

The almost 60 citizens who form eight committees studying a master plan for the city are expected to have their advisory reports before the city planning commission by June 1. The reports will be used in drawing up a master plan for the year-old city to replace the present county-drawn plan.

Wrong Town

CALUMET, Mich. (AP) — A trailer truck driver didn't learn until he stopped at state police headquarters here that the one-time mining community of Fulton, now a tiny village in Upper Michigan, was not his destination.

The driver, transporting four tractors from Iowa, had passed Fulton, Mich., in the lower peninsula, because it wasn't listed in his map index.

The error took him 600 miles out of his way.

Statewide Testing In Schools Debated

By DOROTHY SIMPERS

A proposal for statewide testing in all California public schools was praised and sharply criticized last night at the College of Marin.

Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, president emeritus of University of California, declared that with standardized ability and achievement tests, tailored to "meet the needs" of every school district, each school board "should be able to evaluate the schools in the district and stimulate their improvement."

Mrs. Lynn Thompson, educational consultant of the League of Women Voters, charged that statewide testing would result in "little more than teaching to tests and breed a valueless kind of competition among schools."

Sproul and Mrs. Thompson debated the subject of statewide testing before the Marin County School Board Assn. Both served on the 27-member citizen advisory commission which submitted a report and recommendations on education to the legislature last November. Mrs. Thompson was one of four members opposed to the statewide testing proposal; Sproul was in the majority.

The recommendation for mandatory periodic testing in all school systems was a "hotly debated issue," Sproul said.

Purpose would be to provide each school district with a yardstick to evaluate the effectiveness of its program.

His vote for the proposal represented his approval of testing by itself, rather than a particular testing pattern, he said.

The educator declared that "bigger and better planning" for schools is imperative if public education is to cope with problems generated by the population explosion and the "extension of the universe."

Mrs. Thompson urged a "far more positive" approach to getting good schools than a system of statewide testing.

The effort, time and money would be better spent by the local districts in providing better teachers, she said. She stressed the importance of knowing how to teach, especially in elementary grades, and the need for giving teachers the best materials and guides.

To say that mandatory testing would have the effect of raising academic standards is "fallacious reasoning," Mrs. Thompson said.

She opposed writing into the educational code detailed and specific curriculum requirements. Creativity and individuality would be inhibited, as would high quality, she charged.

The local superintendent and district should have flexibility in building a program, Mrs. Thompson said.

She said she had no quarrel with tests in the proper places, to identify talent or do various kinds of evaluation.

Mrs. Thompson questioned the validity of statewide tests if they did not consider "individual differences." She also asked whether teachers would not be tempted to teach to the lower group in order to bring up the average. This would be to the detriment of the better students, she contended.

Both speakers agreed that the commission had said the legislature should tell the state board of education it should conduct tests. The commission did not leave it up to the legislature, they said.

A testing bill introduced by Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton Jr. (D-Merced) has been stalled in the Assembly education committee. Another bill also has been proposed by Assemblyman Charles B. Garrigus (D-Fresno).

A member of the audience asked whether the commission was going to "attempt to educate Mr. Garrigus" since the commission didn't make the recommendations Garrigus assumes.

Sproul replied that the commission had gone out of existence, "but I'm going to attempt to educate Mr. Garrigus."

Miracle Mile Legal Fight Nearly Settled

The 10-year legal fight over the Miracle Mile, which started with a quarter-million-dollar claim, may be settled for $10,000 to $12,000.

San Anselmo City Atty. John G. Buresh reported last night that heirs of Highland Realty Co., which claims interest in the Miracle Mile, are willing to settle for about $6,000 each from San Anselmo and San Rafael. The San Anselmo City Council authorized Buresh to get together with San Rafael and negotiate for settlement on that basis.

The question of ownership of the old railroad right-of-way between San Rafael and San Anselmo has been argued up and down in the state courts since 1951.

San Anselmo councilmen also discussed the proposed expansion of Kaufman's department store on San Anselmo Avenue. Mozard Kaufman wants to build to the rear of his store, over the creek, to provide a rear access from the Greyhound Bus Depot area.

City fathers approved the expansion but pointed out this does not obligate the city to acquire the bus depot property. Also, Kaufman must provide steps or ramp to meet the city street grade when and if the city puts in a street in the bus depot area.

The city attorney announced that he would compile a draft of the corrections made thus far on the new city zoning ordinance. Councilmen last year started a paragraph-by-paragraph reading of the old zoning ordinance to make revisions. They hope to complete the revision this year.

An audit of city books, conducted last week by a San Francisco firm, is completed, but the results are not known as yet, City Administrator Douglas Flautt reported. A report on the three-day audit is expected at next Tuesday's meeting.

KENNEDY WON'T TAKE ROCKING CHAIR TO PARIS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said today he knows of no plans for President John F. Kennedy to pack along his rocking chair when he visits France late next month.

"I'm sure there will be plenty of rockers available in France," Salinger said with a laugh.

He commented in response to a newsman who said a number of reports had been published in France to the effect that Kennedy would be bringing the rocker which had been prescribed for him by his personal physician for office-type exercise.

Scout Tax Exemption Up For Final Passage

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—A bill to grant sales and use tax exemption to Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and other non-profit boy and girl organizations selling candy and other confectionery neared passage in the State Assembly today on its way to the governor's desk.

The bill, SB 294 by Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael), had been passed earlier by the Senate and Assembly committees.

Another McCarthy bill, SB 213 which would regulate billboards along county-designated scenic highways, was amended in committee yesterday and will be given a hearing again before the Assembly Governmental Efficiency and Economy Committee in two weeks.

McCarthy changed the bill himself to tighten some of the regulations which had been relaxed by earlier Senate amendment. One would reduce the distance a billboard could be located away from a commercial structure. It had been 500 feet, was increased to 1,000 feet, and the new amendment would make it the lesser distance again. The distance, he said, has become a point of controversy for both opponents and proponents of the bill.

The Marin senator has become co-author of two other pieces of legislation dealing with state parks. He joined Sen. Carl L. Christensen (D-Eureka) in proposing that the State Department of Natural Resources can not acquire property for a state park in a county without first getting permission from the county board of supervisors (SB 1060).

Christiansen, McCarthy and other senators also sponsored a bill (SB 1091(which would reimburse counties for loss of revenue on land taken for state park and beach purposes, similar to the method used when property is taken for state forest purposes.

McCarthy also introduced two new bills of his own. One (SB 1962) would establish that dispensing opticians and optometrists who have offices in retail stores continuously offering more than 50 per cent of their merchandise at discount prices, shall be deemed to be offering his services under the representation that his fees are at a discount too.

The second bill (SB 1061) sets up minimum requirements for facilities and staff of a state-licensed school of cosmotology.

BILLY GRAHAM ON THE BEACH

Evangelist Billy Graham preaches to an audience of vacationing students near the beach at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. He called his audience "rebels without a cause," saying "everyone is searching for a flag to follow. I say we are looking for Christ." He drew a cheer when he said, "The older generation forgets sometimes that they were once young, too." This was a reference to riots in the student spring vacation resort last week. Most students have left town and returned to classes, but yesterday when Graham spoke, there still were about 10,000 students in town. (AP Wirephoto)

OVER ROAD FUND

Mayor McInnis, Fusselman Fume

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis arrived yesterday in the air-conditioned comfort of the county supervisors' chambers only to become red-hot within the next few seconds.

Supervisor Chairman William D. Fusselman greeted the mayor with a charge that McInnis had come to "make a deal" and that he was "not keeping faith" with his fellow-mayors of Marin.

McInnis had sent ahead a note in which he suggested consultation on "expenditure of city and county moneys available to San Rafael area for mutual benefit."

He developed later he wanted to discuss county improvement of the portion of San Pedro Road which runs through unincorporated lands.

Flushing deeply, McInnis retorted to Fusselman's attack:

"Have I ever come to you and asked that you make a deal?"

"Of course you haven't," said Fusselman, "but your letter did."

"I resent this!" cried McInnis. "We were to coordinate. Do you and I want to fight right now?"

"You were the spokesman for the 10 cities and none was to appear individually," retorted Fusselman.

McInnis pulled himself under control and though observing that "this is a poor way to generate a discussion," embarked on explanation including past history for benefit of two new board members.

He said that as spokesman for all Marin cities he dealt with possible outlay of county money within cities on arterial streets of county interest. But yesterday, he had come to talk of county money spent on county sections of San Pedro Road.

"We in San Rafael are desperately concerned with our Third Street which becomes San Pedro Road," he said, recalling a past plan of joint improvement.

City and county started by appropriating $50,000 a year each toward improvement of the street. McInnis said that in two years $200,000 had thus accumulated of which $170,000 to $175,000 is available after deducting costs of aerial survey and minor expenditures.

"We now have all property required for right of way within the city and we're ready to go, starting from the fire station at Union Street and building eastward," said McInnis.

"We are prepared to throw our money in the pot with yours to get this job along. So we would ask if you will put in another $50,000 from the county—we will do the same from the city—to spend on county areas."

After long discussion the supervisors agreed to go out and have a look. Assistant Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell reported that $95,100 is available in the county fund earmarked for the job.

Two Districts Seek Accord On Students

Superintendents of the Novato Unified and San Rafael High School districts have agreed to ask trustee approval of an inter-district agreement for some high school students from the San Jose School District.

The agreement, if approved, would mean that ninth grade students residing in the San Jose district could attend either Novato High School or San Rafael High School for the school year beginning next September.

Normally, San Jose students would attend San Rafael high, since the San Jose elementary district is in the San Rafael high school district. Many San Jose parents have objected, primarily because of the distance between homes and San Rafael. Novato High School is closer to homes in the San Jose district.

Superintendents agreed to this first move at a meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Michael V. Doran, chairman of a citizens committee seeking merger of the Novato and San Jose districts.

But superintendents W. J. J. Smith of Novato and Frank L. Lucas of San Rafael agreed that before any decision could be made by their boards of trustees, an opinion poll on unification should be taken.

Smith is expected to ask trustee approval of an unofficial unification opinion poll in the Novato district. If this poll is approved by trustees and then proves favorable, the San Rafael district would institute a poll of residents in the San Jose district, Lucas agreed.

The county committee on school district organization tonight will hold the first of a series of three meetings on unification, which ultimately is expected to come to a vote for a third time in both districts. In two previous elections,

Maltreating Of Captives Laid To Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. government today accused Cuba's Castro regime of maltreating U.S. citizens held in Cuban jails.

The State Department said officials are not giving enough food and medicine to the Americans — and also are stopping U.S. gift foods and medicines from reaching the prisoners.

About 22 U.S. citizens are reported to be in Cuban prisons under various sentences.

The jails are already overcrowded with Cubans imprisoned by the pro-Communist Castro government.

Sausalito Undecided On Cove Lots Ruling

The City of Sausalito is not ready to give up the fight for underwater Shelter Cove lots, despite an adverse court ruling.

The city council last night instructed City Atty. John B. Ehlen to prepare a recommendation on its future action after written findings of fact in the case of Reagan vs. Sausalito are filed by Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin Superior Court.

On Monday, Judge Sims found in favor of Russell S. Reagan of 1 Edwards Avenue, Sausalito, who had sued to prevent city purchase of the lots from Walter L. Benson for $63,000. The judge ruled the city must either rescind the purchase or submit the matter to referendum.

Declared Ehlen last night: "I don't think the transaction was illegal . . . The litigation has no foundation except, perhaps, malice."

Later, Ehlen said he would give the council his opinion on whether the city should (1) ask a new trial, (2) carry the case to a higher court, or (3) abide by Judge Sim's ruling.

Ehlen also told the council that the litigation does not pertain to the council's agreement with Benson to purchase other underwater lots at the foot of Richardson Street.

Perry, in the audience, said: "If it goes to the people to vote, I think now is the time to define where our waterfront is. Let's start buying the other water lots and try to preserve the waterfront."

"Amen," said Ehlen.

President Named By U.S. Chamber

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard Wagner, 64, who rose from a $5-a-week bank runner to board chairman of Champlin Oil and Refining Co., today was named president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

The Chicagoan will take office May 2. His election by the chamber's board of directors is for one year.

Wagner, who is both chairman and chief executive officer of the Chicago oil firm, has a reputation in business circles as an articulate advocate of tax reform.

MARIN'S STATE FAIR DISPLAY—Against a background of redwoods and Marin plants, the Marin County exhibit at this year's state fair will feature color transparencies, illuminated from behind, and a relief map of the county. The board of supervisors unanimously endorsed previous approval by its state fair committee of the exhibit, originated and presented yesterday by Henry Cole.

Assessor Promotions Go By The Board

Two promotions asked by County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel failed of approval by the county board of supervisors yesterday in a sequence declared by Broemmel to constitute a reversal of established personnel policy.

The board refused both to follow a finance committee recommendation to deny, or to back a move to approve. Broemmel was sent away finally with a promise that his case would be heard again at budget time.

"This isn't just a matter of better work and step increase but of professional qualifications for a different job," said Broemmel. "It will leave everybody wondering just what is personnel policy of the county today."

Broemmel was asking not step increase but range changes—promotions. They would increase the monthly pay of Raymond Ogata from $420 to $483, and of Earl Snowden from $555 to $581.

It was noted in Snowden's case that a step increase in the same salary range would give equivalent pay hike and at one point it seemed this might be managed. Broemmel said today that he had avoided such a move as a matter of principle.

When the promotions came before the board, Supervisor J. Walter Blair reported his finance committee disapproved. It also disapproved a step increase for Arnold Katz, deputy probation officer, which would have put him up from $483 to $506. Some time ago Katz was involved in an overtime claim which the board pared down as excessive and he has threatened to sue for the difference. In his case the board promptly backed the finance committee's turndown.

Broemmel was called in and lost no time in making the point that Ogata and Snowden had been trained to fill greater responsibilities, had passed tests. Under comparable circumstances four others had been given similar promotions last year, he said.

"In recruiting for the appraisal field," he said, "it is difficult if not impossible to get qualified people at the beginning level of pay. We found that the solution, though not the most desirable, is to train. In effect we run a training school from which five have quit to take positions at greater salaries.

"We pay a trainee wage until the man proves capable of filling a full-fledged appraiser's job. Companies will hire such men without previous experience at salaries $30 to $40 more than we hire junior appraisers.

"This is entirely different from raising step levels if work is satisfactory. This involves different jobs. We should not penalize people who qualify, just because they have been with us."

After long discussion, Blair moved denial.

Said Broemmel: "If a policy departure is being made from the pattern set up, the board should make that clear to personnel . . . Morale is going to deteriorate."

Chairman William D. Fusselman suggested the possibility of making a special step increase and said he would vote to move Snowden from fourth to fifth step, a suggestion approved by Supervisor William Gnoss.

At this point Fusselman called for a second to the Blair motion but failed to receive any, so it died, to be followed by a counter-motion by Supervisor Walter R. Castro asking approval of the promotions.

Gnoss seconded but this motion failed by 2-3 vote.

"You're too eager on this," Fusselman told Broemmel. "I agree you have a problem and recognize your sincerity but ask that we consider the whole problem again as of July 1."

"I feel very bad over Ogata particularly," said Broemmel. "His four colleagues made the grade last fall and now I've got to tell him there has been a change of policy."

"You could fire him and hire him again at the new level," suggested Supervisor George Ludy.

"You couldn't get confirmation under the circumstances," said Fusselman.

Debate Challenger Hurled On Bonds

Tom McDougall, candidate for Tamalpais Union High School District trustee and opponent of the district's proposed three-million-dollar bond issue, today announced he has challenged Edward W. Colthurst, bond campaign chairman, to debate the bonds "any time, any place."

"I think it appropriate that the chairman of the loyal opposition and the chairman of the bond committee should publicly debate the issue," said McDougall, who is chairman of a committee opposing the bonds. "The debate would be strictly on the issue and with no personalities whatever."

Colthurst said he would consider McDougall's challenge and reply within a few days.

Potted Plants Stolen

Jackson Suares, manager of the Jackson Beauty Salon at 80 Throckmorton Avenue, Mill Valley, reported to police this morning that four potted plants and two Easter display boxes had been taken from the sidewalk in front of his store during the night.

'TRAMPOLINE' CAN'T BE USED AS TRADEMARK

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The word "trampoline" is in the public domain and cannot be exclusively appropriated for trademark use, a U.S. district court ruled today.

Nissen Trampoline Co. of Cedar Rapids had sought an injunction and damages from the American Trampoline Co. of Jefferson, alleging unfair competition, trademark infringement and patent infringement.

American Trampoline filed a counterclaim, asking that the trademark "trampoline" be found invalid and seeking $175,000.

Judge Roy Stephenson held the word "trampoline" is in general use and can be used by any firm.

Lobby Bill Will Get More Study

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Assembly today changed its mind about eliminating stiff penalties from California's lobby control law.

The lower house voted 71-1 to return a bill by Assemblyman Myron Frew (D-Dinuba) to committee for further study. The measure would have substituted a $1,000 fine for heavy penalties placed in the law after a fight over lobbyist activities 10 years ago.

Previously, the Assembly voted 48-16 to reconsider the bill.

The house had passed the bill by a 62-15 vote Monday, but the reconsideration motion was made.

Board Passes Exhibit Plan For State Fair

Marin County will be represented at this year's state fair by a landscape-and-picture exhibit bigger and, the board of supervisors believes, better than last year.

The board yesterday unanimously approved a design by San Rafael landscape architect Henry Cole, after Administrator Alan Bruce had reported unanimous approbation by the committee in charge.

"The committee was very favorably impressed," said Bruce. So was the board after Cole produced his sketch and described it.

Another favorable impression was created when Assistant Auditor-Controller said it would be in order to spend county fair fund money, of which there was $2,800 available.

Overall cost of everything connected with the 32 by 18-foot proposed exhibit was set at $3,500, with a chance of getting $1,600 back as first prize and a minimum prospect of $1,000.

Cole said that against a background of redwoods and Marin plants streamers would hang down to be gathered at a shield behind a row of five color transparencies of Marin scenes illuminated from behind. Projecting at the left side would be the revolving platform used for last year's exhibit, intended this year to contain a relief map of Marin County.

It was suggested that exhibit might be made at San Quentin Prison, but Chairman William D. Fusselman said, "I don't think the people at San Quentin are much impressed by Marin's beauty. A number of students might built it as a project."

Reed Hopefuls Tell Views On Schools

More than 100 persons turned out last night to hear four Reed hopeful candidates for three positions on the Reed Union School District board give their thoughts on grade school education.

The candidates agreed that elementary school is for intellectual training, and that the finest teachers possible should be attracted and retained.

Incumbents Richard J. MacLaury, Mrs. Alyce Farkas and Leo Souza described the need for broadening and "enrichment" of the curriculum, with Souza adding that the district's new superintendent (not yet selected) should be versed in public relations as well as curriculum development.

HIGHER SALARIES

Trustee aspirant Marilyn C. Steinau recommended higher teacher salaries.

Trustee Edward Drechsel was moderator.

Trustees agreed that "in theory unification of school districts, if financially feasible, would be a good idea," but Souza said "being a realist, the principle is good but it will be a problem to make it a fact."

None of the four had any idea on the use of teaching machines instead of personnel. Only Mrs. Steinau tackled the question of what are frills and what are necessities in the school.

ACADEMIC ELECTIVES

Questions included how many academic electives should be offered in the seventh and eighth grades, what would be expected in characteristics of the new superintendent, and whether the candidates believe in uniform statewide testing similar to that in New York.

Supt. Chester G. Carlisle of Tamalpais High School District spoke to urge passage of the April 18 three million-dollar school bond issue in the high school district. "This is the fastest, cheapest and best way to increase the size of our present schools to take care of the expected 5,078 enrollment in 1962-63," he said.

Nine of the 11 candidates for the four seats on the high school board also spoke.

Trees To Sprout At Lootens, A

San Rafael's Fourth Street between Lootens and A Streets will boast a row of trees on its south side within 10 days, Joe Petersen, chairman of the tree planting committee, yesterday told the San Rafael Beautiful Committee.

Merchants are being asked to contribute $1.25 per lineal foot to buy the concrete planters and the trees.

Petersen said 95 per cent of the merchants are cooperating in the movement. He estimated it would take six months to get the trees planted.

LULL IN LARKSPUR

Attendance Scant As Candidates Speak

A scant two dozen Larkspur School District voters showed up last night at a school board candidates' night to hear nine board aspirants discuss three election issues.

The three questions dealt with unification of school districts, crowding of classrooms and the challenge that board members lean too much on "professional" administrators.

Four trustee seats are to be filled in the April 18 election. There is no other issue on the district ballot.

Incumbent members of the board seeking re-election are John W. Boyd, Pauline Secor, Jack L. Mengel and John R. Cunningham, all of whom more or less defended present board actions. Five challengers are Donald Fox, C. H. (Chuck) Pendleton, Donald F. De Voto, Herbert J. L. Baum and Curtis P. Kamai.

On unification, the candidates said:

Cunningham: "All of us who have served on the county committee on unification know the advantages are there, but some old districts feel self-sufficient."

Mengel: "We (on the county committee) have not engaged in a study of unification of this district because it is not large enough."

Boyd: "Unification is not easy."

Pendleton: "I will study unification. Our schools cost enough."

Fox: "I would like to approach the Kentfield district on the question of unification. Taxes would not go down, but services would go up. Anyone not for unification should not vote for me."

Kamai: "Unification is coming. Marin County now supports 29 little school 'kingdoms'."

Saltiest critic of the present board accomplishments was Pendleton, who said there is something wrong when graduates of schools have to be "literally taught to read and write on the job."

Pendleton has opposed the board in recent meetings on the trustees' right to discuss matters not on the published agenda. "I intend to challenge all items not clearly defined in the budget," he declared.

On teacher-pupil ratio in the classrooms, Pendleton said one teacher to 50 children is not uncommon in parochial schools. "I feel primarily that we load our teachers with too much clerical work," he said.

Boyd said the way to avoid crowded classrooms is to plan ahead. "However," he reminded the audience, "we are not allowed, as borrowers from the state, to buy property for schools until the need is actually there."

On leadership of board members and their reliance on the administrators for leadership, Mrs. Secor said she felt that "strife is apt to be damaging. I feel the board should follow the leadership of the superintendent, principals and department heads."

Pendleton accused the present board of neglect because of "indoctrination in the harmonious aspects of boardsmanship."

The meeting, held at the Neil Cummins School, was chaired by Bud Cole, Corte Madera town councilman.

Three of the four winning candidates will serve four-year terms, the fourth a two-year term. Winners will draw lots for the short term.

'Sausalito Future' Talks Scheduled

A series of five talks on "The Future of Sausalito—As I see it," will be presented by the Sausalito Rotary Club, the first being given at tomorrow's noon luncheon meeting at the Alta Mira Hotel by Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr.

Other speakers will be Clyde Kilian, Frank Bosl and Halsey Lyon, April 13; Luther W. Conover, Stuart Rose and Harold Puharich, April 20; Charles Ritzinger, George Elkington, Rob Rose, April 27. A summary will be made May 4 by A. Leonard Bjorklund Jr.

Alert Issued For Suspect In Embezzling

Marin County sheriff's inspectors today spread a nationwide alert for a Marinwood businessman, suspected of embezzling $3,000 in company finds and fleeing the county.

An arrest warrant with $5,000 bail was issued today for James Stuart Page, 40, of 285 Johnstone Drive, Marinwood. Page worked as liaison man for the Appliance Professional Assn., with headquarters in Los Angeles, which is an organization of appliance dealers.

Inspector William C. Bradley said Page operated out of his Marinwood home, signing up new members for the association, collecting their dues and membership fees. Page suddenly packed his belongings, his wife and one child, and vanished last Thursday. He took all the company records with him.

Everett Clyde Barbour of Oakland, chairman of the northern regional board of the association, and William Alex Shirley of San Mateo, secretary of the association, told the inspector they cannot be sure of the exact amount embezzled until they check with each association member in Northern California.

"The best estimate so far is about $3,000," said Inspector Bradley.

Page had been working for the company since last November, taking a commission for each new member he added to the association.

He was behind $400 in rent at his Marinwood home, according to the landlord, John Maloney of 397 Nova Albion Way, Terra Linda.

The five Rangeley lakes in Maine are known as Cupsuptic, Umbagog, Mooselookmeguntic, Mollechunkamunk and Welokennebacook.

Street & Traffic Problems

Orlando Conti Says:

Now how about Third or San Pedro Road widening between Irwin Street to McNears beach. This has been a subject for many, many years, but all it gets to is the talking stage and at this rate it will take another 10 to 15 years to get something done.

What about the bottle-neck on First Street between D and E? It has been there many, many years, but nothing has been done. Why?

What about First Street between B and Irwin Street, is this another highway program? No it is not.

Let's stop installing stop and go signs up all over. Let's make some very careful study on this before we do.

What about Irwin Street between Woodland Street and Second or First Street? No curbs and gutters, lots of traffic, also a lot of foot traffic and no sidewalks. What are we doing about it—nothing.

What about Third Street extention between E and Second? This is another dream. We need it, let's get it done, let's not have anymore talk let's have some action.

These are some of the things we need and there are many, many more. Land was cheaper, and the cost was cheaper in the past, the cost of both are getting higher and higher, so how long and how much more costly is this going to be if we keep putting it off.

These programs have nothing to do with the present Highway 101 program. Let's get something done, let's stop the talk and start the action.

Tough Dope Bill Passes In Senate

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Final agreement is near in the legislature on a program of stiffer penalties for narcotics violators.

The Senate yesterday passed 36-0 and sent to the Assembly a bill by Edwin J. Regan (D-Weaverville), which cracks down on peddlers and users.

The Assembly earlier in the session passed a measure by Clayton A. Dills (D-Gardena), very similar to the Regan bill.

Now, all that remains to be done is to get the two houses to agree on minor differences and send the bill to Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who already has expressed his support for the Regan version.

As approved by the Senate, the Regan bill provides for longer prison terms and no probation on second or subsequent offenses for most narcotics violations.

It does grant judges the right to grant probation on first offenses except on sale of a hard narcotic by an adult to a minor. In that case, the offender must serve a sentence of 10 years to life with parole allowed after a minimum of five years has been served.

The Dills bill is almost the same as the Regan measure but would permit probation to be granted in all first-offense cases.

There are 68 land-grant colleges and universities in the U. S.

Trading Stamps Measure Dies

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill allowing customers to ask for a cash discount instead of trading stamps died in the legislature yesterday at the hand of its author.

Assemblyman Ronald B. Cameron (D-Whittier) asked members of the Assembly Committee on Government Efficiency and Economy to put his measure out for study with an interim committee.

He said that he had listened to arguments opposing his bill from representatives of stamp companies and had found them "without merit."

But he also said that he had polled committee members and found himself without the necessary six votes to get his bill to the floor.

Legislature Due License Fee Measure

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The only tax increase proposal with a chance for passage was ready for introduction today in the legislature.

Sen. Randolph Collier (D-Yreka), chairman of the powerful Senate Transportation Committee, was having the bill drafted and said he expected to introduce it in the next couple of days.

The increase would hit owners of California's 8,569,295 registered vehicles square in the pocketbook to the tune of 78 million dollars a year to help finance construction of 100,194 miles of city streets and county roads in the next 20 years.

In effect, it would raise the average license fee on cars to $23.55 on a typical car worth $785 (a four-year-old, low-priced popular model.) However, owners of newer, more expensive models would be hit with as much as $30 a year over present fees.

If the proposed increase in the in lieu tax—collected by state but shared between cities and counties—passes both legislative houses, the lawmakers would be passing the buck back to city councils and county boards of supervisors to make the tax hike stick.

The local option feature of Collier's proposal yesterday received the support of spokesmen for both kinds of local government who would use the additional revenue.

Demos To Meet

Mill Valley Democrats will meet in the home of George Evans, 964 Greenhill Road, at 8 p.m. on April 11. Gerald Hill, vice president of the Marin County Democratic Central Committee, will be the principal speaker.

Liquor Store Squabble Uncorked In Tiburon

A petition containing several hundred names has been forwarded to the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board protesting the opening of an off-sale liquor store on Tiburon Boulevard.

The store, which is being constructed by Tiburon property owner Fred G. Zelinsky for lease, is next to the Corner Market grocery store owned and operated by Fred Mantegani.

Mantegani was instrumental in the petition's circulation, and referred to the bill now pending before the state senate prohibiting one liquor store from being built within 200 feet of another.

"We have four package liquor stores within one square mile in Tiburon . . . we are saturated," Mantegani said. "We also have four bars and will have five when Zelinsky opens his new restaurant."

Mantegani's store is one of the four selling liquor.

"I gave Mantegani 35 days in which to decide if he would like to run the store in conjunction with his own. I certainly feel that this is quite unfair," Zelinsky said.

Tam Cafeteria Burglarized

Tamalpais High School officials took inventory at the school cafeteria this morning to determine how much was stolen in a midnight burglary.

Ellis Coale, night watchman, called the sheriff about midnight to report the cafeteria was open and candy lay all over the floor and hallway.

Sheriff's deputies said the thief had forced a window next to the cafeteria door.

Yesterday afternoon, a 16-year-old Marin City boy admitted stealing $5 in cash from the boys' locker room. John George, dean of boys, reported the thief returned the cash to the owner, Raoul Bozio, another Tam High student. The locker thief was booked at Marin Juvenile Hall on a petty theft charge.

kema, professor of electrical engineering.

Goldstein, taking a leave of absence from one-half of his normal teaching time, will be paid by foundation funds to make up his fulltime salary. Dr. Callas, as well as the other consultants, will be paid for their time.

The National Science Foundation is a branch of the federal government devoted to support of basic research and supplying scholarships.

"In spite of all the corny jokes about government spending, they don't throw our money around carelessly," Goldstein said with some awe.

Goldstein, whose month-old son is appropriately named Grant, moved to Marin County from San Francisco when he was about 8 years old.

His elementary school years were spent at the Main School, now the Wade Thomas School, in San Anselmo. He was graduated from Tamalpais High School in 1942 and holds bachelor and master of arts degrees in physiology and philosophy from University of California.

He and his family live at 174 Meadowcroft Avenue in San Anselmo. Mr. and Mrs. Goldstein also have a son of 20 months, Aaron.

His teaching experience, prior to the past three years at Drake, includes Mount Diablo High School in Concord and Lassen High School in Susanville.

"I could have carried out the project at the University of California, but I wanted to do the actual work at my own school," Goldstein said. "I want my students to work with me."

letter about taking out the recorder, and it told what it thought about the civic center. . . . That last may not have satisfied your taste for blood but it satisfied me.

"As the grand jury is the legally constituted body to investigate the affairs of government I think it would be perfectly proper for this matter."

"I kind of like that grand jury idea," mused Blair and put it in the form of a motion.

"Looking a little dazed, Busher asked "What about the interim?"

Fusselman asked when actual occupancy of the new quarters was expected. Busher said "May 15." Fusselman said that gave "ample time."

Castro said it would take time to screen applicants and moved that Busher be allowed to go ahead, putting in extra staff when extra space created the need. This passed 4-0, with Blair abstaining.

Busher in conclusion asked if a deadline could not be set for the grand jury to report.

"You don't give deadlines to a grand jury," replied Fusselman.

member of the police force in Willows and house detective for the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco. He was born in Alaska and grew up in Angels Camp, Calaveras County.

He and his wife, Marguerite, live at 109 Belvedere Avenue. Their son and two daughters are all married.

The other four candidates who passed the written examination, announced Almcrants, are Otto L. Bortfeld, 47, Martinez police sergeant; Norman L. Clowers, 45, training and operations officer of the Laramie, Wyo., police department until last month; Floyd L. Eoff, 31, Merced police sergeant, and Robert C. Walker, 35, Merced police captain.

Bids Are Called For Sewer Lines

Corte Madera Sanitary District directors last night called for bids on construction of a portion of an interceptor sewer and a trunk sewer along Tamalpais Drive and a force main near Lakeside Drive.

Bids must be in the district offices at 500 Tamalpais Drive prior to 3 p.m., April 28. They will be opened at 7:30 p.m. May 2, at the directors' regular meeting.

Funds for construction of the lines will come from the $900,000 bond issue approved by district voters last May.

Board Votes Hospital Plan Additions

Marin County Hospital District directors last night recommended construction of six of nine additives to the 116-bed addition to Marin General Hospital.

According to the recommendation, a coffee shop, laundry ventilating system, additional laundry equipment, partial installation of a pneumatic tube system and an elevator will be added.

A low base bid of $1,972,000 was submitted March 28 by Barrett Brothers Construction Co. of San Francisco. No contract will be awarded until the bids have been approved by the State Bureau of Hospitals, but must be made within 30 days of the bid opening, according to W. W. Turner, administrator. Nine bids were submitted.

The remaining three additives not recommended for immediate construction were additional parking facilities, storage rooms and completion of the pneumatic tube system.

Turner reported to the board that 1,705 patients were admitted to the hospital during the three-month period ending Feb. 28. Four hundred thirty-six babies were born during the same period, Turner said.

Eurekan Hired As Sausalito's Public Works Chief

Michael T. McGovern, a 25-year-old Eurekan, will start work Monday in the newly created position of Sausalito supervisor of public works, City Manager Charles A. Brown told the city council last night.

McGovern has been traffic engineer, assistant city engineer, supervisor of construction contracts and designer of sanitary and storm sewers for the city of Eureka for two years, said Brown.

In Sausalito, he will be responsible for engineering problems as well as public works maintenance projects, Brown said. About one-third of his time will be spent on street superintendent duties, formerly performed by Paul Lowe, who retired last Oct. 1, as street superintendent. His salary will be $580 per month.

McGovern, who is married, plans to move his family to Marin soon, Brown said.

3 Burglaries Are Reported

Three burglaries were reported yesterday to San Rafael police.

Someone entered the office of Pyramid Plywood Co. at 650 Irwin Street between 2 and 3 p.m. while the office girl was gone, and took $98 from the cash box, Ray M. Newgard of 277 Irwin Street, proprietor, told police.

A rear window at the John Robert Powers School at 1000 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, was found open about 10:30 p.m. by police. The school had been closed at 9:30 p.m., according to Millie Cameron of 83-B Park Street, manager. Nothing was reported missing.

A petty cash box containing an unknown amount of money was taken from the Knoles and Co. office at 96 Woodland Avenue. Entry was gained by breaking a window at the sheet metal company, police said. Samuel S. Knowles Jr. of 3 Brookside Drive, San Anselmo said nothing but the cash box appeared to be missing.

Larkspur Zoning Report Planned

The first report on revision of the Larkspur zoning ordinance will be given the city council tonight at 8 o'clock by Councilman Lesly A. Daveler.

City Manager Ronald E. Piper will report on the titles to four lots on West Baltimore Avenue which are owned by the city and have been considered for sale. A public hearing will be set on a proposed professional and administrative zoning for recently annexed property between Bon Air Bridge and Marin General Hospital. The zoning has the approval of the planning commission.

A public hearing will also be set on proposed adoption of the uniform fire code.

The council meets at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

Sausalitan Named Aide In Peace Corps

Tom Mathews of Sausalito, reporter on the San Francisco Chronicle for the past nine years, has been named assistant director of public information of the Peace Corps.

Mathews, 39, who lives at 148 Harrison Avenue, took over his new duties yesterday in Washington, and will be joined by his wife, Bonnie, and three youngsters in June at the end of the school year.

A graduate of the University of Utah in 1943, Mathews worked seven years on the Salt Lake Tribune at Salt Lake City, becoming Sunday editor.

He handled public relations for Edmund G. (Pat) Brown in 1948 when Brown ran for governor, and held a like position in 1959 for George Christopher when Christopher ran for mayor of San Francisco. He was co-director on the state water bond campaign last year.

His son, Tom Jr., 17, is a freshman at Princeton University. Son Colin, 13, and daughter Anne, 6, are students at Marin Country Day School.

Elks Lodge Will Install Tomorrow

William Grant will be installed tomorrow night as exalted ruler of San Rafael Elks Lodge 1108 at a dinner meeting in the Elks Club.

Other officers to be installed include: Carl Clark, esteemed leading knight; Clyde Jones esteemed loyal knight; James Fahrner, esteemed lecturing knight; Albert Gately, esquire; Felix Eichler, tiler; Frank Ench, trustee for five years; Fred Schroers, secretary; John Lethbridge, treasurer and Arthur McDevitt, alternate to the Grand Lodge convention.

Dinner at 7 p.m. will be followed by the installation.

OBITUARIES

Laos Crash Victim's Rites Set

A Requiem Mass for Francis P. Corrigan of Larkspur, who was killed Friday in a plane crash in Laos, will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Saturday in St. Patrick's Church, Larkspur.

The cortege will form at the Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo. Interment will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Friday at the Chapel of the Hills.

A Navy guard of honor will attend the services. Corrigan was a Navy lieutenant in World War II. He was a U.S. Information Service attache in Laos at the time of his death.

The body was to arrive in San Francisco late today. Corrigan's brother, William, a Mill Valley attorney, said.

William Corrigan said his brother's wife, Flora Mae, will remain in Laos for probably another two weeks while adoption proceedings are completed for a 23-month-old Laotian girl, Katrina.

Services for Corrigan have been held in Bangkok and in Laos.

RUSSELL WARDEN

Russell G. Warden, 53, until recently a lifetime resident of Marin County, died Monday in San Francisco after a long illness.

Warden was born in San Rafael and graduated from San Rafael High School. He attended the University of California and later became a certified public accountant. For 28 years he had been employed by and at the time of his death was the executive manager of the Grant Investment Co. of San Francisco. He was also a director of the First National Bank of San Jose.

He had moved from his home in Larkspur to San Francisco a few months ago. He had spent his entire life until then in San Rafael and Larkspur.

He is survived by his wife, Honey (Zola) S. Warden, a sister, Mrs. Florence Boitano of Fairfax and a brother, George E. Warden of Novato.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Carew and English Chapel, Masonic at Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco. Inurnment will be private.

JOHN SCHROEDER

John H. Schroeder Sr., 75, of Orange Cove, Fresno County, a former San Rafael resident, died yesterday in a Stockton hospital after three years illness.

He is survived by his wife, Lydia Schroeder; two sons, John H. Schroeder of San Anselmo and Harold A. Schroeder of Orange Grove; two daughters, Mrs. Lorena Arbini of San Anselmo and Mrs. Luella Laremore of San Francisco, six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

He formerly worked for R. C. Briggs and Leibert and Trobock contractors in San Rafael. He was a member of Carpenters Union Local 35 of San Rafael.

Schroeder was a native of Nebraska. The family moved to Orange Cove from San Rafael after he became ill.

Funeral services will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Interment will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

BIRTHS

MILES—A daughter to the wife of Logan Troy Miles, San Rafael, March 24 in San Francisco.

WE RECOMMEND THAT YOU

VOTE NO

on the $3 million bond issue for Tamalpais High School District, April 18, 1961.

(will cost approximately $6 million with interest and carrying charges)

WE COULD BUILD CLASSROOMS BY—

1. Reducing costs, not raising taxes. We submit a few samples of high paid, non-teaching administration costs; checked at the County Auditor's office.

TITLE	SALARY PER MO.
Superintendent (Chester Carlisle)	$1,550.00
Director of Business	$1,016.67
Director of Instruction	$1,087.50
Director of Guidance	$1,016.67
2 PSYCHOLOGISTS	$900 and $ 870.84
2 Coordinators	$920 and $ 850.00
District Custodian	$ 832.00

Each school in the district (Tam-Redwood Drake) has:

A Principal	$1083.34 - $1,066.67 - $1,066.67
A Vice Principal	All $ 958.34
A Nurse	2 at $766.67 - 1 at $ 479.17

School employees are paid on a 12 months basis.

2. Economizing on plans, sites, and building costs.

Voters will pay from $60 to $70 per sq. ft. for classrooms financed by bonds. Total cost should not exceed $14 per sq. ft.

WE RECOMMEND — VOTE NO* — on the $550,000 bond issue for the MILL VALLEY DISTRICT for the same reasons.

Understanding Unit To Hold Birthday Fete

Dr. Daniel W. Fry, founder and president of Understanding, Inc., will be guest speaker during the first anniversary celebration of the organization's Unit 31 of Marin County.

He will lecture at Drake High School Friday at 8 p.m. on "Spacecraft and Space Travel," and at the Womens' Improvement Club building at 167 Tunstead Avenue, San Anselmo, Saturday at 8 p.m. on "The Relativity of Reality."

Karl Barron of radio station KTIM will interview Fry at 11 a.m. Saturday.

Fry is vice president and research engineer in an El Monte electronic and missile firm. He claims he took a ride in an "unidentified flying object" or "flying saucer" a little more than 10 years ago at White Sands Proving Ground, New Mexico.

Decline Noted In Unemployment; 1st In 6 Months

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unemployment declined 210,000 in March to 5,495,000. This was the first drop in six months, and was less than seasonally expected.

A normal drop would have been about 300,000.

Giving the figures yesterday, the Labor Department also reported that employment rose by 861,000 in March to a record of 65,516,000.

The total labor force—that is people working or available for jobs—increased in March by 651,000 to 71,011,000.

Because unemployment failed to decline as much as expected in March, the seasonally adjusted rate of the idle to the total work force increased from 6.8 per cent in February to 6.9 per cent in March.

The actual unemployment rate for March, without seasonal adjustment was 7.7 per cent—meaning that 77 out of every 1,000 workers were unable to find jobs last month.

Kaiser To Build Palo Alto Plant

OAKLAND (UPI)—Kaiser Industries announced yesterday plans to build an electronics plant, for production of cathode tubes and the Kaiser Flite-Path System, at Stanford Industrial Park in Palo Alto.

A spokesman said the new facility would be Kaiser's electronics facility in the area.

In Pacific Tests

Two Marin sailors are participating in large Pacific Fleet exercises. They are Michael B. Ricketts, seaman apprentice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat J. Ricketts of 11 Skyline Road, San Anselmo, aboard the carrier Yorktown, and Gene P. Ashlock, engineman third class, son of Mrs. T. B. Gerhardt of Woodacre, aboard the minesweeper Illusive. Both vessels operate out of Long Beach.

No Nagging Backache Means a Good Night's Sleep

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation...with that restless, uncomfortable feeling.

If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys—tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable, with restless, sleepless nights, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Ask for new, large, economy size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Fairfax Joint Recreation Session Sought

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission last night invited the Fairfax City Council to hold a joint meeting on May 2 to discuss the future of recreation and mutual plans for civic improvement.

The commission requested the meeting so it could formulate plans for future development of the recreational facilities in the city, said Mrs. Helen Youngclaus, secretary.

Parents met with the commission and urged that improvements be made in the city's recreational area. The specific requests were for fencing the area and installation of safer equipment, Mrs. Youngclaus reported.

The commission heard a report that the $1,945 in the fund to build the Andrew Peri memorial tennis courts is insufficient. The commission will seek more funds to go ahead with the proposed courts, Mrs. Youngclaus said.

Tom Kelley, recreation director, reported that 335 people had used the recreation facilities in March. Equipment is being purchased and readied for summer, Kelley reported.

Bagley Puts 5 Bills In Legislative Hopper

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Five bills varying from local Marin County problems to drunken drivers and state college parking were introduced in the Assembly yesterday by Marin-Sonoma Assemblyman William T. Bagley.

Bagley proposed that a special license be issued to persons convicted of drunken driving for the first time who had their license suspended. The new license would permit the recipient to drive during his employment and not simply to get to and from work.

"There is a real inequity which exists when a person makes his livelihood by driving," Bagley said. "A truck driver, traveling salesman or other person similarly employed suffers tremendously when his license is suspended, compared to the ordinary automobile user." The special license is needed, he said, because of the "automatic" suspension of licenses for drunken driving put into effect in the last year.

The bill isn't an attempt to upset the authority of the Department of Motor Vehicles to order the suspensions, he went on. Rather it is to make such suspensions fair for all first offenders, not unduly punishing some.

The parking bill Bagley introduced gives the governing board of a junior college or state college the right to permit parking of students, staff and other employees on the college property and to set up regulations for such parking, including fees.

The bill, he said, comes from a recent dispute over whether a state college can charge college professors a parking fee. A Sacramento superior court recently enjoined Sacramento State College from charging such a fee.

A third Bagley bill would require a court to determine that a minor brought before it is a fit subject for consideration under juvenile court law.

The purpose of the bill, Bagley said, is to assume that all juveniles coming before the court receive the same consideration. A recent Supreme Court decision held that in some types of juvenile cases, it is not necessary for a judge to make such a determination.

Larkspur and Fairfax would receive more money from fines and forfeitures resulting from arrests by their officers and other city employees under another Bagley bill. Conversely, the County of Marin would receive less from each case.

At present the county gets 62 per cent of the Larkspur fines and 58 per cent of the Fairfax fines. Under Bagley's bill the county would receive only 30 per cent from each city for its jail, courts and other services.

The bill was introduced at the joint request of the Marin supervisors and the two cities involved.

The fifth bill would prohibit annexation to a city of territory of a community services district unless all of the territory of the district, and no other territory, is annexed at the same time.

The bill was introduced at the request of the Terra Linda Community Services District as a result of the recent unsuccessful annexation election conducted by the city of San Rafael.

The idea, Bagley said, is that the district should vote as a complete entity as to whether it wishes to go into a city or not, rather than having a part of it left out of the city or having other areas, not in the district, voting at the same time and possibly being the determining factor in the election.

Unusual Army

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Adjutant General's Department has records of one of the nation's strangest armies—"The Squirrel Hunters."

When a Confederate force moved toward Newport, Ky., in 1862, threatening Cincinnati, Ohio, Gov. David Tod appealed for all able-bodied men in the state to defend the city. Some 50,000 men turned out.

The Rebel force never engaged the strange, uniformed army, but Ohio granted a bonus and discharges to the "squirrel hunters."

3 Fairfax School Trustees Won't Run—8 Want Posts

(This is the 10th of a series of stories introducing candidates for school boards in the April 18 election.)

None of the three Fairfax Elementary School District trustees whose terms expire this spring is seeking re-election April 18.

One of them, Stryker Warren, already has turned in his resignation. The other two, J. C. Uhte and Sebastian Cimino, will step down at the close of their terms. The board was successful in getting an 80-cent tax increase passed early this year after repeated failures in earlier elections, and are retiring with that job done.

But there is a wide-open race for their seats. Eight candidates are vying for the favor of Fairfax voters.

Here is a rundown of the candidates:

GORDON B. ADAMS, 43, is engineer in the mechanical department of the Southern Pacific Co. in San Francisco. His life is closely tied up with railroading. He has built a model railroad, big enough for children to ride, in the back yard of his home at 475 Cascade Drive. Adams and his wife, Pauline, have no children.

Adams was born in Birmingham, England, received his degree in mechanical engineering from University of Birmingham and took postgraduate work at Derby. He has been a Marin resident since 1948. He served in the British Army Engineers, railway operating division, in World War II until wounded, then finished out the war as chief engineer on a merchant vessel.

Says Adams: "I believe it is the duty of the taxpayers to see that each child . . . is given the best possible basic academic education . . .

"I will oppose any expenditure except that necessary for the proper maintenance of the plant and buildings, my criterion being that any item with the exception of maintenance that will not make the child a better reader, writer, linguist or mathematician is a waste of the taxpayers' money . . .

"I favor teachers instructing several grades in the subjects they are best qualified to teach, also the teaching of a language and basic science in the higher elementary grades."

Adams would oppose using the entire 80-cent tax increase authorized the voters, lest the district "very shortly again be in financial difficulty."

HARRY L. CARPENTER, 41, is employed by the post engineer at the Presidio of San Francisco. He and his wife, Eve, reside at 159 William Avenue.

Carpenter was born in Houston, Tex., but has been a California resident since before his marriage. He served as a metalsmith in the Navy in both World War II and the Korean War.

Says Carpenter: "I believe in the best education possible for our children . . . On the other hand, I don't think we have to go overboard with a lot of unnecessary spending . . . When a dollar is spent, there should be a hundred per cent return. The parents and taxpayers should govern on majority rule."

JAMES K. HENINGTON, 46, is a welder employed at the San Francisco Naval Shipyard. He and his wife, Doris, have four children in school. They reside at 112 Cypress Drive.

Henington was an enlisted man in the First Cavalry Division in World War II, serving in the Luzon and Southern Philippines campaigns and receiving the Purple Heart among other decorations. He is a native of Montrose, Ark.

Says Henington: "I am self-educated and feel that entirely too much stress is placed on formal education and that the American people are being hoodwinked by the organizer professional educators and administrators . . . I do not accept at face value the professional educators' argument that higher salaries are required . . .

"I feel with the utmost conviction that the entire public school system in California is top heavy with high-salaried administrators . . .

"If elected I will fight for the best education possible for our children but keeping an eye open for waste and inefficiency."

LAURENCE G. HERMANN, 33, is a fire and safety engineer for General Insurance Co. of America in San Francisco. He and his wife, Helen, have two children at home at 220 Marinda Drive.

Hermann was born in Olympia, Wash., and received an A.B. degree from College of Puget Sound. He served in the Navy 1946-48.

He has been active in school affairs in Fairfax and was on the committee that investigated the district's financial condition and urged passage of the tax increase last winter.

JOHN J. HOURIHAN of 61 San Gabriel Drive did not respond to an Independent-Journal request for biographical information and statement of his aims.

JAY M. HUTCHINSON, 36, is a bonding and insurance representative for Standard Accident Insurance Co. in San Francisco. He is president of the Fairfax Voters Information Group, which was instrumental in passage of the tax increase measure.

Hutchinson and his wife, Bettie, have four children at home at 94 Hillside Drive.

Active in Democratic politics, Hutchinson is a director of the Ross Valley Democratic Club. He is a member of the Deer Park Parent-Teacher Assn.

He was born in Sacramento, received his B.A. in economics from University of California at Berkeley. He spent part of his childhood in Marin and attended Kent School. He was a flight engineer in the Army Air Force in World War II, with service in the South Pacific.

Hutchinson said he believes that close communication among school trustees, Parent-Teacher Associations and the public will assure progressive development of Fairfax schools.

ROBERT C. LAUPPE, 41, is office and personnel manager for St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Co. in San Francisco. He and his wife, Barbara Ann, of 18 Meadow Way, have two children.

Lauppe was born in Antelope, Sacramento County. He attended Stockton Junior College and received an A.B. degree from College of the Pacific. He was a pilot in the Army Air Force in World War II, with the rank of major, flying 59 missions from England, and is now a lieutenant colonel in the Air Force Reserve.

JOHN W. (BILL) SHIRLEY, 39, is owner of the Gilbert-Shirley Co., San Rafael firm which does printing, accounting and photocopy systems. He and his wife, Mickey, have three children, aged 7 to 11.

Shirley was born in Tupelo, Miss., and completed his education at Bowling Green Business University. He has lived in Marin since 1951 and in Fairfax since 1954. He was a Marine Corps captain in World War II (serving on Guadalcanal and Iwo Jima) and Korea, winning the bronze star and purple heart in the latter conflict.

Says Shirley: "I am for an adequate maintenance program . . . for increased teacher salaries . . . The science program should be pushed. Let us equip it properly before going for the extras

"I feel that our children should first be provided with the best possible basic education. Then, if after a year or so we find more money, given them the 'frills.'

"I would hesitate to enact an expensive program that would have to be cut back later."

Don Timoteo School Bids To Be Rejected

All bids for construction of the Don Timoteo school, opened on March 22, will be formally rejected by trustees of the Dixie School District at a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in the administration building at 4775 Redwood Highway.

The board will also go over proposed changes in the plans for the school with the architect, according to Supt. Dennie B. Willis.

Disappearing Shovels

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—When the Recreation Department's snow-clearing tractor developed mechanical trouble, officials provided shovels for ice skaters wishing to help clear Sippo Reservoir.

Instead of the snow disappearing, the shovels have vanished, says skating supervisor Ralph Huppert.

Fairfax, Tam Candidates' Night Slated

A candidates' night for aspirants for the Fairfax Elementary School District and Tamalpais Union High School District boards will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Deer Park School in Fairfax.

Seven of the eight Fairfax candidates have accepted invitations to appear, Supt. Homer L. Sisk reported today. Tamalpais High School District candidates also have appearances scheduled tomorrow night at Tamalpais High in Mill Valley, but several of them will first speak in Fairfax, Sisk said.

The Tam district candidates will be presented at the beginning of the program, followed by the Fairfax candidates. At the Mill Valley event, candidates for Mill Valley Elementary School District board will appear first, followed by the high school candidates.

Deer Park, Central and Manor Parent-Teacher Assns. are jointly sponsoring the Fairfax program.

Hodges Wants Ethics Code For Businessmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, disturbed by the price-fixing conspiracy in the electrical machinery industry, is trying to develop a code of ethics for businessmen.

Hodges, a former textile executive, told a reporter that a group is working, at his behest, on a moral credo which would set forth the principles under which business should operate in the public interest.

The idea is to unveil the code, when completed, under sponsorship that would command widespread respect among businessmen and the general public.

No decision has been made on whether the sponsor should be an existing business organization or a special group which might be created under the auspices of the Commerce Department or, possibly, the White House.

Hodges said business credos too often are simply a statement of conservative economic views, side-stepping questions of basic morality.

He said the need for greater attention to business ethics in some areas was made apparent by the price-fixing case, in which more than 200 corporations were fined nearly two million dollars and seven executives were jailed.

Hodges has enlisted a group of businessmen, philosophers, and business educators to begin drafting ideas for possible inclusion in an ethical code for business.

This group, widely scattered geographically, is expected to hold its first formal meeting here next month.

Marinite Sets Program For Pan-American Day

Joseph Rodrigo of 130 Nadina Way, San Rafael, vice president of United California Bank, has been named program chairman for the Bay Area Pan-American Day.

Pan American Day was set by presidential proclamation for April 14. It will be celebrated with a reception and dinner at the World Trade Club.

Laos Ready To Talk To Reds

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—The pro-Western government declared today it is ready to lay down arms and talk with the Communist Pathet Lao rebels as soon as the major powers agree on a cease-fire in Laos.

Brig. Gen. Phoumi Nosavan—deputy premier, national defense minister and the strongman of the government—made the statement through the government-operated Lao Press news agency.

He said the objective of the major powers—particularly the United States, Britain and France—appears identical to that of the royal Laotian government: "The end of hostilities."

Phoumi and other Laotian officials discussed the proposals for a Laotian settlement, as outlined in British and Soviet notes, at a two-hour cabinet meeting yesterday.

It was called after Phoumi reported that rebel paratroopers had jumped in the Vang Vieng area, about 65 miles north of this administrative capital on the highway to Luang Prabang, the royal capital.

The move appeared to be aimed at seizing a vital air strip but there was no word on whether they had succeeded.

Just last Friday the rebels seized Tha Thom in a similar drop. Both were carried out from Soviet-built planes.

Enlist In Navy

John Gregory Vidal, 17, son of John Luzano Vidal of 217 Cascade Drive, Fairfax, and Jerry Mervin Beebe, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Dell Beebe of Olema, have enlisted in the Navy through the Marin County Navy Recruiting Station in San Rafael. They are undergoing recruit training at the San Diego Naval Training Center.

Meet Communist Threat In Calm, Law-Abiding Manner

(NOTE: Today's guest editorialist is John Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It was written for circulation to all law enforcement officials, but we feel it should go to the general public as well.)

America, historically an impregnable fortress against tyranny, is engaged in a mortal struggle with world communism. It is time for both citizens and governmental authorities to confront this threat in a calm, realistic, rational, law-abiding manner.

The ingredients for communist coups in nations which have fallen under its spell always include a populace shaken with fear, hysteria and confusion. Above all, however, is the danger of irresponsible counteraction by citizens who lend impetus to communism through inept attempts to fight this insidious menace.

The leaders of worldwide communism proclaim that even America can succumb to the "rules of revolution" conceived by Karl Marx and galvanized into the first successful communist revolution by V. I. Lenin.

Lenin said, "The more powerful enemy can be conquered only by exerting the utmost effort, and by NECESSARILY, thoroughly, carefully, attentively and skillfully taking advantage of every, even the smallest, 'rift' among the enemies . . ."

There exists today in our land a vital "rift" which the communists are exploiting. Unfortunately, this invloves certain people across the country who engage in reckless charges against one another.

The label of "communist" is too often indiscriminately attached to those whose views differ from the majority. Those whose lives are not led according to what one segment of society might decree to be the "norm" are too frequently challenged as "Reds."

Attributing every adversity to communism is not only irrational, but contributes to hysteria and fosters groundless fears. Communism is, indeed, our paramount adversary, and it leans on its credo of invincibility and a concept of historical inevitability to accomplish its ends.

The way to fight it is to study it, understand it, and discover what can be done about it. This cannot be achieved by dawdling at the spring of knowledge; it can only be accomplished by dipping deeply into thoughtful, reliable and authoritative sources of information.

The job of curtailing and containing communism is one for legally constituted authorities with the steadfast cooperation of every loyal citizen. This is neither the time for inaction nor vigilante action. We must unite as a people, we must understand our basic American heritage under law, and we must face the communist menace with deliberation, quiet courage, and knowledge. These are the qualities which communism shrinks from—these are the qualities against which communism can never succeed.

DOUBLE INSTEAD OF NOTHING

A billfold lying on a San Francisco sidewalk attracted the attention of a 21-year-old college student. She discovered $25 in cash in it, together with the owner's name and address.

Without delay she returned it to the owner—a doctor in Oakland, Calif.

A few days later a card reached the co-ed from the doctor.

"Many thanks for your honesty," it read. "And may God bless you."

Enclosed was a money order for $50.

While there may be little chance of your experiencing such a happy ending, this is no reason for being less zealous to see that honesty prevails in every field you can influence.

Keep on the lookout for the little things and the big ones usually fall into line. If you can do that extra bit of work your job requires and show a tireless devotion to the securing of the God-given rights for others, you will have a reward that is more than financial.

Congo Independence Is No Joke To Houseboys Of Leopoldville

By PETER GROSE
For Hal Boyle

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—The latest story going the rounds of Leopoldville cafes concerns Alphonse, a Congolese houseboy struggling to support his wife and five children.

He says of his white employer:

"Oh, patron, when is the 'independence' going to end?"

To the ordinary Congolese, the catchword "independence" once brought hope of a better, carefree life. By now the word means unemploment, insecurity and frustration.

After nine months in the dream world of independence, Congolese in Leopoldville realize the austere and unexpected responsibilities they assumed when they insisted on managing their own country.

Bright yellow billboards are springing up around Leopoldville bearing words of encouragement to the weary Congolese in their own language.

"If the politicians reach accord, if national unity is achieved, if tribal warfare can only cease, then will come the end of unemployment," the signs say.

This once wealthy capital is running down gradually. Some of the outlying provinces are in chaos but Leopoldville's daily life retains its hot and sleepy routine.

Here the hard aspects of independence are coming through attrition rather than spectacular collapse.

ONE BY ONE, STORES in the European city are closing because of lack of things to sell as well as lack of people with money to buy them. Half a dozen supermarkets are still crowded with Congolese and European buyers, but the shelves are emptying. Prices are creeping up as difficulties of importing—and paying for the imports—increase.

A familiar brand of American corn flakes is 46 cents. A can of chicken soup is 30 cents. Six small apples in a plastic bag sell for 86 cents.

PRICES LIKE THOSE are far beyond the reach of Congolese workers. Alphonse, the houseboy, earns $44 a month and is doing well compared with his neighbors. He has five children. Monthly rental on a tin-roofed, three-room brick hut is $10.

Many newer houses are going vacant because people can't afford the rents. An increasingly common practice is for the family of unemployed worker to move in with a more fortunate cousin who still has a job.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Ex-Marinite In Need Of Letters

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I am writing to you for my sister, Mrs. Constance Clark, who did at one time live in San Rafael before her husband passed away. They lived on Union Street and then moved to Glenpark Drive. They lived there until this past Nov. 14 and then her husband was taken sick and passed away.

His name was Edward Clark and he worked at the West Inn Villa there in San Rafael. They also were well known and they have two daughters. One is named Dawn and she went to Coleman School, the other daughter's name is Tommie, she is only 13 months.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark have quite a few friends, but now she is living in Baltimore, Md., where her husband's body was shipped back to. She now lives here with her people, but what I would appreciate is if you could find in your heart to please put in your paper about what I am telling you about her.

She has and is still having a large burden on her since she has been back. She was taken ill and now has to go away to the state hospital here in Baltimore to be treated for TB.

What I would like is to have her friends to please send her cards and letters because she will be in the hospital for six months to a year and we her family are doing the same.

I know that if she could hear from her friends in San Rafael she would be so much happier. They can send cards and letters to Mrs. Constance Clark, Mount Wilson State Hospital, Mount Wilson, Md.

Please don't fail her. God bless everyone.

My Nerves Are Shot And Why

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

My nerves are shot and why.

The cold, med. and hot war.

The children, they're late so they have been kidnaped or run over.

Newspapers and television. You're shot, half shot or going to get shot. Or run over or wrecked. (After a trip in the car, you're home so hurrah, we made it. It was pretty close though.)

Then there's the heart disease fund drive, cancer fund drive, Red Cross fund drive, blind craft, Easter seals, Christmas seals, leukemia, polio. Just to mention a few. Each is highly publicized. If you're not going to need help or have the disease now, you will, so donate.

Teen-agers. Along with other things they expect to drop dead, one way or another, so the heck with it.

Bills and taxes. Both parents have to work to pay, so who listens to the youngsters' problems which arise several times each day? This is a real nerve shooter because they are stuck with what comes next and I think the majority are at the very least a little shook up.

If you can pay for professional trouble solvers this may not be a problem. There seems to be a serious shortage of these people.

Is there some place the kids and I can donate to a "feeling of security" fund?

Brunch Break Is Final Straw

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As an earnest advocate of sound education, I have consistently voted for all school fiscal measures. I have even remained mute when these funds were used for country-club style swimming pools complete with underwater lighting effects, gymnasiums equipped with electric hair-dryers, theaters modified for expensive professional stage lighting, et al.

Bloody, but unbowed, I still supported the schools in their eternal quest for additional funds.

Then came the "BRUNCH BREAK"!

It must have taken a considerable amount of study to come up with this plan for wasting much needed school-time and school facilities.

This infantile scheme of suspending all school activities to accommodate those students and/or parents who are too indolent to get out of bed in time for breakfast, well, to quote the colloquial, that is a "gasser."

The school authorities who can condone such a fantastic plan of dissipating our educational tax-dollar on such a frivolous scheme are not fit to disburse public funds, directly or indirectly, and should be thoroughly investigated.

Please, Mr. and Mrs. School Board, don't insult my intelligence by asking for more money to perpetuate such nonsense.

Perhaps the memory of the Tam High faculty and student body of many years ago, who had the intestinal fortitude to build their own swimming pool out of war (World War I) surplus materials in their spare time will instill a little moral fiber into these august gentlemen who would retard an entire school to help the late risers.

President Raising Right Questions About Increasing Unemployment

WASHINGTON—The Kennedy administration may not be giving us all the right answers, but the President is raising the right questions about the distressing and increasing unemployment in the United States.

It is getting worse, not better. Great harm can come from ignoring it. The anomaly is the unemployment and employment have been rising simultaneously.

Nothing could be more hurtful than to lose sight of the problem by focusing the debate on the "prosperity records" of past administrations, Republican or Democratic.

MANY REPUBLICANS feel that the Eisenhower years have been the greatest ever. Many Democrats contend that the recessions were frequent, the recovery too little and the rate of economic growth too slow.

The need now is to get away from the blurred cliches of "campaign oratory" so that we can look at the problem frankly and realistically.

Throughout the last decade, despite remarkable prosperity for many, despite high average wages and high consumer purchasing power, persistent unemployment has been steadily mounting.

The most revealing fact of all—and this seems to me to cut through the distracting argument over how good or bad things have been during the past eight years—is that persistent unemployment has been increasing even when prosperity has been highest.

CHRONIC UNEMPLOYMENT, according to the latest report of the National Planning Association, went from about 500,000 in the third quarter of 1953 to about 2,000,000 in the first quarter of 1960. This is not the total unemployment, which is now about 7,000,000. It is the mounting, hard core of unemployment which has persisted and grown through both the least prosperous and most prosperous years of the Fifties decade.

This is why the NPA, a non-political organization made up of leaders in business, labor, agriculture, and the professions, warns that such unemployment will rise further unless counter-measures are forthcoming.

To reduce unemployment and under-employment within a year to 4 per cent of the labor force would require some 7,000,000 new job opportunities—a gigantic challenge.

The NPA describes chronic or structural unemployment as not caused primarily by the ups and downs of the business cycle. There are more deep-seated factors, such as inadequate growth, more automation, economic changes abroad, movement of industry to new locations, and "discrimination against age and racial groups practiced by some employers and in some cases by unions."

THOSE MOST affected by chronic unemployment are men 65 and older. The tendency for widespread persistent unemployment in the 45-to-64 age group is also very acute. In February 1961 the proportion of unemployed who had been looking for work more than 15 weeks in this age group was as high as 32 per cent.

To combat both age discrimination and racial discrimination in employment, the NPA urges public education stressing the need to use these workers, increased vocation and re-training, and wider use of the U. S. Employment Service as well as other means.

However much the partisans may disagree over the prosperity of the nation in recent years, chronic unemployment has been growing in good and bad times alike. It now confronts industry, labor, and government with a problem too persistent to be ignored.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

Style Books Should Be Furnished To Every Person Reading The Paper

Few good Marinites have much time for Time. They are too busy readying the I-J.

This is for the best. Time devotes over-numerous pages to a terrible lot of tedious twaddle about such odd places as Asia, Africa and Washington, D. C. Much of Time is waste of time.

People living in a lively place like Marin County naturally have scant need for dreary tidings of those outlying spots. Anyway they can learn a surplusage merely by checking the front page of the I-J plus a section called "Wire News From Everywhere," a compilation of incredibly spicy items such as that there is a town of Hell, Mich.

Thus not many read Time. Evidently neither does Time read us. For scanning a current copy I note a piece called "The Reporter's Guide," about what are called "style books"; and the I-J is not mentioned.

The reason for style books isn't flattering to me and my colleagues, if you take Time's saucy word for it. Says Time: "In the opinion of many a newspaper editor, the typical reporter is a near illiterate who is dedicated to the proposition that the preposition is to end sentences with."

Everybody is entitled to his opinion. Mine, for instance, is that I am surrounded by a lot of highly literate bosses, printers, proofreaders, etc., who know better, but nonetheless delight in sprinkling my pellucid prose with extra commas and uncorrected typographical errors.

TIME REVEALS that to guide the knuckleheads of the newsroom many journals is just is what our own I-J did, not long ago, after some years of groaning and heaving.

The fact is that even I once compiled a style book, for a newspaper I ran in Shanghai until the Chinese Communists ran me (out).

A friend now in New York recalled it fondly in a letter the other day. Indeed it was full of fun and frolic, with much better plot than usual. Sadly, no copies survive.

It's too bad that style books are normally kept close within the bosom of the news family. Staff members are supposed practically to memorize the local version, but the public be what Vanderbilt reputedly told it to be.

My feeling is that it would be no more than right if management were to print up enough style books to give one to every subscriber. But on the other hand this would turn over a weapon for general criticism.

FOR INSTANCE the very first sentence of the I-J style book reads:

"Anyone employed in the Independent-Journal editorial department knows English and has some facility at writing it, else he (or she) wouldn't be here."

This is idealistic, inspirational, and has more holes than a Swiss cheese.

With regret I must admit that our book, compiled by News Editor Dick Layman, is for from airtight in many ways. For instance it admonishes not to capitalize "false titles" (such as news editor?) and as illustration gives "screen star Brigitte Bardot." Maybe Brigitte is the ship's cook. But what's false about her?

We are warned to beware of "alphabetitis" and told: "MWWD may mean Marin Municipal Water District to you, but probably means nothing to many readers." A lot of people like their Bourbon neat and some don't bathe much, but does that give anybody a right to insult them?

"GET THE NAME right" we are admonished. Nowadays our worthy representative favors a chummy "Clem Miller" usage, but because he used to be more stuffy, we hold him to "Clement W. Miller" regardless. Who's right, how?

What really bothers me is that I don't know whether to write Civic Center or civic center. It comes out in the paper first capitalized, then not.

The Denver Post used to say that its reporters write, but the printers edit. That could even here be the truth, style books and editors notwithstanding.

Definitions not in Webster's:

BACHELOR: A man who knows the precise psychological moment when to say nothing.

WIFE: A person who can look in a bureau drawer and find the husband's tie clasp that isn't there.

PEDESTRIAN: A chap who knows what the motorist is driving at.

COMMUNIST: A red hot Marxman.

A bashful, but wealthy, young gentleman took a beautiful maiden out for a motor ride in the moonlight.

In a shaded glen the engine gave a couple of feeble convulsions, then expired completely. "Goodness!" exclaimed the concerned young gentleman. "I wonder what's wrong. What do you think that was knocking?"

"Perhaps," said the maid demurely, "it was opportunity."

KUENN, DAVENPORT, SCHMIDT ARRESTED

Dark Defends Giants Nabbed In Brawl

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Three stars of the San Francisco baseball team were arrested today on charges of being drunk and disorderly, but Giant Manager Alvin Dark said they were only defending themselves against young thugs.

Arrested early this morning were catcher Bob Schmidt, 27, third baseman Jimmy Davenport, also 27, and outfielder Harvey Kuenn, 30, recently traded to the Giants from Cleveland.

Police said they fought with officers trying to arrest them after policemen stopped a scuffle between the three players and two motorists.

"The whole trouble was caused by some kids out looking for trouble," said Dark. "As far as I'm concerned, the players should be blamed for nothing in this case. It wasn't their fault it started. These guys were intimidating the ballplayers.

"I'm sorry it happened," added Dark, who said he did not plan to fine the three players. "This is one of those unfortunate circumstances which make ballplayers look bad. I don't approve of fights, but I do approve of people defending themselves."

Dark claimed the players were not drunk and police gave them no tests to determine if they had been drinking.

Dark said the players would forfeit their bonds of $30 each instead of appearing in Municipal Court April 18 when the regular season would have begun. Bond for the three was posted by team secretary Edward T. Brannick about 3 a.m.

Lester Gray, 20, one of the motorists involved in the fracas, said the players shouted foul names at him and threatened to run his car off the road. He said he stopped his car when the car bearing the players stopped and one of them began hitting another motorist in front of the team's hotel in downtown Phoenix.

Gray said he was hit once by one of the players and twice by another and "my glasses were knocked off."

"They were standing there on the street arguing with a couple of private citizens in a loud way," said a desk sergeant, "so when an officer came up and they started criticizing him we called the paddy wagon."

When the baseball trio arrived at the police station they were booked on suspicion of being drunk and disorderly in a public place and put in a cell, the sergeant said.

Kuenn, who was swapped for Willy Kirkland and Johnny Antonelli at the end of the past season, hit .308 in 126 games for Cleveland last year.

Davenport, whose form was off because of an ulcer and other injuries, batted .251 in 112 Giant games last year, while Schmidt knocked out .267 in 110 games for the Giants. Both players came up through the Giant farm system.

Giants 3rd Base Traffic Man Has A Few Words About Past 6 Weeks

HANLEY

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Salty Parker, third base traffic director of the Giants, summed up the past six weeks of spring work in the Giant encampment with some pertinent observations today.

"Billy Loes," said Parker, "is the biggest surprise in camp. He has been our most consistent pitcher. Whether he maintains it remains to be seen but he certainly has been a pleasant surprise.

"Then there are those two right handed rookies, Jim Duffalo and Bob Bolin, both of whom have been pleasant surprises. Both have a chance of making the big jump this year. Bolin could be the strong, rugged bullpen man we have missed ever since Marv Grissom left us.

"Duffalo has remarkable control and looks poised and experienced even though he only pitched Class A ball at Springfield, Mass., last year. He could make it just like Jim Perry made it from the Eastern League to Cleveland a few years ago.

"As far as our mound regulars are concerned, Candlestick Park fans know them already but I think this year could be the big one for Mike McCormick and Sam Jones looks like he is going to keep rolling right along like the old Mississippi.

"The question with the pitching staff still is 'Who is going to be the reliable relief man?'"

GOING TO the catchers, Parker said Tom Haller "is an outstanding prospect—rugged, big, with a good arm and bat—and even though John Orsino didn't make the squad cut to 28 this year you definitely will be hearing about that fellow before long."

Parker, like all other baseball men, has nothing but admiration of the highest order for Willie Mays even though Willie sometimes runs right through his traffic signs.

"Flanking Willie in the outfield are Felipe Alou and Orlando Cepeda. Neither needs any plug from me. What they have been doing this spring speaks for itself. In Alou, I believe we have one of the coming stars of the game.

"IN THE INFIELD, Willie McCovey is a new man. He is a determined athlete now. He learned his lesson last year. Everyone knows by now how he trimmed 20 pounds off his weight during the winter and reported sleek and trim.

"Dark didn't tamper with McCovey's swing because it is one of the best in baseball. Yet, he has McCovey hitting again—like the way he lashed the ball as a rookie in '59. Alvin has eliminated all doubt that McCovey is our first baseman.

"We still have Jim Davenport for third base but Dark is set on Harvey Kuenn there since that is the only position open for his big bat.

"THE SHORTSTOP-SECOND BASE combination still is open. Eddie Bressoud has competition from Jose Pagan and Davenport who was moved over to short from third.

"Don Blasingame, Charlie Hiller and Ferrell Bowman are three deep at second and that doesn't even mention Joe Amalfitano, who has proved his usefulness.

"Hiller has an exceptionally good bat. He led the Texas League last year. Bowman has good hands and a strong, fast DP arm. They have The Blazer battling hard for his job.

"I HOPE DON comes back. It is hard for me to believe that a man with his youth — he's only 28—could go back as far as he appeared to go last year. He knows he has plenty of competition on his hands but because he always has taken good care of himself and is in top condition he is capable of meeting it."

Cardinals' 1-2 Mound Punch Still Potent

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Talk about the St. Louis Cardinals' pennant chances and you talk about the power of Ken Boyer and Bill White, the defensive help of Julian Javier and starting pitchers Ernie Broglio, Larry Jackson and Bob Miller. But you start the talk with the ace who's always in a hole—Lindy McDaniel.

Lanky Lindy proved himself the best relief pitcher in the business last season, no mean feat among the likes of fellow National League firemen Elroy Face, Don Elston, Ed Roebuck and Dick Farrell and the American League's Gerry Staley, Mike Fornieles and Hoyt Wilhelm.

It was Broglio and McDaniel who shared the Cardinal player of the year award, Broglio with his 21 victories and McDaniel withh is 12-4 record, 27 saves and 2.09 earned run average, best in the league.

It was Lindy once again yesterday, following Broglio to the mound as the Cardinals made it four in a row over the American League champion New York Yankees, winning 2-1 in 11 innings at St. Petersburg, Fla. Broglio blanked the Yanks on three hits for seven innings. McDaniel, after giving up his first earned run in 13 innings, resumed his shutout spell over the last four frames for the decision.

WHITE SOX RIPPED

Elsewhere, the Washington Senators, leading the American League clubs with a 13-8 exhibition record, ripped the Chicago White Sox 12-3; the Detroit Tigers walloped the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates, still tops in the exhibition standings, 10-2; the Minnesota Twins defeated Milwaukee 9-6; Cincinnati beat Philadelphia 6-5; Kansas City outlasted Baltimore 11-10 in 10 innings; the Chicago Cubs nudged the Los Angeles Angels 4-3; the Los Angeles Dodgers breezed past Cleveland 8-5, and the San Francisco Giants beat Tacoma, their Pacific Coast farm club, 7-5.

A single by Alex Grammas drove in the tie-breaking run for the Cardinals and hung the loss on Jim Coates, who worked the last four innings for the Yanks. McDaniel gave up the tying run on three singles in the eighth but then muffled the A. L. champs, who are 0-4 in extra-inning games and last in the A. L. exhibition standings at 9-17.

PIRATES DECKED

The Tigers decked two of the Pirates' aces—Vern Law and Face—as the champs closed their Fort Myers schedule with a 17-8 record. Detroit belted 14 hits, one a home run by Al Kaline. Bob Bruce went all the way with a six-hitter, giving up the Bucs' runs on a homer by Bob Skinner in the third inning.

The Twins took similar liberties with another National League ace, cracking all but one of their 17 hits off Lew Burdette of the Braves at Orlando. Earl Battey and Bob Allison each hit two-run triples for the Twins. John Demerit hit two homers and a pair of singles for the Braves.

HENKE TRADED TO ST. LOUIS FOR DRAFTEE

Ed Henke, veteran San Francisco 49er defensive lineman, will play for the St. Louis Cardinals next season.

The Cards yesterday traded an undisclosed draft choice for the 221-pound Henke, who has played both defensive end and linebacker.

Henke was not a starter for the 49ers last season for the first time since joining the club in 1950. He admitted his disappointment and publicly asked to be traded.

He greeted the news of his trade with mixed emotions. He said he was happy "because it was what I wanted—a change elsewhere." But he said he was sorry to leave his home in the Bay Area.

Eddie Machen Has Edge For Shot At Title

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Eddie Machen's heavyweight fight here Monday against Mike De John took on added significance today with word from New York that Machen is getting serious consideration as the next opponent for Floyd Patterson.

Tom Bolan, executive director of Sports, Inc., conferred yesterday with Machen's manager, Sid Flaherty. Bolan announced after the talks that Machen "has the edge" on other possible challengers.

Bolan and Flaherty committed nothing to writing, but talked over possibilities for a title scrap.

Bolan made it clear that representatives of European heavyweight Henry Cooper would be consulted before any final decision was reached and also added that "much depends" on Machen's showing against De John, veteran slugger from New York.

Machen is now rated No. 2 contender by both the NBA and Ring Magazine.

HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS

Ramsay's Homer Wins For Pirates

Former Little Leaguer Lou Ramsay's two-run homer in the bottom of the sixth inning provided the winning margin in Drake High School's 4-2 victory over the Petaluma Trojans yesterday. Just before Ramsay's clout, the Pirates tied up the tight battle when Stan Chapman singled home Bob Ingram, who was in scoring position thanks to two errors.

Winning pitcher was Chapman, who hurled the final two innings in relief of starter Nino Geminiani. In five frames Geminiani gave up four hits and one run while Chapman gave up the other run on three hits.

Drake cranked off two double plays — shortstop Jerry Ard to second baseman Larry Kline to first sacker Steve Anderson and third baseman Sam Johnson to Kline.

CHAPMAN HURT

Blake Chapman, 14, son of Sam Chapman of 32 Corde Morada, Greenbrae, one of baseball's greats, sprained his ankle yesterday in a junior varsity baseball game playing for Redwood High School in Crockett. Blake, a freshman, was treated at Marin General Hospital and released.

SWIM RECORD

Big news from the Drake High School swimming tank came in the Class B division where Terry Poleti turned in a brilliant 1 minute, 4.9 seconds clocking in the 100-yard backstroke for a school record.

Drake won both divisions, 50-45 in the varsity, with Tony Crossler and Denny Smith turning in impressive performances and 62-24 in Class B.

REDWOOD WINS

Rich Brear pitched the Redwood Giants to a 5-3 victory over John Swett High yesterday with a nifty two-hitter punctuated by eight strikeouts.

Brear also aided his own cause by personally equalling Swett's hit production with two singles of his own.

GOLF MATCH

Rick Webb carded 78 strokes, but his Redwood High School golfing teammates suffered a loss to Washington High at the Meadow Club.

UNBEATEN NINE

The new Terra Linda High still hasn't lost a baseball game. Yesterday, the T. L. horsehiders had a field day with a 16-1 rout of the Tam junior varsity with Paul Meuse getting a triple and two singles and Jerry Daniele delivering a pair of hits. Doug Matlock was the winning pitcher in Terra Linda's fourth straight triumph. Dick Schultz was impressive at shortstop for the winners.

Lon Gallagher collected both of Tam's hits.

INDIANS LOSE

Tamalpais High's Indians suffered a tough 4-3 loss to Santa Rosa when the Panthers rallied for two runs in the final two innings.

Tam, however, showed some batting muscles when Ed Collins, Russ Adams, Steve Long and Dave Perlis each banged out two safeties.

Perlis was the losing pitcher in relief of starter Russ Adams who went the first five innings and had a 3-2 lead when he left.

Gary Player Heads Strong Foreign Entry In Masters

By LEO H. PETERSEN

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Gary Player, the little South African who is golf's leading money winner this year, today gave the strongest foreign delegation ever to compete in the tournament its best chance to win the Masters title for the first time.

Rated next to defending champion Arnold Palmer in the pre-tourney betting odds, Player, using a longer swing, has won $25,200 thus far in 1961 and thinks the days the Masters have been dominated by United States pros "are about over."

"It may be this year," said Player, competing in his fifth Masters. "But if not, I'd guess that within four years the foreign players will start winning this tournament and once they do they'll keep on winning it."

PALMER FAVORED

The betting odds had Palmer favored at 4 to 1 followed by Player at 6-1 in the Masters tomorrow.

Player agreed with the talent-laden Masters field that this is by far the strongest foreign entry list in Masters history.

"With fellows like Roberto De Vicenzo, Stan Leonard, Angel Miguel and all the others, we ought to do all right," he said.

The best a foreign player ever has been able to do in the previous 24 Masters was the fourth-place ties of Leonard, the Canadian star, in 1958 and again in 1959.

Player's best was a sixth place tie last year. Peter Thomson of Australia, another leading foreign threat, was fifth in 1957. Before that Australian born Jim Ferrier was second in 1950 and third in 1952, but by that time he was a naturalized U.S. citizen.

17 FOREIGNERS

In all, 17 foreign entrants will be in the field which will tee off tomorrow for the first of the four 18-hole rounds which will decide the 1961 Masters champion.

Player feels the Masters course is built for a player like De Vincenzo, the Argentine now playing out of Mexico: Leonard, Angel Miguel and Thomson.

"They can all hit the ball a long ways," Player explained. He said that Angel Miguel "would be a good bet to win it if it wasn't for his temperament."

Although he has won all that money this year, Player said his game "isn't any better than it has been in my other tours of America."

"I've averaged about $1,000 a week when I have been playing over here," he explained. "I've won more this year because I've stayed on the tour longer and played in more tournaments. But I don't think I've been playing any better this year than I did in previous years."

He admits he has more power off the tees and fairways because "I lengthened my swing."

"The greater arc gives me more distance and it seems more accuracy," Player said, explaining he started experimenting with the longer swing during the winter to see if it would help his game. It did, so he has stayed with it.

In addition to Player, De Vincenzo, Leonard, Thomson and Angel Miguel, the foreign threats include Canadians Al Balding, Bill Kerr, Phillip Brownlee and Keith Alexander; Australians Kel Nagle, the British Open champion, and Bruce Crampton; Sebastian Miguel of Spain, Mario Gonzales of Brazil, Fidel De Luca of Argentina, Antonio Cerda of Mexico, Miguel Sala of Bogota, Colombia and Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriquez of San Juan.

PREP TOURNEY THIS WEEK IN SAN RAFAEL

Marin Athletic League's baseball tournament, postponed by inclement weather two weeks ago, will get under way Friday at San Rafael's Albert Field with all six schools participating in the carnival.

Opening rounds will match Marin Catholic against Redwood at 4 o'clock, Drake against San Rafael at 6 and Tamalpais vs. Novato at 8.

Four games are on the docket for Saturday, starting at noon, 2, 4 and 8 p.m.

Drake and San Rafael are rated the co-favorites.

TRAGEDY AT AQUEDUCT

One Of Most Promising Jockeys Killed In Spill

NEW YORK (AP)—At 22, Roy L. Gilbert was one of the most promising young jockeys in the country.

He had been riding only three and a half years but he had compiled an imposing total of 174 winners. Within a space of two weeks last month, he had won four stakes races.

It all ended yesterday in the fourth race at Aqueduct. Gilbert was killed when his mount, a 39-to-1 outsider named Plenty Papaya, bolted into the rail.

Gilbert, from London, Ky., apparently managed to jump from the 2-year-old filly at the last second, but she was so far behind the field that the patrol films of the race failed to show the spill.

The mishap happened at about the half-mile pole on the back stretch, a furlong from the starting gate for the 5-furlong maiden sprint. Hardly anyone in the crowd of 28,153 was aware of the spill as they watched the finish of the race won by the favorite, Miss Stowaway, under Eddie Arcaro.

Dr. John J. Kilgallen, track physician, immediately ordered Gilbert taken to a hospital.

DEAD ON ARRIVAL

When the ambulance arrived at Physicians Hospital, Dr. Alexander Kaye, chief of staff, pronounced the jockey dead.

This was only the second start for Plenty Papaya. She had gone to the post in a race at Gulfstream Park on March 7 and finished last in a field of 14—20 lengths back of the winner.

No one was sure exactly what happened. The stewards said they believed Gilbert's head must have smashed into some part of the rail. They said his helmet was stained with blood.

Jim Dailey, an outrider, said: "The horse hit the rail full and went right up on it. She slid along the rail on her back with her feet up in the air. I believe Gilbert rolled right after the horse after he hit the track."

FRACTURED SKULL

Dr. Kaye said he thought the cause of death was a fractured skull. An autopsy will be performed to determine the exact cause.

Censorship Looms Its Ugly Head In The Case Of Giant's Latin Boys

CONNOLLY

The problem of censorship—like the poor—we have always with us.

And for the special benefit of those unfamiliar with baseball censorship, let me tell you the San Francisco Giants have ruled Puerta Rican and Dominican Republic baseball players may answer questions of reporters, ONLY AFTER, they have been submitted to Manager Alvin Dark, who has to OK the answers.

It also is applicable to a few other ball players on the squad who are about 80 cents short of having a dollars worth of book learning. To cite a specific example, and to help clarify Dark's censorship, we mention the wordy battle some weeks ago between Orlando Cepeda, fiery tempered outfielder and ex-manager Bill Rigney.

Rigney made some replies to a veteran baseball reporter who cleverly worded the answers so that it sounded like Rigney was taking a hefty wallop at the intestinal fortitude of Cepeda.

TOGETHER, WITH the clever manipulation of words and a provocative headline, the story sounded like Rigney was alibing at Cepeda's expense.

When the report was shown to Cepeda, he blew up completely.

It is the contention of the Giants' freshman manager that had Cepeda properly interpreted the article, he would not have said so many nasty cracks about Rigney.

And Dark thinks Cepeda should be given every chance in the future to have somebody better acquainted with baseball phraseology define articles written about him or things said about him. So, now if a reporter goes to Cepeda with a question, Orlando is to take the question to Manager Dark and Dark tells him to not answer it, or tells him how to answer it, if at all.

THIS MIGHT be called censorship by some folks. I am not one of those guys who likes censorship, no matter how thin you slice it.

I think anyone advocating "Hush, hush, keep it quiet," "Don't do anything or say anything until you hear from me." Or, "no comment" cracks, really has something to hide.

And the practice of gagging ball players (who are always at their best when blowing off steam) comes mighty close to denying freedom of speech to the player and to the press.

In the business of baseball, reporting stories go in pairs. The first one is the story reported to have been said, and the second one is the denial by the player who said it.

SO YOU CAN see if such a thing as baseball censorship catches fire, most of the fun and the smoke in baseball will be squelched.

And I'm agin that — it removes the fun of a "beat" or a "scoop."

The late Dan Doran of the S.F. Examiner was sent to cover a swimming meet at Neptune Beach in which Norman Ross, world's champion merman, was competing.

DORAN SHOWED up late and nobody but Charley Small of the Chronicle had the exact time in which Ross shattered the world's swimming mark.

So Doran, refused the time, went to the phone and recited a yarn that stunned his office.

Doran reported, "while Norman Ross was shattering a world's distance swimming mark this afternoon at Neptune, the life of a baby was spared through the alertness of a spectator who dived in with his clothes on and pulled the baby to safety.

"The hero refused his name and the baby's mother raced home."

Both stories hit the street at the same time. Small, the exacting reporter, was criticized for not getting the "human interest story," while Doran got big cheers for his alertness.

AFTER THAT episode the swimmer's writers always gave out information to a competitive reporter.

Can Venturi Beat Jinx?

NEW YORK (UPI)—They tee off in the coveted Masters tomorrow and it's the now or maybe never year for slender Ken Venturi.

The young man from San Francisco comes to win and he has the talents. Yet, twice now he has known heartbreak on the final round of the Augusta event.

A third disaster well might make the Masters for him the same kind of nightmare the U. S. Open has become for Slammin' Sammy Snead.

Snead had the Open in his pocket the first time he ever played in it, back in 1937. Sitting in the locker room he was beaten out and since then he has finished second four times. It became for him a fixation of frustration.

Venturi is in the same leaking boat at the Masters.

Back in 1956, when he still was an amateur, Venturi opened the Masters with a 66—best round ever recorded there by an amateur—and then added rounds of 69 and a bad weather 75 to carry a four shot lead over his closest competitor into the final round.

Then, not only the roof, but even the walls fell in.

Ken shot a sky-high 80 as Jackie Burke, who entered the final round eight shots back, fired a 71 to win out by one stroke.

"Maybe it was better that I didn't win it," Venturi philosphized the next year after turning professional. "If I'd have won it as an amateur it might have been an anti-climax as a pro."

It actually was sound thinking more than rationalizing. Until you consider what happened just a year ago.

IN THE BAG

For there, as they started off the final round, Ken was right up among the leaders. He finished strong and sat in the clubhouse—as Snead had done so many years before in the Open—victory apparently his.

But Arnold Palmer, the Pennsylvania strong man, birdied the last two holes and took it away from him by one stroke.

Of such things are the sporting jinxes compounded. And if Venturi is right up there this time and once more it eludes his grasp it could slip for him into the land of never-never.

You can get strong support if you believe that, given another winning chance, the 29-year-old Venturi this time will put in in his bag. In four years as a pro he hasn't achieved the pinnacle of greatness which many predicted, but he has been a big and consistent winner. Over that period he has banked $121,169, which figures out to a fat average of better than $30,000 a year. On the procircuit that's up front and center.

A long iron artist, Venturi is the kind who given the chance will go for broke.

"I'd rather have one victory than four seconds, no matter how much the second places paid," he says.

'NEW HOGAN'

When he arrived on the pro scene there was much of the fading Ben Hogan in him. He had all the shots, a classic swing and worked tirelessly to perfect his touch. He also had that iron concentration which featured Bantam Ben's play. Once, during a match at Pebble Beach, he pulled off a critical shot and his pretty wife, Conni, who was standing nearby, said to him:

"Good going, honey."

Venturi looked her blankly in the face and replied:

"Thanks, lady."

Winning the Masters could push him farther along in Hogan's footsteps. Losing it again in frustration fashion could bury him in Snead's Open shadow.

Free Angling License For Aged Is Rejected

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Senate Fish and Game Committee has turned down a bill to give all Californians who reach retirement age free fishing licenses.

The committee acted yesterday after it learned the bill by Sen. Randoph Colier (D-Yreka), would cost the state $282,000 annually in lost license fees.

Raiders Happy Over Trade With Patriots

OAKLAND (AP)—In their biggest trade of the short American Football League history, the Oakland Raiders sent quarterback Babe Parilli and fullback Billy Lott to the Boston Patriots.

In return they get halfback Dick Christy, fullback Alan Miller and defensive tackle Hal Smith. All three could be starters this fall.

"We feel we have strengthened ourselves immeasureably by acquiring these three fine players," declared Oakland Coach Eddie Erdelatz.

Parilli, the ex-Kentucky rifle, was the No. 2 gun at quarterback for the Raiders behind started Tom Flores while Lott was the backfield workhorse for Oakland last fall and the Raiders' second leading ground ainer. He carried 99 times for 520 yards and was the leading pass receiver with 49 receptions for 525 yards.

Miller proved the leading ground gainer for the Patriots with 416 yards on 101 carries. The fleet Christy, an All-America from North Carolina State, gained 363 on 78 carries. Miller caught 29 passes for 284 yards and Christy 26 for 268.

Smith, from UCLA, weighs 250 and proved a strong defender for Boston in the initial AFL season. He should help shore up a leaky Raider defense for the coming season.

Exciting 1961 Season Predicted By President

By JOE CRONIN
American League President

BOSTON (UPI)—This 60th anniversary American League season is certain to be played with a historic backdrop even before it begins with colorful and traditional ceremonies at Griffith Stadium, Washington, next Monday.

It was back in the season of 1901 when the American League achieved Major League status, and for the first time it will operate as a 10-team circuit in 1961.

We are confident these expansion moves have been made in continued Major League fashion, and that interest and excitement are going to be greater and more intense, as well as more widespread, this year than ever before.

Encouragement has been forthcoming in expert opinions offered by qualified observers who have seen the new clubs, the Washington Senators and Los Angeles Angels, in action during the spring training period. The intense enthusiasm in the new territory of Minnesota has gained unanimous recognition.

By this no claim is intended that the expansion program, necessary for the modernization of the baseball structure, will be without future problems. However, we are now certain all problems ahead can be surmounted as were those of recent months.

Indeed, much has been accomplished and tremendous progress achieved in the brief span of time between last October and the approaching opening day, which will find 10 teams ready for action and competition, thanks to the cooperation and hard work of dedicated baseball men, the owners and officials of the American League clubs, both the old and the new.

GOOD FORTUNE

I have had the good fortune of seeing and studying in person the "new" Washington Senators, and the six other teams training in Florida, in recent weeks. Reports from the Arizona and California camps of the Boston Red Sox, Cleveland Indians and Los Angeles Angels have been a matter of daily menu.

It would be easy to predict that a 10-team pennant race is in prospect, but perhaps not realistic.

The champion New York Yankees can truly be classified as the team to beat.

Armstead Stops Santos In 7th Of Richmond Fight

RICHMOND (UPI) — Paulie Armstead of Los Angeles scored a seventh round knockout over Chico Santos of Oakland last night in a lightweight scrap at Richmond Auditorium.

Armstead, returning to the ring wars after a lengthy layoff, looked as sharp as ever as he moved well out in front on points from the opening bell.

Santos weighed 137 pounds and Armstead 135.

Armstead has now won 29 of 40 fights. His record shows one draw and 13 knockouts. Santos has won three of seven since coming here from Portugal.

Exceptional Are The Glamorous Berry, Pineapple Cheesecakes

Exceptional is this glamorous Berry Glazed Cheesecake . . . crust baked high and golden brown, crumb tender and velvety smooth. It's moise, yet softly compact and easy to serve as finale to an elegant dinner or as "dessert and."

Pineapple Cheesecake with Apricot-Pineapple Sauce is refreshingly cool on warm spring days. Prepare this no-bake version to impress family as well as friends. They'l love it.

BERRY GLAZED CHEESECAKE

Spring form pan, 9-inch
Preheated 350° oven
12 Servings

Crust:
2 cups graham cracker crumbs
¼ cup sugar
½ cup (1 stick) butter, melted

Combine graham cracker crumbs, sugar and butter thoroughly. Press on sides and bottom of pan; chill while making filling.

Filling:
1 pound cream cheese
2 cups cottage cheese, sieved
1½ cups sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
½ teaspoon salt
6 egg yolks
⅓ cup flour
6 egg whites

Beat together cream and cottage cheeses until smooth; mix in sugar, vanilla and salt. Add egg yolks one at a time, beating well after each addition. in flour. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry; fold into cheese mixture. Pour into prepared pan. Bake 1¼ hours; then turn off heat, open door, and let cool in oven at least 1 hour. Chill before topping with berries and glaze.

Berry Topping:
1 pint strawberries or raspberries, hulled
1 cup sugar
½ cup water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup water

Mash ½ cup berries and place in a small saucepan with sugar, ½ cup water and lemon juice; bring to boiling. Mix cornstarch with ¼ cup water and add to hot fruit mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens; strain and cool. Top Cheesecake with remaining berries and pour the cooled glaze over them. Chill before serving.

PINEAPPLE CHEESECAKE WITH APRICOT-PINEAPPLE SAUCE

Square dish, 9-inch
9-12 servings

Crust:
2 cups vanilla wafer crumbs
6 tablespoons butter, softened

Combine wafer crumbs and butter until well blended. Reserve ½ cup for topping and press remaining mixture in bottom of dish.

Filling:
2 cups cottage cheese ,sieved
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
2 teaspoons vanilla
¼ teaspoon salt
2½ cups (20-oz. can) crushed pineapple
2 tablespoons (2 envelopes) unflavored gelatin
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
¾ cup sugar
¼ cup milk
3 egg whites

Combine cottage cheese, cream cheese, vanilla and salt. Drain pineapple; sprinkle gelatin over pineapple syrup to soften. In a saucepan, combine egg yolks, sugar and milk; cooking constantly, until thickened. Stir in gelatin until dissolved. Remove from heat and cool slightly. Stir in cottage cheese mixture and 1 cup of the pineapple. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry, then fold in the cheese mixture. Pour into prepared dish, sprinkle on reserved crumb mixture and chill overnight. Cut into squares and serve with Apricot-Pineapple Sauce.

APRICOT-PINEAPPLE SAUCE

Yield: 2 cups
1½ cups (10-oz. can) apricot nectar
2 teaspoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Dash of salt
Reserve crushed pineapple

Mix about ¼ cup apricot nectar with cornstarch. Heat remaining nectar to scalding; gradually add cornstarch mixture and cook, stirring contantly, until thickened. Stir in lemon juice, salt and reserved pineapple and chill.

How Smart A Shopper Are You?

Do you know the difference between American blue cheese and Roquefort?

The difference: American blue cheese is made from cow's milk while Roquefort is made from ewe's (sheep's) milk.

The basic fundamentals of the manufacture of blue mold cheese, however, are essentially the same in all countries. Just as the French add culture and rennet to sheep's milk, American cheese makers add the same ingredients to cow's milk to produce the curd.

In both France and the United States, the whey is then drained off and the curd poured into hoops. American aging facilities have approximately the same temperatures, air currents and humidity as the limestone caves of Roquefort, France, since these conditions encourage the growth of Penicillium Roqueforti, the agent used in blue cheese to develop the characteristic color and piquant flavor.

Most American blue cheese is aged even longer than Roquefort—usually 90 days, and in some cases, as long as 150 days.

The primary achievement in American production methods, however, has been a quality control program that assures uniformity in flavor and texture within a brand. Rigid milk grading programs, daily sterilization of stainless steel equipment and governmental regulations and inspection give the consumer of the American product a blue cheese produced under sanitary conditions, and in accord with Food & Drug requirements.

American blue cheese, which is available in supermarket dairy counters, is the most popular blue mold cheese in this country.

Veal Steaks Adaptable To Sauces

Serving a good balance of beef, veal, pork and lamb keeps meals interesting. Likewise, serving each cut in different ways can prevent monotony.

Veal steaks offer an example of a cut of meat that no doubt appears less frequently on your table. Veal is especially versatile, so it should find a welcome place in your menus. The mild flavor of veal makes it adaptable to a variety of sauces and gravies, says meat cookery expert Reba Staggs.

You'll like Savory Veal Steaks braised in onions, ginger and mustard. Evaporated milk or light cream added at the end of the cooking time creates a rich, savory sauce.

SAVORY VEAL STEAKS

3 veal shoulder steaks cut ½ to ¾ inch thick
2 tablepsoons flour
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon ginger
1½ teaspoons dry mustard
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
2 onions, sliced
1 cup water
1 small can (6 ounces) evaporated milk or 1 cup light cream

Mix together flour, salt, ginger and mustard. Pound seasoned flour into steaks. Brown steaks in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Cover steaks with onions. Add water. Cover tightly and cook slowly 45 minutes to 1 hour or until meat is tender. Remove meat to platter. Add milk or cream to cooking liquid. Heat thoroughly and serve as sauce with meat. 6 servings.

Lamb Patties In Herb Sauce

Serve "Lamb Patties in Herb Sauce" some evening after a busy, busy day and, chances are, the family will ask for return engagements. While the patties broil, it takes just a few minutes to make the gourmet-minded sauce, thanks to convenient creamy canned white sauce. Result: An economical entree with real flair. Elegant enough for guests!

LAMB PATTIES WITH HERB SAUCE

6 lamb patties
1 (10½-ounce) can white sauce
¼ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
¾ teaspoon dried marjoram
Chopped parsley

Broil lamb patties 3 to 4 inches from heat until done to your taste, turning once. Meanwhile, combine white sauce, mayonnaise, lemon juice, onion and marjoram, heat. Serve sauce over lamb patties; sprinkle with chopped parsley.

Good Breakfasts

The extra minutes of shuteye do not make up for the "black coffee menu, only" at the breakfast table. It's smarter to start the day with a nutritionally sound, high protein meal that will satisfy those hunger pangs until lunch.

Chicken, Wine Sauce In Southern Style

Plan for a dinner party: "Southern-Style Chicken with Hollandaise Wine Sauce," buttered asparagus, grapefruit and avocado salad, fresh strawberries and angel cake, coffee. The super-special entree is boned chicken breasts on ham slices with a subtle sauce. It is a real snap to make, due to time-saving, failure-proof canned Hollandaise sauce. The guests will think you spent hours making the elegant topper. Why work when you can use tangy canned Hollandaise!

SOUTHERN-STYLE CHICKEN WITH HOLLANDAISE WINE SAUCE

6 large chicken breasts
salt, pepper, paprika
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
6 (⅛-inch thick) ham slices
6 toast slices
Hollandaise Wine Sauce
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

HOLLANDAISE WINE SAUCE

2 (6-ounce) cans Hollandaise sauce
3 tablespoons white dinner wine
⅛ teaspoon ground marjoram
Dash salt

Bone chicken breasts and season with salt, pepper and paprika; brown until golden in butter. Place in baking dish; cover and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 25 to 30 minutes or until tender. Saute ham in skillet used for chicken, adding more butter if necessary. Arrange ham slices on toast; top with chicken and Hollandaise Wine Sauce. Sprinkle with parsley.

Hollandaise Wine Sauce: Blend Hollandaise Sauce with 2 tablespoons of wine and seasonings; heat slowly. Add remaining wine just before serving. Makes 6 servings.

Orange Muffins For Breakfast

Morning is a time to enjoy a breakfast that's a bit out of the ordinary. You needn't serve a heavy meal, but try something special.

Homemade baked goods are always a delight. In the morning, however, you like to choose a menu that's easy to prepare. This makes Quick Orange Muffins an ideal choice. The mixing just requires a few minutes, the baking 15 to 20 minutes.

For tender, delicious muffins Reba Staggs, home economist, recommends lard. It produces the delicate and light texture you enjoy in all your baked products.

To complete the breakfast, serve a half grapefruit, pork sausage links, coffee or milk.

QUICK ORANGE MUFFINS

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
½ cup sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
4 to 6 tablespoons lard
2 -tablespoons grated orange rind
1 egg beaten
½ cup orange juice

Grease 12 medium sized muffin cup. Sift together flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Cut in lard until mixture has a fine even crumb. Add grated orange rind. Combine beaten egg and orange juice and add to dry ingredients, stirring only until flour is moistened. Fill muffin cups ⅔ full. Bake in a hot oven (425° F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Yield: 12 medium-sized muffins.

Ham Sandwich

Combine a plentiful fruit with meat for an unusual open faced sandwich. Place a lettuce leaf and two "boiled" ham slices on toasted bread. Then spread each sandwich with a mixture of 2 tablespoons whole cranberry sauce and 1 teaspoon mayonnaise.

Variety Preparation

Variety meats are usually cooked to the well-done stage, with the possible exception of veal liver which may be served medium.

MEXICAN BEEF SALAD uses leftover cooked beef marinated in a peppy French dressing and is garnished with avocado slices, ripe olives, onions and green pepper rings.

Appealing Salad Idea From Friends South Of Border

Here is an appealing salad idea borrowed from friends south of the border. The surprise ingredient—and the one that gives this salad "he-man" appeal—is beef! Use cooked beef (roast or boiled beef) cut into thin strips and marinated several hours in a tangy French dressing seasoned with chili powder. Serve over crisp greens. The Mexican way is to toss the salad with some green pepper and onion rings. In this version we use the onion and green pepper rings as a garnish with slices of avocado, tomato wedges and ripe olives for added interest.

"Mexican Beef Salad" is an ideal luncheon dish, satisfying without being too heavy. For dinner, serve it with a macaroni and hard-cooked egg casserole topped with buttered crumbs, or with some other meatless entree.

MEXICAN BEEF SALAD

¾ cup salad oil
½ cup red wine vinegar
1½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon freshly ground pepper
Dash of cayenne pepper
½ teaspoon chili powder
3 cups cooked beef, cut into strips
Salad greens
Onion rings
Green pepper rings
Avocado slices
Ripe olives

Blend oil, vinegar and seasonings. Add beef and marinate several hours. Drain and arrange on crisp salad greens. Garnish salad with onion and green pepper rings, avocado slices and ripe olives. Serve with some of the marinade as dressing, if desired. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

Davidson P-TA Plans 'Spring Luncheon'

Davidson School's annual P-TA fund raising event, this year a "Spring Luncheon," will be held at the Masonic Hall in San Rafael on April 11 at noon.

The program will feature San Rafael High School's American Field Service exchange students, Victoria Geneteau of Panama and Rogers Smeets of Belgium. They will discuss their impressions of American life as compared to life in their native land.

Luncheon guests will also be entertained by the San Rafael High School music department which will offer excerpts from the musical "Brigadoon."

A highlight of the afternoon will be the presentation of an honorary life membership in the Parent-Teacher Assn. This will be awarded to a Davidson mother who has been selected for outstanding contribution to the interests of children.

Officers to the Davidson School 1961-1962 P-TA board will be elected at the meeting.

Davidson P-TA extends an invitation to all future seventh grade mothers from Coleman, Laurel Dell, E Street, Sun Valley, West End, and San Pedro Schools to attend the luncheon.

Reservations may be obtained by calling one of the following: Mesdames R. D. Bolt, Albert Walz, or S. D. Ulrich.

Masterpoint Winners

Results of the Thursday Afternoon Duplicate Bridge Club at the San Rafael Improvement Club have been announced.

Masterpoint tournament winners: First, North-South, Blanche Gibson and Mrs. Don Smith and East-West, Hazel Strittmatter and James Carbaugh; second, North-South, Edith Fink and Joan Dever and East-West, Audrey M. Donahue and Ann M. Leachman; third, North-South, Helen Donnan and Frances Beurhaus and East-West, Cleo Mueller and Ludovica Bigelow.

Winners in Tournament B were first, Betty Dyson and Virginia Boyle; second, Inez Stefani and Juanita Finn; third, Dorothy Snyker and Helen Newlon.

Decorations Guild Adopts 'Theme Of Month' Program

The Decorations Guild of the Marin Art and Garden Center has adopted a "theme of the month" program.

Members of the group, which presents the Greens Sale during the Christmas holidays and year round sales of floral decorations, will offer arrangements and gifts for babies and brides this moth.

"April Showers" items will be available in the Decorations Guild show room at the Center in Ross.

Mrs. Robert L. Tuckey of Kentfield, president of the Guild, has named Mrs. Marion Ludlow as chairman of another new guild project. The latest creative program is the "hat bar" where garden hats and bags are offered at low cost.

Mrs. Tuckey announced wreathmaking lessons each Monday at 10 a.m. during April, with Mrs. Henry Picard acting as chairman.

Marin Students At Wellesley College Campus Guides

Two students from Marin, Sandra Boyer and Susan Detweiler, have been named official Campus Guides at Wellesley College in Wellesly, Mass., where they are freshmen.

Selected by representatives of the college administration, Campus Guides introduce Wellesly to prospective students and their parents. Guides are prepared to answer questions concerning studies, extracurricular activities, and facilities of the college as they escort these guests around Wellesley's 400-acre campus.

New Campus Guides will be honored at a tea on April 10 when they will have an opportunity to meet Miss Mary E. Chase, vice president and director of admission at the college, and Miss Barbara Clough, the associate director of admission.

Miss Boyer, a graduate of Redwood High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Boyer, Corte Madera. She holds a scholarship from the Seven College Conference of Eastern women's colleges.

Miss Detweiler's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John S. Detweiler, San Anselmo, and she was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School.

Marin Designer To Present Show

Marin designer Antoinette recently opened her salon on Fifth Avenue in San Rafael under the name Maison Antoinette. Spring and summer creations will be shown at the fashion luncheon.

Fashion Focus Will Celebrate Third Anniversary On April 11

By PATRICIA ZINN

"Fashion Focus," the popular Tuesday luncheon series at Rickeys Rancho Rafael celebrates its third anniversary next week by honoring the San Anselmo Women's Club in a promenade of fashion from a Marin shop.

Every Tuesday, rain or shine, for three years, with the exception of special holidays, "Fashion Focus" has been a part of the Marin scene. Its name is familiar to readers of the Independent-Journal and to fashion minded women from all parts of the Bay Area who have enjoyed the luncheons and fashions.

A weekly series that sparkles for three years is a remarkable achievement and gives "Fashion Focus" the distinction of being the longest running, continuous fashion luncheon series in Northern California.

For Marin organizations, Fashion Focus has been more than just a luncheon. It began with a three-fold purpose, and its purpose has been carried out by coordinator Marion Bellamy: 1. To honor every Tuesday during the year an outstanding community service organization by focusing attention on their special cause; 2. To present the best of fashion from Marin specialty shops and encourage shopping within the county, and 3. To spark every fashion luncheon with a different theme appropriate to the group and its activities.

In addition, the Tuesday luncheons are planned by the coordinator to make the day pleasant and profitable for the honored group with a minimum of work and worry.

As coordinator of the Fashion Focus series, Marion Bellamy must arrange for the honored organizations, spacing them with an eye to community interest and variety of purpose and select the fashion shop mindful of the season, the fashions of the store, and the group of the day . . . i.e., you would not choose a store featuring swimwear and sports togs for groups whose membership were mature grandmothers.

Once the honored group of the week and the fashion shop are scheduled, the coordinator must plan a provocative theme, arrange for publicity photographs and props, coordinate the fittings for clothes and hair styling with the groups model chairman, supervise and write the press releases, introduce and close every luncheon with zestful commentary. At every luncheon, Marion arrives loaded with jewelry, gloves, shoes and props to supply the all-important accessories for those stores that do not stock them. For designers showings when a store is not involved, she must fit, accessorize, and line up the entire show in addition to all the other activity.

ALL ASPECTS

In the course of producing one show like Fashion Focus, the coordinator must not only know all aspects of the fashion business, but be a publicist, journalist, public relations expert, and copy writer, display director, accessorizer, timer, commentator, production manager, decorator, instructor, prop man and chauffeur.

The story of "Fashion Focus" began in the summer of 1957 when John Rickey purchased Rancho Rafael and Marion Bellamy had an idea for a weekly fashion luncheon. First came the gala opening of Rickey's and a special fashion luncheon to benefit the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary. Inspired by the success of the Sunny Hills day and the enthusiasm in Marin for charitable endeavors, Rickey and Marion developed their plans for launching a weekly series in a friendly, informal setting.

Honored at the first "Fashion Focus" luncheon was the Marin Unit of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc.

One hundred and fifty to 200 luncheon guests are the average on Tuesdays with many weeks more than 300 on hand. More than 100 civic, charitable and educational organizations have had their special days, many returning more than once when a particular endeavor needs special emphasis.

From the boutiques of Sausalito to the branch of a San Rafael store in Novato, the Tuesday series has highlighted the county's fashion stores. Rising young designers with marked talent such as the distinguished couturier, John Calvin of Sausalito and the young French designer Antoinette have been introduced for the first time to the Marin public at the Fashion Focus series.

The luncheons have brought to Marin the collections of such fashion houses as Eleanor Green, Koret of Cailfornia, Rose Marie Reid, all of whom are available in Marin stores.

The outstanding original designs of Elizabeth Vincent, Joel Moreau, and Elizabeth Arden have been shown on special Tuesdays.

The attractive models-of-the-day are chosen from the honored organizations and are given a pleasant Saturday morning refresher class in informal modeling by Marion Bellamy to make them feel more at ease and show the clothes with greater confidence.

Spokesman for every group that has been honored at Rickeys Fashion Focus luncheons has been coordinator Marion Bellamy, who must come up with the sparkling theme for every week that suits the group, its history and its work, a project requiring a good bit of research and study of the organization's activities.

Next Tuesday's anniversary Fashion Focus luncheon will be no exception. Honoring the San Anselmo Women's Club, it will provide a fashionable cure for that contagious seasonal malady, "Spring Fever," a disease that does not generally affect the honored group, so busy are they with community service.

All of the 100 or more organizations that have been honored at the Tuesday luncheon series are invited to share the day which begins another year of Rickey's "Fashion Focus," two words synonymous with community spirit and attractive fashions here in Marin.

Marin Women

Status Of Women AAUW Section Sets Objectives

Encouraging qualified women in the community to participate more actively in public life is currently one of the prime objectives of the Status of Women section, American Association of University Women, Marin branch.

Members of the branch, under the direction of Mrs. Joel Nemschoff, chairman, have just sent letters of inquiry to approximately 50 local volunteer organizations, asking for names of women who could be recommended for appointive offices or could run for elective offices in Marin County.

When the suggestions have been received, the Status of Women group intends to make up a roster of Marin County women qualified for public office, either selective or appointive. Members have already studied a list of county boards and commissions in Marin County, with the qualifications necessary for service.

A roster of available and qualified women will serve a two-fold purpose, according to this AAUW group. It will offer suggestions for candidates to run for such offices as local school boards, and will also serve as an immediate source of names when there is a vacancy on a local board or commission. Before any woman is endorsed for a position by the AAUW, the executive board will be consulted.

Members of the Status of Women committee who have been active on this project are the Mesdames J. A. Kephart, James A. English, L. T. Lamb, Hugh Marchant, Joel Nemschoff, and Miss Lucile Dandelet.

A luncheon honoring eight outstanding women in the community is being planned for Monday, May 15, at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, by the Marin AAUW Status of Women section.

GOING OVER the Questionnaire Survey of Resource Persons which could be used in elementary and secondary schools in Marin, a project of the Marin Branch of the American Association of University Women, is Anthony Bacich, administrative assistant for instruction in the Kentfield School District, and from left, AAUW members, Mesdames Hugh G. Marchant and Robert S. Milmoe, chairman. (Independent-Journal photo.)

Question Survey Marin AAUW Project

The Education Section of the Marin Branch of the American Association of University Women has had as their project, this past year, a Questionnaire Survey of Resource Persons which could be used in the elementary and secondary schools.

The questionnaire has received the approval of many of the district superintendents in Marin County, and has been circulated through these districts. The San Rafael School District under Frank Lucas, superintendent, is the first to have completed the survey. In the Kentfield School District, under the direction of Anthony Bacich, administrative assistant for instruction, the survey is now in process. Other districts are planning to begin the survey in the immediate future.

The questionnaires from the San Rafael District have been returned to the Education Section, and the information contained in them is now being compiled into a master file. This information will be available to other school districts, as well as P-TA's, youth groups, and the original questionnaires will be returned to the district to be kept in their own offices.

The survey goes to each parent and asks them to check in which of the following fields they have had experience or training, and if they would be willing to volunteer themselves in this type of program. The fields listed on the questionnaire include foreign languages, science, art, music library and physical education.

The persons volunteering might be called upon in the classrooms by individual teachers, to speak at an assembly, to assist or advise in a specialized type of program, to conduct a class after school or during the summer, or if properly qualified, to be hired by the district to be used in a particular capacity.

The Education Section under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert Milmoe, and assistant chairman Mrs. Abe Froman, undertook the survey with the hope that if such a list of available people could be given to the schools and made use of by them, that this hitherto untapped source might alleviate certain financial obstacles to more enrichment and wider variety of opportunity in the aforementioned fields.

The year's program has included a meeting in each of the fields mentioned on the questionnaire, including a presentation and demonstration of music in the schools by Hugo Rinaldi. Related subjects were also covered when Lucas showed the movie "And No Bells Ring," which covered advanced methods of teaching in the secondary schools.

The group also held a panel discussion on "European Education vs. American Education." The four panelists participating were Mrs. Guy Flandreau, Lothar Salin, Webster Wilson, principal of Terra Linda High, and Bacich, of the Kentfield District.

Anyone desiring more information about the survey or wishing to place his or her name in the master file should contact Mrs. Milmoe in Greenbrae.

Sunny Hills Guild Plans Theater Party

Kent Woodlands Guild of Sunny Hills will sponsor the Ross Valley Players production of "Janus' on Thursday evening, May 4. Numerous dinner parties are planned by members preceding the play and refreshments will be served during intermission.

Mrs. Richard Boss is general chairman for the benefit and proceeds of the affair will go toward the operation of Sunny Hills home for children in San Anselmo.

Officers serving Kent Woodlands Guild this year are Robert Danse, president; Thomas Cuffe, Grape Festival chairman; Irving Lewis, treasurer; Lewis Kerlin, recording secretary; and W. R. Voorhees, corresponding secretary.

Marin PBX Club Meets Tomorrow

The PBX Club of Marin will meet tomorrow evening for a dinner meeting at the Buon Gusto Villa in Fairfax. The cocktail hour will be from 6:30 to 7 p.m. with the dinner and meeting following.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Harold M. Lyons. The American Cancer Society will present a film.

Nomination of officers for the coming year will be made at the meeting.

Hay Balers Party

Hay Balers are holding a square dance party Saturday night at Davidson School in San Rafael with Merle Basom calling. All square dancers are welcome. Dancing will be from 8:30 until midnight. Refreshments will be served. On the committee are Maxine Brawdy, refreshments; Dorothy Allen, hospitality; Dorothy Hegarty, publicity.

WEDDING SET FOR SUNDAY IN FAIRHILLS

The Fairhills home of Mr. and Mrs. Merton Jacobs will be the setting on Sunday for the wedding of Ingrid Bernhard, daughter of Mrs. Adolph Israelski of New York and San Francisco, and Jacques Silvin of San Francisco. Dr. Kurt Schlesinger of Mill Valley will give the bride in marriage and Rabbi Sol White of Temple Beth Sholom of San Francisco will officiate at the wedding.

After the high noon ceremony a reception and wedding breakfast will be held at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club.

The bride-elect was educated at Hunter College, New York, and Madame Robin's in Lausanne, Switzerland. The future bridegroom received his education in Paris and came to San Francisco five years ago to follow a business career.

Game Week Plans Are Underway

Plans are well underway for the Game Week being sponsored by the Junior Social Service Auxiliary. Members are opening their homes on various evenings during the week of April 17 through 21. Also, the Marin Golf and Country Club will be open for bridge on Thursday night, April 20, at 8 p.m. for members, husbands and guests.

A prize for each table of four people is being provided by the Auxiliary, courtesy of Mrs. William J. Ghilotti.

All proceeds raised by the Juniors are turned over to the Catholic Social Service of Marin.

Game Week chairman is Mrs. Gordon Walker, assisted by Mrs. William L. Larkins, as co-chairman. Party arrangements are being formulated by Mrs. Leonard d 'Artney, in charge of awards, and Mrs. Laurence Bernardini, handling reservations.

Committee members include the Mesdames Vincent de Nevers, Charles Gondak, J. Kenneth Larkins, Robert Gibbons, James Hadfield, Edward Delger, Howard Carlson, and Crawford Gocher.

ROBERT L. HOLDEMAN, distinguished San Francisco artist, who will present the program at Tamalpais Centre Women's Club on Friday.

Distinguished Artist Giving Program, Tamalpais Center

The distinguished San Francisco artist, Robert L. Holdeman, will present the annual art program at the meeting of Tamalpais Centre Woman's Club on Friday. The artist has had a number of exhibitions and one-man shows. One at the Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco was widely acclaimed by the critics. Alexander Fried said "The watercolors and drawing by Robert Holdeman . . . are a first rate attraction. Whether Holdeman is working in romantic representational moods or quick sketchy abstractions, he puts forth a beautiful lyrical feeling. His mastery is both delicate and complete" Holdeman's art is variable. He shifts from style to style, choosing what is most expressive for the subject.

Holdeman was born in Nebraska in 1912 and came with his family to California in 1919. He studied art at Los Angeles City College and at the Chouinard Art Institute in Los Angeles. He has taught at the California School of Fine Arts and at the Artists' Cooperative.

The artist will be introduced at the 2 p. m. program by Mrs. Roland Becsey, first vice president. It will be preceded by a 1 p. m. business meeting with Mrs. William MacKay, president, presiding. The nominating committee will submit its report. The board meeting will also take place that day and is set for 11 a. m.

Friday is guest day and members may bring friends to the program and tea following. On the tea committee are Mrs. Clyde Lightbody, chairman, and Mesdames Esther McDonald, H. N. Mangels, Walter Hennings, and P. J. Roach.

Mayors Of Four Cities In Europe Meeting Tourists

Peggy Wilberg's motto "be more than a tourist, be a friend," has found a warm echo overseas. Letters from several mayors of European cities to whom she had written, asking if a friendly meeting between residents of those towns and her group might take place some evening at the travelers' hotel, have been answered and prove that people abroad are most eager to welcome Americans who show a friendly interest and curiosity.

Mayors of Lisbon, Madrid, Paris and Vienna have expressed their desire to cooperate and have arranged for meetings at their city halls. These cordial invitations suddenly posed a problem. Peggy thinks that her group should not appear with empty hands, and, after some deliberating, it was decided to take gifts along: The Information Please Almanac 1961, and handsome letter openers of redwood burl.

The U.S. Department of the Interior contributed a magnificent set of color pictures of U.S. national parks which Peggy will show, along with photos of all the beautiful and interesting spots in Marin County and views of cities in the country.

Mrs. Wilberg, who resides in Mill Valley, will leave with her friendship tour group on April 17 to visit 11 European countries.

Outdoor Art Club Section To Meet

Mrs. Frank L. Smith will review two books for the Outdoor Art Club's Literary Section tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. in the clubhouse, according to section chairman Mrs. J. H. Goulding.

The two books are "The Crookedest Railway in the World" by Graves and Wurm and "The Good Years" by Walter Lord.

At 2:30 p.m. Miss Lois Walker will show slides and comment on the pictures she took during her six months' tour last year through Europe and the Mediterranean countries.

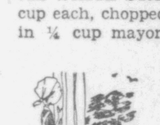
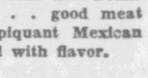
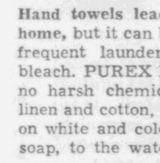
FUN WITH FOOD AND HELPFUL HINTS



"Progressive" dinner parties are fun for everyone and no strains on purse-strings. If you draw the main course, this casserole for 8 can be prepared in advance. Cook two 12-ounce packages GOLDEN GRAIN Egg Noodles. Stir in 2 cups each, sour cream, cottage cheese, chicken; 1 cup ripe olives, ½ cup chopped pimiento. At serving time, pop into the oven and heat.

A baby likes variety in his meals—a bite of meat, a taste of cereal, a spoonful of fruit or pudding. And now Mother need not worry about leftovers. GERBER Can Covers slip over opened GERBER tins, to provide a quick, safe seal for refrigerator storage. They are at food stores now, in sets of three and four (Junior or Strained) in brightly marked packages.





Gelatine salads are the smart woman's best party aid. If you want to make the last-minute chores even less weighty, add the help of REYNOLDS Wrap Aluminum Foil. Press strips of foil at intervals inside greased mold, with ends extending outside and pour salad over them. To serve, use the tabs to ease the salad from the mold; result, perfect!

Stew can be glorious eating, particularly at this time of year, with real Spring lamb available. Two rules for really good lamb stew: brown the meat thoroughly, on all sides, before covering to simmer. And use FRENCH'S herbs to enhance its good flavor. A touch of FRENCH'S Rosemary, Bay Leaf and Garlic Powder perform wonders for a lamb stew or roast.

★ Paper plates, used for sifting flour and such chores, save dishes.

Beautiful green asparagus deserves the best in sauce and garnish. Cook the plumy spears until crisp-tender (not a second longer) and keep warm on paper towels. Saute drained ROYAL TREAT Mushrooms in butter and pour over the asparagus. Sprinkle with buttered crumbs and paprika. Save the delicious juice from the ROYAL TREATS and add rich flavor to gravy.

April's the month for showers, and I don't mean rain! If you're the hostess serve this salad, sure to be the center of conversation. Soften 1 envelope gelatin in ½ cup water, dissolve in 1 can hot cream of asparagus soup. Cool: add 1 7-oz. can WHITE STAR Tuna, 1 Tb. lemon juice, ¼ cup each, chopped, celery, radish, pimiento. Stir in ¼ cup mayonnaise; chill until firm.

These first spring days make it hard to stay indoors. When the garden simply demands a full day's attention, or the children beg for an afternoon in the park, plan a Mexican dinner. VAN CAMP'S Chili Con Carne with Beans is always delightful food . . . good meat chopped and cooked with piquant Mexican spices, small red beans filled with flavor.

Hand towels lead a hard life in the average home, but it can be lengthened considerably by frequent laundering with the right kind of bleach. PUREX Liquid Bleach, which contains no harsh chemicals to break down fibers of linen and cotton, does a gentle but thorough job on white and colorfast towels. Add it, with the soap, to the water in your automatic washer.

That's all for now! See you next week! Bonnie Hubbard

Try Bonnie Hubbard's Instant Coffee in a rich cafe au lait some morning . . . use hot milk instead of water and sweeten as desired.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Groundbreaking Planned Soon For New Telephone Building

Very possibly the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. will see the breaking of ground for its new toll equipment center on Shaver Street, San Rafael, before the middle of the month.

The $2,400,000 building is scheduled for completion by late summer of 1962 and is part of the company's 300-million-dollar expenditure program throughout the state for 1961.

This is one of those cases where the benefits are too often overlooked or just taken for granted—in which an existing industry bears a chicken and egg relationship to the county's economy.

Its own expansion follows as a natural sequence of population growth with increased demands for more conveniences—and in turn provides some of the additional facilities which encourage still more growth and attract other industry.

Upon completion, immediate advantages will be experienced by Belvedere, Ignacio, Stinson Beach, Bolinas, Inverness, Nicasio and Point Reyes with direct distance dialing and it will also give more space in the Fourth and H Streets building for increasing local exchange requirements.

WHILE CONGRATULATIONS are being passed around, some are due the San Rafael office of York and Co., investment security counselors, that observed its second birthday last week—and to Jess J. France Jr., resident manager whose elevation to general partner in the firm has recently been announced.

The observance took the form of a luncheon at La Petite Auberge, attended by some 20 Marin community leaders.

Palmer York, youthful head of the firm and member of the board of governors of the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange, in commenting to the group on present trends in security prices said that the market is presently going through "its screwiest period" in the 15 years he has been following it closely.

He said he is suspicious of the high prices of many stocks right now, but added that "there are good buys—the trick is to find them."

LOWELL N. ROSS of San Rafael, northwest area sales representative for the microfilm products group of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. of St. Paul, Minn. has been named one of three 1961 winners of an annual microfilm sales award.

Ross was presented the Lens Award for leadership, enterprise and noteworthy salesmanship this week at the National Microfilm Association convention in Chicago.

THOMAS W. STARK of Redwood Factors, San Rafael — that business that helps other businesses with operating capital—has announced that the board of directors declared its first dividend to stockholders as of April 1. Checks are now in the mail.

Said Stark, "Our volume in 1960 showed a 100 per cent increase over the previous year. Prospects for 1961 look even better."

The firm is now in its fifth year of operation.

L. J. DERVIN FORD CO. of Novato has a couple of winners on its staff—Clifford (Buzz) Jackson and William Beedle, both of Novato—who have won Ford Motor Co. awards as top salesmen for the past year.

The average award winner sells $400,000 worth of automotive merchandise during a yearly period, a national company spokesman said.

All-America Ceremony To Be Held In Ross

Detailed plans for a ceremony of presentation of Marin County's "All-America City" award at 4 p.m. Sunday in the Art and Garden Center in Ross were announced today by the Marin County Real Estate Board and Marin Industrial Development Foundation, co-sponsors.

Receiving the award on behalf of citizens of the county will be Mrs. Norman B. Livermore, president of the Marin Conservation League.

The award will be given by representatives of the joint sponsors of the annual national contest in which Marin County this year was one of 11 winners, and the only county to be included with 10 cities.

George B. Leonard Jr., head of Look Magazine's San Francisco bureau, will serve together with Norris Nash of Kaiser Industries, Oakland, who will represent the National Municipal League of New York.

Fred F. Enemark, president of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, will preside over the ceremony, which will start after a half-hour concert by the 22nd Army Band from Fort Mason.

By authorization Monday of the Marin County Board of Supervisors the civic center model, which was shown as part of the contest presentation last fall in Phoenix, Ariz., will be on display. Other exhibits have been prepared by the National Park Service, the Marin Conservation League and the Marin County Redevelopment Agency.

Nitrogen is the fertilizer element most frequently needed by fruit crops.

Knock-Out Gas Plan Favored

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The California Assembly went on record yesterday in favor of a program of equipping U.S. armed forces with non-lethal "knockout gas" to use in police actions in underdeveloped countries.

The house voted 70-6 for a resolution asking the federal government to study the possibility of such a program.

Assemblyman Charles Conrad (R-Sherman Parks), author, called the development of non-poisonous gas "one of the most fantastic developments to come in recent years."

To Give Address

E. Dewart Lewis of the College of Marin in Kentfield, representing junior college English instructors, will address the 1961 Conference on English Composition at the Berkeley campus of the University of California on April 22.

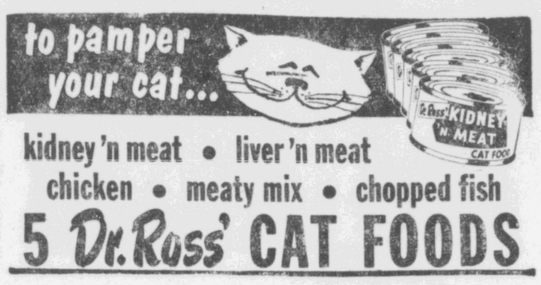
GRUNDY, Va. (AP)—Ed Pugh has a boulder in his bathroom. It is in his bedroom, too.

The boulder plunged down a mountain side and crashed through the roof between the bedroom and bathroom. No one was injured, but Pugh is wondering how to get rid of it. It's too big to go through a door.



County's Republicans To Accompany Nixon

California's top Republicans will accompany former Vice President Richard M. Nixon to Marin County Saturday.

Nixon will speak at a buffet luncheon at Rickey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio for all workers and contributors to last fall's presidential campaign. He will personally thank all who helped. More than a thousand party workers from Marin, Sonoma and Napa are expected to attend.

David Winslow of Tiburon is chairman of arrangements for the reception.

Accompanying Nixon will be Joseph Martin Jr., national committeeman; Mrs. Patricia Hitt, national committeewoman; Caspar W. Weinberger, vice chairman of the state central committee; Mrs. Ruth Watson, women's vice chairman of the state central committee; Miss Emily Pike, assistant secretary, and Assemblyman Don Mulford, assistant treasurer, state central committee.

Also in the party will be Mrs. Lucille Hosmer, president, California Federation of Republican Women; Pete Ashen, president, Young Republicans of California, and Robert Lindsay, president, California Republican Assembly.

Nixon will arrive tomorrow morning in the Bay Area, appear at a kickoff luncheon for the Cancer Society drive in San Francisco, then attend a welcome home reception sponsored by the San Francisco Republican County Central Committee and the Republican Coordinating Council.

He will attend the Republican Community Service Center opening Friday in San Francisco, and a reception Friday night in San Jose. The Marin luncheon will begin at 12:45 p.m. Saturday.

Tickets For Seniors' Outing Available Soon

Tickets for Marin Seniors' outing to Hamilton Air Force Base on May 4 will be available at the Marin Senior Assn. meeting at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo, chairman Manny Charnow announced today.

After a business meeting Saturday, refreshments will be served, followed by games.

100 YEARS

The INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL'S journey in the service of Marin County, from 1861 to 1961, has been a long one.

Marin County has grown and prospered during the past century and, in helping to build Marin, the I-J has also attained size and strength.

Now this newspaper is celebrating its 100th Anniversary. We invite everyone to join with us in celebrating this auspicious occasion.

Events of the celebration will include FOUR CENTENNIAL EDITIONS—March 18, March 25, April 1 and April 8.

We invite everyone to our OPEN HOUSE on April 7, with GUIDED TOURS of our plant from 7-9 P.M.

You will see one of the most modern newspaper publishing plants in the country, and receive with our compliments a 36-page booklet as a souvenir of the day.

Come one, come all—we await you with the WARMEST OF WELCOMES!

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

WILLIAM CLARK
"Childhood Scenes"

Junior Music Club Plans Piano Concert

Guest soloist at Marin Junior Music Club's meeting Saturday at 1 p.m. in College of Marin's Olney Hall will be William Clark of Corte Madera.

Concert pianist Clark is a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., and a graduate of the Julliard School of Music in New York.

"Kinderszensenen (Scenes from Childhood), selections from the German composer, Walter Schumann, will be the theme of Clark's presentation before the young Marin musicians.

Included in the club agenda will be a brief business meeting and election of officers for 1961-62. A new slate of officers will be submitted to the membership by Kris Kraft, president.

After the meeting, a dress rehearsal is scheduled for the tenth annual formal concert of Marin Junior Music Club, to be held April 30 in Olney Hall. Eugene Ramey, master of ceremonies for the projected concert, will brief the performers on concert technique and stage presence.

Playgrounds Have Special Events

With the advent of spring, track and field, softball and special events are being supervised at all San Rafael playgrounds, the San Rafael Parks and Recreation department announced today.

The weekly schedule of supervision is as follows: On Monday, Coleman and Sun Valley Schools; Tuesday, Hartzell and Short Schools; Wednesday, E Street and Hartzell Schools; Thursday, San Pedro and West End Schools; Friday, Laurel Dell and MacPhail Schools.

All areas are supervised from 3 to 5 p.m. by a recreational staff member. Albert Field is supervised Monday through Friday from 4 to 5 p.m. and on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Bank To Show Local Paintings

Paintings, showing the development of the young artist, will be displayed at the Sausalito Branch of the Bank of America, it was announced here today.

The bank has been showing paintings by local artists, but this new theme is to show the education of the artist. The first showing will be the works of Thad Thomas, who has been in the Bay Area since 1954.

Discussion about the education of the artist will be held at the Phyllis Heath Gallery at 7 Princess Street in Sausalito at 7 p.m. each Wednesday.

Sharpe Thief

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A discordant note was struck at a St. Louis department store by a strange woman who identified herself as a new department head, picked up a $378 payroll and signed a receipt with the phony name of "G. Sharpe."

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, April 5, the 95th day of the year with 270 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1827, Sir Joseph Lister, English surgeon and founder of modern antiseptic surgery was born.

In 1869, Daniel Bakeman, last survivor of the Revolutionary War, died in Freedom, N.Y., at the age of 109.

In 1951, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were sentenced to death as atom spies.

In 1955, Sir Winston Churchill resigned as prime minister of England.

In 1958, Cheryl Crane, 14-year-old daughter of actress Lana Turner, stabbed and killed her mother's boy friend, Johnny Stompanata.

A thought for today: Ralph Waldo Emerson said: "An institution is the lengthened shadow of one man."

Be Sure To Check On Summer Camp Before You Send Your Child There

It's time to choose summer camps for your youngsters. While good camps are wonderful, bad camps can be lethal. Let's take a look.

I've kept track of camp accidents for many years. Each summer a good many children lose their lives in badly run camps. There are almost no deaths at good camps. I wish I could give you a list of good camps, but I can't. I've examined the lists available and found some of the "approved" camps aren't entirely safe. You'll have to inspect the camps for yourself, and draw your own conclusions.

You'll find the better camps are popular. Some are filled up already. Don't send your son or daughter to any summer camp without first finding out the answers to these questions:

1. Is the director a trained, experienced camp executive? Amateurs usually make poor camp leaders, no matter how good their intentions may be.

2. Are the counselors and other workers carefully selected and given special training? Many camps hire run-of-the-mill teenagers without any preparation. Trouble follows.

3. Is the camp safe, and sanitary? Are there any roads running through it? Is the swimming pool fenced? Is a lifeguard employed? Are the toilets screened? Are the showers adequate?

4. Does the camp have a good safety and health record? How many children got sick last year? Were any campers drowned or killed riding horseback? Were any lives lost in falls from cliffs, or from trees? How many bones were broken? Beware of camps with bad records, no matter what explanations are given. Accidents and epidemics can be prevented.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Are the camps run by the nationally known organizations generally good? I'm thinking particularly of Scout camps, or YMCA camps."

N. V.

(A) National organizations set standards for their member camps. The places which live up to the standards are okay but I'm sorry to say that some camps do fall behind the national standards.

Pet Hospital Open House

The Tamalpais Pet Hospital will hold open house at its new location at 691 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, Saturday from 2 to 4 p.m. and be open for business at the new site Monday.

Dr. Henry P. Boyd, veterinarian, whose father, Dr. Robert Boyd, started the business in 1919 on Morningsun Avenue, announced today that he will open the new pet hospital in partnership with Dr. John K. Perry.

The building represents the latest ideas in veterinary hospitals, Dr. Boyd said, including a separate entrance for persons bringing dogs from those bringing cats to avoid hostilities. Inside "runs" have a solarium so dogs may be exercised with adequate light and ventilation.

Dr. Boyd, who took over his father's business in 1952, lives with his wife, Louise, and two children, Steven, 9, and Linda, 6, at 680 north San Pedro Road, San Rafael.

Dr. Perry, who has been in his own veterinarian practice for 20 years at Palo Alto, will move soon from Menlo Park to Tiburon.

The hospital was built by contractor A. A. Hemmerling and designed by architect Michael Wornum, both of Mill Valley.

Belvedere Annex Reports Ready

Copies of the report on annexation of a portion of Tiburon to Belvedere are available from William S. Johnstone, member of the annexation committee, at his Raccoon Straits maritime office.

Report copies are available at cost to interested peninsula residents and organizations, Johnstone said.

Johnstone emphasized that the report shows a 13-cent tax increase only for those Tiburon residents in the lighting and fire protection district. He said a public discussion meeting on the report will be held soon.

Raft Skipper Readies For Greatest Voyage

REDONDO BEACH (UPI)—The experienced skipper who led raft expeditions across the Pacific is ready for his most ambitious endeavor, an 18,000-mile drift from Arabia to Central America.

De Vere Baker's greatest achievement heretofore was in the summer of 1958 when he sailed the Lehi IV raft from here to Hawaii within three days of the two-month time scientsts estimated drifting currents would take him.

The bearded captain from Tremonton, Utah, sees the expedition as the fulfillment of a life's dream to prove that the earth's population was intermingled by drifting ocean currents.

After various tryout cruises with earlier rafts up and down the coast of California, Baker, 45, and a crew of three made their drift to Hawaii in the 12-ton, 12-by-28-foot Lehi IV.

Baker, a Mormon elder, was exultant at the success of the voyage which he convinced two shipbuilding companies in the San Francisco Bay area to finance. His objective is to substantiate a section of the Book of Mormon which says the prophet Lehi used the drifting method to get the lost tribes of Israel from the Red Sea to Central America.

He set about planning the Lehi V immediately, financing it by lecture tours, and in June will put into drydock to have the mast of the 20-by-40-foot craft stepped.

After that, a series of brief cruises off the California coast and Baker and his crew of scientists and doctors will be ready.

In July the Lehi will be lifted aboard a freighter and taken through the Panama Canal to New York, where the group plans several television appearances.

By late summer, Baker and his raft will leave for England, where he will spend the winter anchored in the Thames River. He expects to make personal appearances, showing films made on previous adventures.

In the spring of 1962, the Lehi will be towed across the North Sea for a tour of the Denmark-Norway-Sweden area before moving up the Rhine to spend the winter in Germany.

The actual climax of the wanderings will come in the early spring of 1964, when Baker and his crew will be dropped into the sea at Oman and start the drift that will carry them in stages to Bombay, Ceylon, Malaya, the Philippines and Japan.

From Japan the voyagers will make the big jump across the Pacific to Seattle, Wash., and the culmination of Baker's dream, a journey down the coast to Guatemala.

Baker claims possession of ancient records which show that such a voyage was made 2,600 years ago from Jerusalem to found a new civilization in Central America.

Air Lines Merger Is Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board formally approved yesterday a merger of United Air Lines and Capital Airlines.

The merged airline, to be known as United, will be the nation's largest.

The merger was arranged in part to satisfy action by a British firm, Vickers-Armstrongs, Ltd., to collect some 34 million dollars owed to it by Capital.

The merger approval followed disclosure by Northwest Airlines that its proposed plans to merge with Trans World Airlines have been dropped temporarily.

The CAB approved the United-Capital merger subject to rate-making, accounting and labor protective conditions and restrictions to protect local service carriers.

Rickenbacker Son Pleads Innocent

NEW YORK (AP)—A son of Capt. Edward V. Rickenbacker, World War I flying hero and board chairman of Eastern Air Lines, pleaded innocent yesterday to a charge of refusing to answer a 1960 census special questionnaire.

The son, William F. Rickenbacker, 33, contended the questionnaire, of a detailed type sent to every fourth household, was snoopy, a violation of privacy and unconstitutional.

U.S. Judge Charles M. Metzner released him on his own recognizance and scheduled May 4 for setting a trial date.

Residents Putting Building In Shape

Renovation of the Terra Linda Community Building got underway last weekend, James B. Schryver, a director of the Terra Linda Recreational District, reported today.

The district plans to have the work completed by May 1, he said.

Most of the project will be done as a do-it-yourself project by district residents. The building will be painted and windows repaired on weekends.

Volunteers may contact Schryver or other directors.

Belveron To Bait Against Earwigs

The Belveron Property Owners Assn. is planning earwig bait distribution day on April 15, according to president Lawrence A. Hamman.

Property owners in Belveron may call chairman William J. Gray to order earwig control bait.

At a recent association meeting, Robert J. Filiatreaux was appointed chairman of a "plant bank" committee for residents who desire plant slips from members' gardens.

Firemen To Meet

Tiburon volunteer firemen will meet today at 8 p.m. in the main fire station to discuss the newest techniques of heart massage in resuscitation, according to association president Allen A. Olson.

Macmillan Confers With Kennedy On NATO Policy

President Hopes Consultations Will Strengthen Allied Bonds

WASHINGTON (AP)—President John F. Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan conferred for two hours today on problems of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and ways of increasing Western cold war unity.

The two men met at the White House at 11 a.m. and broke off their session for lunch at 1:10 p.m.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger announced that two subjects were discussed: International finance and economic problems and NATO and correlation of Western policies. Kennedy regards his talks with Macmillan as the start of series of top-level Western consultations which he hopes will strengthen Allied cooperation in the face of Soviet threats and pressures.

NOTHING TO SAY

Salinger told the scores of newsmen from all over the world, who were crowded into the White House executive office lobby, that he had nothing to report except the topics discussed.

A fleet of limousines brought the British leader and his ranking foreign affairs advisers into the White House three minutes ahead of the scheduled start of three days of intensive policy discussions.

Macmillan had a helicopter ride last night from Andrews Air Force Base, where his plane landed, to the Naval Observatory grounds near the British Embassy.

LAOS PROBLEMS

Although many problems of cold war strategy were due to be considered, today's conversations were expected to concentrate on the rather complex British proposal for a Laotian cease-fire.

The British have received indications from the Soviets that Russia will accept the British plan for a verified cease-fire before the beginning of 14-nation talks on pacification of the troubled Asian nation.

Kennedy, leaving an administration policy conference at the State Department Tuesday night, said that "the cease-fire is what we are most anxious to have, and we are hopeful that . . . we'll have one."

THE HEAT IS STILL ON IN MARIN COUNTY

Marin County continued to enjoy skies and warm temperatures today. The weather is expected to remain that way for the rest of the week, said the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Temperatures dropped very slightly yesterday. San Anselmo recorded a high of 87; San Rafael, 85; Woodacre and Mill Valley, 82; Terra Linda, 81; Sausalito, 80, and Belvedere, a mere 75.

Judge To Quiz Finch Jury On Progress

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jurors mulling life or death sentences for Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff were to be asked late today for a progress report.

Superior Court Judge David Coleman made the announcement as the panel entered its 10th hour of deliberation with no indication of how it is doing. A quick decision had been expected.

SCIENTIST AND 'CO-WORKER' — Norman N. Goldstein, physiology teacher at Sir Francis Drake High School, is shown with "Henry," a skeleton with which he explains the facts of life to students. Goldstein has been named project director and awarded a $25,000 grant toward development of instruments for use in studying electrical energy of the human organs.

Big Science Grant For Drake Teacher

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

Fame in his chosen field came today to Norman N. Goldstein Jr. when he was named project director of a $25,000 grant by the National Science Foundation.

Goldstein, 36, an almost-lifelong resident of San Anselmo who teaches physiology at Sir Francis Drake High School, will use the money to develop new instruments and equipment for the study of electrical energy of nerves, muscles and the heart.

"The high cost of commercial equipment and instruments needed for these studies has made it necessary for high school and college teachers to touch on them only lightly, if at all," Goldstein said.

Result of the project, he said, will be circuit diagrams as well as instruction and textbooks on the construction and use of instruments which can be put together at low cost by high school teachers with a rudimentary knowledge of electronics.

"Having such equipment for the first time in high schools will make possible the detailed study of components of breathing, blood pressure, blood flow in limbs, blood oxygenation in vessels and movements of the heart," he predicted. He added that it would also make possible humane experiments on living animals—including students.

Apparently the National Science Foundation agreed with Goldstein's predictions, presented to the foundation several months ago in a 40-page brochure. The grant to the youthful teacher is one of the largest the foundation has ever awarded a secondary school and is the largest ever given by the foundation for development of laboratory equipment.

Working with Goldstein on the project, scheduled to begin in June, is Dr. James G. Callas of Santa Venetia, Kaiser Foundation Hospital pediatrician.

Special consultants to Goldstein and Dr. Callas will be Dr. John C. Bettinger of San Rafael, specialist in internal medicine and director of the cardiopulmonary laboratory at Marin General Hospital, and Dr. Robert D. Dunbar of San Rafael, neurological surgeon and professor at University of California medical school in San Francisco. Dr. Bettinger will assist on cardio-pulmonary function problems while Dr. Dunbar will advise on problems related to neuro-muscular physiology and neurology.

Three University of California professors will act as an advisory panel. They are Dr. Nello Pace and Dr. Robert Macey, professors of physiology, and Dr. Lester Reu-

PRIVATE FIRM RULED OUT

Supervisors Request Grand Jury To Make Juvenile Hall Survey

Marin County's board of supervisors yesterday asked the county grand jury to make a survey of juvenile hall.

Chairman William D. Fusselman said he got the idea because of other recent activities of the grand jury—such as recommending that the recorder not go to the civic center, and slapping the supervisors for their January stop-work order.

Administrator Alan Bruce had recommended that the supervisors hire a private firm to do the survey, a project generally approved by all concerned including Probation Officer Walter H. Busher.

A motion by Supervisor Walter R. Castro to follow Bruce's suggestion was defeated 3-2, with Supervisor William Gnoss voting with Castro. Gnoss then supported Fusselman's suggestion, which passed 4-1, with Castro voting "no."

"We have a county administrator and he should be the man authorized to hire consultants," said Castro. "We're abrogating our duties."

Busher appeared again before the supervisors asking two-month trial from May 1 of an increase in staff because of Juvenile Hall additions now near completion. He wanted two senior group supervisors, one group counselor and one senior stenographer-clerk for a total outlay of $3,416 and said sufficient funds were in the regular salary classification.

He was backed by Roy Michael of the probation committee.

"I'm confused," said Gnoss. "I think there's too many people but maybe I'm wrong so I favor having unbiased experts come in."

Bruce estimated that a national firm would survey the hall for from $500 to $4,000, depending on scope of study.

Bruce had also found that Marin County probation budget estimate works out at a ratio of .072 of a staff member to each child at the hall whereas the average for six other counties is .060.

Busher said he felt a survey would disclose need for the staffing he has asked. Everybody seemed ready to vote for Bruce to proceed, when Fusselman proposed that the board "ask the grand jury to procure some sort of investigation from an outside source."

"I don't think this is for the grand jury," Castro protested. "I feel a sense of responsibility."

"That's how I felt last January," said Fusselman, referring to the stop-work action at the civic center which he initiated.

"The grand jury sent us a

But U.S. Won't Drop Tibet, Hungary Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Russia dropped the U-2 and RB-47 plane incidents today but the United States declined to withdraw the question of Communist suppression of Hungary and Tibet from the United Nations agenda in return.

Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin told the General Assembly's main political committee that "under the new conditions" since President John F. Kennedy took office, it would not insist upon U.N. action against the United States for the flights of the planes.

The Soviet complaint put before the Assembly last year described the flights of the American U-2 plane that was downed over Russia last May and the RB-47 reconnaissance plane downed over the Barents Sea in July. The complaint described the incidents as "acts of aggression."

NO STRINGS, BUT

Zorin attached no strings to the withdrawal of the complaint from the General Assembly's agenda, but asked that debate on the Communist suppression of Hungary and Tibet also be canceled.

Zorin said Russia had decided to drop the complaint because it "has properly assessed the fact that one of the first steps of the new U.S. president, Mr. Kennedy, on his inauguration, was the issuing of an order prohibiting U.S. military planes from violating the air space of the Soviet Union."

RESERVES POSITION

Ambassador Charles W. Yost, deputy chief of the U.S. delegation, welcomed Zorin's announcement, but said the Hungarian and Tibetan items "do not, however, fall in precisely the same category." Yost said the United States would "reserve its position entirely as to the appropriateness and necessity of considering" Hungary and Tibet at this assembly session.

The Russian announcement came after a brief committee debate on a U.S. plan for economic development of Africa.

POLICE CHIEF POST

Tam Teen-Agers Tout For Terzich

Two hundred Tamalpais High School teen-agers have petitioned the City of Mill Valley to appoint Officer Dan Terzich as chief of police on retirement of James P. McGowan May 1.

The petition, delivered to the city hall, reads: "We the undersigned teen-agers respectfully request that you appoint Officer Dan Terzich to the position of chief of police of Mill Valley. We all are students at Tamalpais High School.

'NICEST THINGS'

Said Terzich today: "This is one of the nicest things that ever happened to me."

The petition was started by Bill Kott, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Kott of 11 Forest Avenue, Mill Valley. He said Terzich has been trying to get recreation for youth and "we'd rather see him get the job than anyone else on the force."

Terzich, according to John George, dean of boys at Tam high, attends practically all athletic events at the school and even follows the Tam team to games in other cities. He served as an umpire of school baseball games for two years. Each year, students present him with a yearbook because of his interest in the high school.

ONE OF FIVE

Terzich was one of five candidates who passed a written examination for the chief of police job on March 25 — the only one of the five who is a Marin resident, City Manager A. E. Almcrants disclosed today.

Oral examinations for the five are to be given April 15 at the Mill Valley City Hall by a board composed of Jordan L. Martinelli, retiring Marin Superior Court judge; Leigh Brilliant, Walnut Creek police chief, and Gordon A. Harrison, a Mill Valley engineer. Almcrants will make the appointment from among three candidates recommended by the board.

Terzich, 54, has been on the Mill Valley police force since 1953. He earlier served as a San Quentin Prison guard, a Marin County deputy sheriff, was a

Heavy, Heavy Hangs Over Council Head

The Sausalito City Council was warned last night that the ceiling over its head might cave in with the heavy load of books from the library above.

Former Mayor Alan H. Scurfield sounded the alarm. "Life and limbs of youngsters using the library are in danger" to say nothing of the councilmen below, he declared.

Scurfield brought up the subject during discussion of a planning commission proposal that city offices be located in a civic center on the sandspit, and following Mrs. Charles E. Finney's declaration that "the police station has to go out of here."

Scurfield pointed to a bulge in the ceiling above Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich's head. "See the floor up there!" he said. It's coming through."

Fred Perry Jr. proposed the fire marshall survey the building for fire hazards.

"A flash fire in these old buildings could cause a terrific hazard," he said. "Haste makes waste and wait makes waste."

The council moved unanimously to ask City Engineer John L. Hunter to survey the stability of the library floor and, in a second motion, to ask a report on the safety of the building from the fire marshal.

Barber Files Appeal In Murder Conviction

WOODLAND (AP)—A former San Rafael barber convicted of first degree murder filed a handwritten notice of appeal with Yolo County Superior Court yesterday.

Elwood J. Williams, now at the Vacaville State Hospital, was sentenced to life imprisonment March 28 in the shooting death of his wife, Holly, Nov. 19, in Davis.

Tractor Kills Ex-Marinite In San Jose

Thomas J. Bates, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Bates of 16 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera, was killed yesterday while working on a construction job near San Jose.

Bates was employed as a soils engineer by a construction firm starting a new subdivision. He was kneeling on the ground when an earth-moving tractor ran over him, Santa Clara County sheriff's officers reported.

The tractor driver, Donald N. Rodoni of Saratoga, said he did not see Bates in the tractor's path.

Bates attended Larkspur-Corte Madera School, Marin Catholic High School and College of Marin. Since his graduation last year from San Jose State College, he had made his home in Saratoga with his wife, Diana. Their son, Thomas Jr., is 4 years old.

Bates was a veteran of four years Navy service and served during the Korean War. He was born in Corte Madera.

Survivors also include a brother, Harold J. Bates Jr. of Marinwood; and two sisters, Mrs. Rosemary Carroll of Eureka and Mrs. Patricia Rossoni of Pinole.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Irish Troops Take Over Elisabethville Airport

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—Irish troops took control of Elisabethville airport today. A U.N. source reported President Moise Tshombe has backed down from his threatening anti-U.N. position.

The U.N. military chief in the Congo, Gen. Sean McKeown of Ireland, warned Tshombe that Indian troops would be brought into Elisabethville if there were further attempts to interfere with U.N. operations at the airport, the source reported.

An advance guard of the Irish U.N. troops was flown into Elisabethville early today to hold the airport until the arrival of Indian Gurkhas. Secessionist strongman Tshombe opposes the dispatch of Indian troops to his province.

The airport guard of Swedish U.N. troops, attacked yesterday by a rampaging mob incited by Tshombe, retired to their camp on the outskirts of Elisabethville as the Irish took over.

General McKeown had a two-hour meeting with Tshombe at the presidential residence. The U.N. informant said Tshombe agreed to rescind all sanctions he had ordered against U.N. personnel.

The source added that the U.N. force would continue to operate in Katanga, alongside Katanga authorities.

Floating Command Post For U.S. In Atom War Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—Kennedy administration concern for insuring the survival and unbroken control by the U. S. military leadership in event of a nuclear attack has raised the possibility that a command post might be established afloat.

Mentioned in speculation about such a possible seagoing command post are the nuclear cruiser Long Beach, the Northampton, a command ship for the Atlantic Fleet, and the giant nuclear submarine Triton.

In his budget message to Congress, President John F. Kennedy asked for 16 million dollars in new contract authority to be used for "invulnerable and continuous command posts and communications centers."

He said these "are only the beginning of a major but absolutely vital effort to achieve a truly unified, nationwide, indestructible system to insure high-level command, communications and control and a properly authorized response under any conditions."

Kennedy didn't go into detail, but it is known Pentagon studies now under way are considering the possibility of floating command posts to which U. S. leaders might retreat if land command centers were knocked out, or threatened with destruction.

Vice Adm. John T. Hayward, deputy chief of naval operations for development, told Congress recently the Navy's major research and development effort in this area is "on a command control ship which will provide high command—the data processing equipment, displays and communications essential to effective control of naval, unified or combined military forces."

By high command, Hayward said he meant a major fleet commander or unified force commander, possibly even the Joint Chiefs of Staff or the president.

The 14,000-ton Long Beach, now at the Bethlehem Steel Co. shipyard in Quincy, Mass., is due to be commissioned Sept. 1. Powered by two nuclear reactors, the 721-foot ship will be manned by 800 men and officers and will be armed with anti-aircraft missiles and rocket torpedoes. It also will be equipped with the most advanced electronic tactical control system.

The Northampton, designed originally as a cruiser, now is flagship of the Atlantic Fleet and is classed officially as a tactical command vessel.

It is 677 feet long and displaces 17,200 tons. Recently the conventionally powered Northampton was equipped with improved helicopter landing facilities and better communications equipment.

Not long ago, the Navy decided to redesignate the 5,900-ton Triton an attack submarine, instead of a radar picket craft.

Last year, the Triton sailed around the world under water. This demonstrated an ability that might be useful in a command ship trying to direct U. S. forces while remaining out of reach of enemies seeking to destroy it.

Step Ahead By GOP Seen In St. Louis

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republican National Chairman Thruston B. Morton said today that the vote rolled up by the losing GOP candidate in the St. Louis mayoralty election was "a great forward stride toward future victories."

Morton issued a statement noting that the Republican total was a 100 per cent gain over the 1957 polling.

In yesterday's election, Democratic incumbent Raymond R. Tucker received 101,601 votes in defeating Republican Ben H. Lindenbusch who polled 59,469 votes. In 1957, Morton pointed out, the Republican candidate received 30,816 votes.

"This is a highly significant accomplishment in our long-range program to whittle down the monolithic Democratic vote in the big cities," he said. "While we did not select St. Louis as a test city we did use this election as the scene of redoubled big city effort. The result is most gratifying and indicates what we can accomplish in the future if we really get down to more and more united effort."

Morton said the Republicans knew they could not win the St. Louis election. "But we did believe we could make a great forward stride toward future victories," he said. "This we have done even beyond our expectations."

Runoff Apparent In Texas Vote

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Republican John G. Tower, who campaigned against President John F. Kennedy's New Frontier, and Sen. William A. Blakley, who ran as a conservative Democrat, appeared headed for a runoff today in Texas' special U.S. Senate race.

Thousands of votes remained to be counted in yesterday's contest but the Texas Election Bureau said that if the trend continues Tower, 35, and Blakley, 62, will face each other in a runoff.

The last tabulation showed Democratic Rep. Jim Wright close behind Blakley. Wright campaigned as a moderate.

The election is to fill the Senate seat vacated when Lyndon B. Johnson resigned to become vice president.

Late returns from the election bureau showed Tower leading the field of 70 candidates with 321,686 votes, Blakley second with 186,666, and Wright 166,776.

Under Texas election law a candidate must poll a majority to be elected. Otherwise the two top men must face each other in a runoff. The runoff is set tentatively for June 3.

Tower seeks to be the first Republican elected to the U.S. Senate from Texas since Reconstruction days.

The names of 71 candidates appeared on the ballot. One candidate died before the election. Six withdrew too late to have their names removed.

Only six of the candidates polled many votes. Besides the leading three the others were Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, 48, a moderate, and liberals State Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez, 44, of San Antonio, and Maury Maverick, 40, of San Antonio.

Junior College Money Proposals Are Argued

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—Bills to provide additional state funds for operation of California junior colleges took their first faltering steps through the legislature yesterday.

For nearly two and one-half hours proponents of four different methods of providing more state aid argued the merits of their plans before a subcommittee of the education committee. Finally, at 6 p.m., chairman Richard T. Hanna (D-Fullerton) said he had to leave. This effectively ended the session without any sort of a vote being taken.

There was little testimony on the bills from other than the experts. A Marin contingent of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy, president of the College of Marin trustees, Kent O. Seymour, a member of the board, and Dr. Stephen E. Epler, director of the college, did not get a chance to testify. However, Dr. Epler filed a statement with the committee urging passage of AB 1848 by Assemblyman Carl A. Britschgi (R-Redwood City).

This bill, Dr. Epler said, would increase state aid to junior colleges from 28 per cent to 33 per cent. Its provisions "distribute state support to junior colleges on the basis of need, giving more support per student to junior colleges with less assessed valuation per student."

Dr. Wallace W. Hall, associate state superintendent of public instruction and former Marin County schools superintendent, compared the provisions for junior colleges in AB 1848, AB 1000 and AB 2285, the latter two by Gordon H. Winton Jr. (D-Merced). He did not discuss AB 70 by Lou Cusanovich (R-Van Nuys) which provides the state would pay all costs of junior college students who would have gone to college or university if the state master plan for higher education had not designated junior colleges to take over these 50,000 new students in the next 10 years.

Cusanovich had decided to drop his bill and told Chairman Hanna to "put it at the bottom of the box." But another committee member, John L. E. Collier (R-Los Angeles), insisted on debating the bill.

Dr. Hall said AB 1000, the general school financing bill of the state Department of Education, would grant approximately the same over-all additional aid to the junior colleges as AB 1848, about $5,600,000. The two bills differ in methods of figuring the school's share.

AB 2285 would add $900,000 more than these two, according to the legislative auditor.

No one even tried to guess where the additional money was coming from. Winton mentioned it saying.

The bills go before the whole education committee later this week.

Scout Paper Drive Slated In Mill Valley

There will be a paper drive Saturday in Mill Valley by Boy Scouts to raise money for the upkeep of Mill Valley Scout hall.

Persons may either place papers in bundles of about 25 pounds on their curbs between 8 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Saturday or bring them to the Mill Valley Firehouse any time Friday and up to 2:30 p.m. Saturday, Lowell F. Jett, chairman, said.

DUMPED AT POLLS

Flamboyant Illinois Mayor Loses

AURORA, Ill (UPI) — Paul Egan, whose eight years of public conflicts made him one of the nation's better known mayors, was beaten by a margin of more than two-to-one yesterday in his bid for re-election.

Egan polled 6,994 votes to 15,177 for his opponent and the new mayor, Jay L. Hunter, 69, a retired high school principal.

During his two terms as mayor, Egan battled local officials, business leaders and leading citizens.

Egan, 68, was drawing $27.50 weekly unemployment compensation when he won election to his first term as mayor in 1953. He warred against merchants and factory owners who, he said, drove his weekly newspaper out of business.

He fought against officialdom, and sometimes landed in jail. He fired and hired several police chiefs, and once tried to fire his entire police force.

Poulson To Face L.A. Runoff Test

LOS ANGELES (UPI)— Mayor Norris Poulson, seeking his third four-year term, failed to Garner the needed 50.01 per cent of the vote over seven opponents in yesterday's municipal primary election and must face the test of a runoff in the May 31 general election.

Final semi-official election returns with all 4,712 precincts complete showed Poulson with 179,273 votes. Former Congressman Sam W. Yorty was closest to him with 122,478 votes, meaning they will meet in the runoff.

None of the other five candidates was in contention. A ninth name appeared on the ballot but the candidate withdrew before voting time.

Blood Bank Coming

The mobile unit of the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank will be at Marin General Hospital between 9 and 11:45 a.m. Friday, Mrs. Kenneth Denman, chairman of the Marin County blood reserve program, announced.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Tobacco Mogul Wed

ATLANTA (UPI) — Tobacco millionaire R. J. Reynolds, 55, honeymooned on his private island off the Georgia coast with wife number 4 today.

Reynolds announced his marriage on the high seas to Dr. Annemarie Schmitt, 31, of Karlsruhe, Germany, in a statement distributed yesterday by a public relations firm here.

They were married aboard the Holland American line ship Rotterdam in the South China Sea March 15—the day circuit judge Henry Durrance ruled at Claxton, Ga., that Mrs. Muriel Marston Reynolds of Toronto, Ont., was not entitled to a new trial in her divorce from the cigarette king.

'Fish' Cookies

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall held a luncheon yesterday and fed his guests cookies made of "fish flour," which could change the lives of millions in the world's underdeveloped areas.

"Fish flour," or animal protein concentrate, could change a situation in which more than two-thirds of the world's population suffers from a protein deficiency, he said.

The department said the United States, using only one species of fish, could supply 100 million persons with one ounce of the concentrate daily for a year.

Radar Trap

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UPI)—Prof. Lawrence Langer, 47, Indiana University physicist who helped develop radar, was caught in a radar speed trap and fined for driving 40 miles an hour in a 30 m.p.h. zone.

Air Mishaps Kill 4

RIVERSIDE (UPI)—Four persons flying in two planes were killed yesterday when the light craft collided over a heavily populated residential district.

One plane plunged into a parked car and exploded. Flames engulfed both the plane and the empty auto. Wreckage of the other plane fell in the back yard of a home, shearing telephone and power lines.

Tanker Explosion

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Two explosions set the 4,200-ton tanker Kuanglung afire today. Eight Chinese crewmen were killed and 33 injured.

Snowslides Kill 23

TOKYO (AP)—Heavy rains set off two separate snowslides on the northern island of Hokkaido today, killing 23 workers building an electric power dam, and injuring 11. Another 11 men were missing.

Odd Sheep

CHURCHVILLE, Va. (AP)—W. W. Ashby, Augusta county farmer, has one of the oddest flocks of sheep in the country. They were captured in 1958 on an island off the North Carolina coast and are thought to be survivors of a ship wreck. Ashby says they have extremely small bones and can run like deer.

Two Released

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI)—Two American businessmen, held incommunicado by the Cuban government since March 24 when their private plane was forced down in Havana, said today they were questioned only once before their release.

Linden Blue, 24, of Denver, Colo., and Donald Swenson, 36, an American citizen who resides in Toronto, Canada, arrived in Miami last night. Each lost about 10 pounds during the 11-day jail stay, in which they were held without charge.

Cooley Charged

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) — The district attorney's office was expected to issue a formal murder charge today against one-time cowboy singing star Don (Spade) Cooley in the beating death of his estranged wife.

Sheriff's deputies booked the 50-year-old former radio and TV performer on a murder charge yesterday, saying his 14-year-old daughter watched in horror Monday night as he beat Ella Mae Cooley, 37.

An autopsy showed Mrs. Cooley, who once sang for Cooley when he had a western band, died either of a ruptured aorta suffered from abdominal blows or a ruptured thyroid gland brought about by choking.

Deportee Hunted

GUATEMALA (AP) — Carlos Marcello, New Orleans underworld chieftain deported from the United States, today faced arrest or deportation again if Guatemalan immigration officials can catch him.

Marcello arrived here yesterday aboard a U.S. border patrol plane and promptly disappeared in company with Col. Antonio Batres, second in command of the Guatemalan air force.

Immigration officials waiting for Marcello were left empty-handed when his plane landed at a military airport. They angrily vowed to hunt him down.

Oil Wells Damaged

LONG BEACH (AP)—Authorities say an earthquake 10 miles beneath Los Angeles - Long Beach harbors knocked out 25 producing oil wells and damage may total millions of dollars.

A subterranean slip was blamed. No surface damage was reported.

The quake, at 1:30 p.m. yesterday, at first was believed to have been of no consequence.

Clash In Angola

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Twelve soldiers were killed and seven wounded yesterday in a battle with natives in Portugal's West African colony of Angola, the news agency Lusitania said today.

Portugal's soldiers have been mopping up native bands in Angola since an outbreak of anti-white violence last month.

Senegal Assured

DAKAR, Senegal (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson assured Premier Mamadou Dia today the United States will help finance Senegal's four-year economic plan.

Johnson and Dia told newsmen a technical assistance agreement between Senegal and the United States will be signed soon.

Actress Divorced

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress-model Suzy Parker was divorced in Paris March 21 from writer Pierre de la Salle, her American lawyer has revealed. De la Salle, 34, didn't contest the suit, which charged incompatibility, attorney Paul O'Dwyer said yesterday.

Havana Says U.S. Cruiser Fired At Cuban Airplane

HAVANA (UPI) — Acting foreign minister Carlos Olivares charged early today a U.S. cruiser fired anti-aircraft guns at a Cuban plane two weeks ago near Imias in eastern Cuba.

Cuban authorities got Swiss Ambassador Walter Bossi out of bed before dawn to deliver a note from Olivares denouncing what he called the "aggressive attitude" of U.S. forces in Cuban waters.

The note, replying to yesterday's U.S. protest against Cuban efforts to seize the American cable schooner Western Union, cited the cruiser's alleged March 23 attack as a sample of "grave . . . provocative . . . criminal activity" by ships from the U.S. Navy's Guantanamo base.

It said nothing to indicate the plane was hit or that anyone was insured in the alleged attack. It did not indicate what type of plane was involved or what it was doing in the vicinity of the cruiser.

Olivares's note also charged that U.S. planes violated Cuba's air space 49 times between Feb. 15 and March 15.

Olivares denounced the U.S. protest as a "smokescreen . . . to hide five (unspecified) transgressions of the most elemental standards of international law."

The note said the U.S. Navy's rescue of the Western Union was "an aggression or at least a provocation by U.S. armed forces."

The note charged that the cable vessel was two miles offshore Friday when it was seized by a Cuban patrol boat, which fled when the U.S. destroyer James W. Weeks arrived to "survey the situation."

The captain of the Western Union says his ship was seven to eight miles from the coast, well outside the three-mile limit, when it was seized.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Child Care Deductions Allowed Up To A Point

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

You can deduct up to $600 for the care of your children to enable you to work, if you qualify.

This can be deducted only if it is for the care of your child or stepchild under 12 years of age; or for the care of any other dependent for whom you are entitled to an exemption who is mentally or physically incapable of caring for himself.

Peter J. Wikel

The expense must be paid and it cannot be paid to an individual for whom you claim a dependency exemption.

You can make this deduction provided the cost is for you to earn a living or to enable you to look for work.

If you work only part of the day and pay for child care for all the day, then you can deduct only the part that corresponds to the time you were working.

If the person who receives the payment does work other than child care, the payment is allowed only for that part that is child care.

The deduction is allowed only to women and to widowers. Widowers include men who are divorced or legally separated and have not remarried.

Also, a married woman can deduct her child care expense only if she and her husband file a joint return and together earn less than $4,500 per year. If they earn over $4,500 per year, then the deduction is reduced by the amount earned over the $4,500.

If they earn over $5,100, then there is no deduction. This does not apply if the taxpayer's husband is incapable of self-support because he is mentally or physically defective.

Four Teachers Hired For Tam Schools

Four new teachers were hired Monday night by Tamalpais Union High School District trustees.

They are Duane A. Bailey, 25, 121 Brookside Drive, San Anselmo, who will teach physical education at Redwood High School; Gerald M. Lucey, 30, San Francisco, who will teach English and social studies at Sir Francis Drake High School; Beatrice Gruen, 22, San Francisco, who will teach German at Drake, and Edward B. McClellan, 31, now studying in New Mexico, who will teach mathematics at Tamalpais High.

In other action, the trustees:

1. Accepted the resignation of Harold Andersen, Redwood high mathematics teacher.

2. Accepted a request from Mrs. Harriet Crabb, assistant girls' principal at Drake high, that her resignation, offered earlier, be withdrawn. Mrs. Crabb said her family would not be moving from the area as planned.

3. Contracted with the American Seating Co. for 16 science benches for Drake high at cost to the district of $2,775. Remainder of the cost will be supplied by federal funds.

4. Announced the board would hold its next meeting on April 25, canceling the regularly scheduled April 17 meeting. Votes in the April 18 election will be canvassed at the meeting.

5. Heard a report on "how counselors are chosen," by five of the district counselors.

Alcoholism Set For Radio Panel

Alcoholism and how the Marin County chapters of Al-Anon and Al-Ateen can help the families of alcoholics will be discussed on the "Marin Sounding Board" at 9 a.m. tomorrow on radio station KTIM.

Three members of the Al-Anon chapter, a member of Al-teen and a member of Alcoholics Anonymous will be the guests of moderator Kitty Oppenheimer.

The program will be rebroadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m. Listeners may submit questions for the Thursday broadcast.

Cove Open House

A Cove Players Workshop open house with a lecture-discussion on dramatic speech, stagecraft and vocal interpretation will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Bel Aire School multi-purpose room. The seminar is open to the public.

2,000 Bridge Players Due In San Rafael

Some 2,000 bridge players from all parts of California will seek prizes and points at the annual Marin County Sectional Championship which will open Friday afternoon at Bermuda Palms, San Rafael.

L. Severt Gaustad, president of the Marin Unit of American Contract Bridge League, announced the three-day tournament is open to all players, regardless of skill.

Friday and Saturday sessions will begin at 1:30 and 8 p.m. On Sunday, starting times are 1 and 7 p.m. In addition to the masters and regular events, special junior games are scheduled each day for the novice players.

President Gaustad and his committee are making final plans to handle the big crowds expected for the weekend. Committeemen include James Carbaugh of Fairfax, vice president; Eva Reed of San Rafael, secretary; Kenner Foote of Fairfax, treasurer; and Lura Crossley of Greenbrae, editor of Marin Bridge News.

Ray Oakley of Sacramento is tournament director.

Indoor Sports To Be Guests

Members of the Indoor Sports Club of Marin will be guests of the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club tonight at the last dress rehearsal of the "Rhubarb Revue of 1961."

In the traditional affair, indoor sports, people who are physically handicapped, are escorted to the clubhouse on Maple Street at Shoreline Highway by cast members.

The show opens its run Friday at 8:30 p.m. and will be open Saturday and the following two weekends. Reservations may be made through Charlotte Monteleone of 309 Starling Court, Mill Valley.

Statewide Testing In Schools Debated

By DOROTHY SIMPERS

A proposal for statewide testing in all California public schools was praised and sharply criticized last night at the College of Marin.

Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, president emeritus of University of California, declared that with standardized ability and achievement tests, tailored to "meet the needs" of every school district, each school board "should be able to evaluate the schools in the district and stimulate their improvement."

Mrs. Lynn Thompson, educational consultant of the League of Women Voters, charged that statewide testing would result in "little more than teaching to tests and breed a valueless kind of competition among schools."

Sproul and Mrs. Thompson debated the subject of statewide testing before the Marin County School Board Assn. Both served on the 27-member citizen advisory commission which submitted a report and recommendations on education to the legislature last November. Mrs. Thompson was one of four members opposed to the statewide testing proposal; Sproul was in the majority.

The recommendation for mandatory periodic testing in all school systems was a "hotly debated issue," Sproul said.

Purpose would be to provide each school district with a yardstick to evaluate the effectiveness of its program.

His vote for the proposal represented his approval of testing by itself, rather than a particular testing pattern, he said.

The educator declared that "bigger and better planning" for schools is imperative if public education is to cope with problems generated by the population explosion and the "extension of the universe."

Mrs. Thompson urged a "far more positive" approach to getting good schools than a system of statewide testing.

The effort, time and money would be better spent by the local districts in providing better teachers, she said. She stressed the importance of knowing how to teach, especially in elementary grades, and the need for giving teachers the best materials and guides.

To say that mandatory testing would have the effect of raising academic standards is "fallacious reasoning," Mrs. Thompson said.

She opposed writing into the educational code detailed and specific curriculum requirements. Creativity and individuality would be inhibited, as would high quality, she charged.

The local superintendent and district should have flexibility in building a program, Mrs. Thompson said.

She said she had no quarrel with tests in the proper places, to identify talent or do various kinds of evaluation.

Mrs. Thompson questioned the validity of statewide tests if they did not consider "individual differences." She also asked whether teachers would not be tempted to teach to the lower group in order to bring up the average. This would be to the detriment of the better students, she contended.

Both speakers agreed that the commission had said the legislature should tell the state board of education it should conduct tests. The commission did not leave it up to the legislature, they said.

A testing bill introduced by Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton Jr. (D-Merced) has been stalled in the Assembly education committee. Another bill also has been proposed by Assemblyman Charles B. Garrigus (D-Fresno).

A member of the audience asked whether the commission was going to "attempt to educate Mr. Garrigus" since the commission didn't make the recommendations Garrigus assumes.

Sproul replied that the commission had gone out of existence, "but I'm going to attempt to educate Mr. Garrigus."

Miracle Mile Legal Fight Nearly Settled

The 10-year legal fight over the Miracle Mile, which started with a quarter-million-dollar claim, may be settled for $10,000 to $12,000.

San Anselmo City Atty. John G. Buresh reported last night that heirs of Highland Realty Co., which claims interest in the Miracle Mile, are willing to settle for about $6,000 each from San Anselmo and San Rafael. The San Anselmo City Council authorized Buresh to get together with San Rafael and negotiate for settlement on that basis.

The question of ownership of the old railroad right-of-way between San Rafael and San Anselmo has been argued up and down in the state courts since 1951.

San Anselmo councilmen also discussed the proposed expansion of Kaufman's department store on San Anselmo Avenue. Mozard Kaufman wants to build to the rear of his store, over the creek, to provide a rear access from the Greyhound Bus Depot area.

City fathers approved the expansion but pointed out this does not obligate the city to acquire the bus depot property. Also, Kaufman must provide steps or ramp to meet the city street grade when and if the city puts in a street in the bus depot area.

The city attorney announced that he would compile a draft of the corrections made thus far on the new city zoning ordinance. Councilmen last year started a paragraph-by-paragraph reading of the old zoning ordinance to make revisions. They hope to complete the revision this year.

An audit of city books, conducted last week by a San Francisco firm, is completed, but the results are not known as yet, City Administrator Douglas Flautt reported. A report on the three-day audit is expected at next Tuesday's meeting.

KENNEDY WON'T TAKE ROCKING CHAIR TO PARIS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said today he knows of no plans for President John F. Kennedy to pack along his rocking chair when he visits France late next month.

"I'm sure there will be plenty of rockers available in France," Salinger said with a laugh.

He commented in response to a newsman who said a number of reports had been published in France to the effect that Kennedy would be bringing the rocker which had been prescribed for him by his personal physician for office-type exercise.

Scout Tax Exemption Up For Final Passage

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—A bill to grant sales and use tax exemption to Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and other non-profit boy and girl organizations selling candy and other confectionery neared passage in the State Assembly today on its way to the governor's desk.

The bill, SB 294 by Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael), had been passed earlier by the Senate and Assembly committees.

Another McCarthy bill, SB 213 which would regulate billboards along county-designated scenic highways, was amended in committee yesterday and will be given a hearing again before the Assembly Governmental Efficiency and Economy Committee in two weeks.

McCarthy changed the bill himself to tighten some of the regulations which had been relaxed by earlier Senate amendment. One would reduce the distance a billboard could be located away from a commercial structure. It had been 500 feet, was increased to 1,000 feet, and the new amendment would make it the lesser distance again. The distance, he said, has become a point of controversy for both opponents and proponents of the bill.

The Marin senator has become co-author of two other pieces of legislation dealing with state parks. He joined Sen. Carl L. Christensen (D-Eureka) in proposing that the State Department of Natural Resources can not acquire property for a state park in a county without first getting permission from the county board of supervisors (SB 1060).

Christiansen, McCarthy and other senators also sponsored a bill (SB 1091(which would reimburse counties for loss of revenue on land taken for state park and beach purposes, similar to the method used when property is taken for state forest purposes.

McCarthy also introduced two new bills of his own. One (SB 1962) would establish that dispensing opticians and optometrists who have offices in retail stores continuously offering more than 50 per cent of their merchandise at discount prices, shall be deemed to be offering his services under the representation that his fees are at a discount too.

The second bill (SB 1061) sets up minimum requirements for facilities and staff of a state-licensed school of cosmotology.

Army Graduate

Army Pvt. Lincoln Edward Borba, 19, son of San Rafael Police Inspector Lincoln M. Borba, was graduated as the outstanding student in his class at the Army Ordnance School at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md., last week. He was assigned to the Presidio in San Francisco.

11 Property Owners Win Sewers Battle

Eleven owners of Shoreline properties between Mill Valley's Miller Avenue and Tamalpais Valley Junction yesterday won a long battle for sewers without payment of connection fees.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors finally approved a contract with this stipulation between Almonte Sanitary District, where the Shoreliners have paid fees for 10 years without getting service, and Kay Park Sewer Maintenance District. The vote was 3-1 with Chairman William D. Fusselman abstaining. Supervisor Walter R. Castro opposed.

Considerably riled by Fusselman's doubts as to the propriety of the proposal, Deputy County Counsel Robert A. Smallman laid it on the line that everything was proper, declaring, "If it weren't legal I wouldn't have drawn it up."

Asst. Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell gave a blackboard demonstration showing that because they are in the Almonte area, the Shoreline property owners have paid about $3,000 to the Almonte district over the past decade without getting anything for it.

"If they have paid $3,000, somehow the money should be found to pay the (connection) fee (to Kay Park)," said Fusselman.

A proposed contract, rejected by the Shoreliners, had called for connection fees they said would run to around $900 each.

A consideration in the fee-free contract accepted is that the property owners must pay for constructing a $12,000 line to tie in with the Kay Park line, with treatment by the Mill Valley plant.

Public Works Director, Marvin W. Brigham contended that the Shoreliners sought "a free ride," as connection fees are in lieu of initial payment for plant.

He opposed Smallman's contention that the proposed contract without fees would solve a long-standing problem and provide "the only way to get rid of a health hazard."

"There are other ways," insisted Brigham.

Supervisor J. Walter Blair moved acceptance. Castro opposed on a basis of past experience on district boards during which he said no such exception had been made. Fusselman said he had no objection if the ordinance weren't being violated.

The supervisors also:

1. Accepted bid of Bank of America for $85,000 in Novato Unified School District bonds, 1957, series D, at 3.94643 per cent interest; and bid of First Western bank, San Francisco, for $315,000 in 1960 series A bonds of the Novato district with 3.90809 per cent interest.
2. Approved a motion of Supervisor Blair that bids for the county petroleum supplies (to be submitted both as package deal and separately for gasoline, diesel fuel and lubricants) be submitted to the board unopened.
3. Reappointed Alton Lerch as member of the Marin County Housing Administration, and confirmed Fusselman's reappointment of Dr. William Upton and George Scott as members of the planning commission.
4. Granted permission for Tiburon Tommie's Pier 41 restaurant in Tiburon to enlarge, conditional on providing 14 parking spaces at all times and an additional 31 after regular working hours.
5. Postponed until next week consideration of an opinion by county counsel on a proposed agreement between the state and Bel Air Flood Control Zone, involving a drainage facility apparently in conflict with a planned community development.

Novato Planning Session Tonight

The last of a series of citizens' informational meetings on Novato city planning will be held tonight, with discussion of streets and highways scheduled.

The public meeting will begin at 8 o'clock in the Novato High School cafeteria.

The almost 60 citizens who form eight committees studying a master plan for the city are expected to have their advisory reports before the city planning commission by June 1. The reports will be used in drawing up a master plan for the year-old city to replace the present county-drawn plan.

Wrong Town

CALUMET, Mich. (AP) — A trailer truck driver didn't learn until he stopped at state police headquarters here that the one-time mining community of Fulton, now a tiny village in Upper Michigan, was not his destination.

The driver, transporting four tractors from Iowa, had passed Fulton, Mich., in the lower peninsula, because it wasn't listed in his map index.

The error took him 600 miles out of his way.

BILLY GRAHAM ON THE BEACH

Evangelist Billy Graham preaches to an audience of vacationing students near the beach at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. He called his audience "rebels without a cause," saying "everyone is searching for a flag to follow. I say we are looking for Christ." He drew a cheer when he said, "The older generation forgets sometimes that they were once young, too." This was a reference to riots in the student spring vacation resort last week. Most students have left town and returned to classes, but yesterday when Graham spoke, there still were about 10,000 students in town. (AP Wirephoto)

OVER ROAD FUND

Mayor McInnis, Fusselman Fume

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis arrived yesterday in the air-conditioned comfort of the county supervisors' chambers only to become red-hot within the next few seconds.

Supervisor Chairman William D. Fusselman greeted the mayor with a charge that McInnis had come to "make a deal" and that he was "not keeping faith" with his fellow-mayors of Marin.

McInnis had sent ahead a note in which he suggested consultation on "expenditure of city and county moneys available to San Rafael area for mutual benefit."

He developed later he wanted to discuss county improvement of the portion of San Pedro Road which runs through unincorporated lands.

Flushing deeply, McInnis retorted to Fusselman's attack:

"Have I ever come to you and asked that you make a deal?"

"Of course you haven't," said Fusselman, "but your letter did."

"I resent this!" cried McInnis. "We were to coordinate. Do you and I want to fight right now?"

"You were the spokesman for the 10 cities and none was to appear individually," retorted Fusselman.

McInnis pulled himself under control and though observing that "this is a poor way to generate a discussion," embarked on explanation including past history for benefit of two new board members.

He said that as spokesman for all Marin cities he dealt with possible outlay of county money within cities on arterial streets of county interest. But yesterday, he had come to talk of county money spent on county sections of San Pedro Road.

"We in San Rafael are desperately concerned with our Third Street which becomes San Pedro Road," he said, recalling a past plan of joint improvement.

City and county started by appropriating $50,000 a year each toward improvement of the street. McInnis said that in two years $200,000 had thus accumulated of which $170,000 to $175,000 is available after deducting costs of aerial survey and minor expenditures.

"We now have all property required for right of way within the city and we're ready to go, starting from the fire station at Union Street and building eastward," said McInnis.

"We are prepared to throw our money in the pot with yours to get this job along. So we would ask if you will put in another $50,000 from the county—we will do the same from the city—to spend on county areas."

After long discussion the supervisors agreed to go out and have a look. Assistant Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell reported that $95,100 is available in the county fund earmarked for the job.

Two Districts Seek Accord On Students

Superintendents of the Novato Unified and San Rafael High School districts have agreed to ask trustee approval of an inter-district agreement for some high school students from the San Jose School District.

The agreement, if approved, would mean that ninth grade students residing in the San Jose district could attend either Novato High School or San Rafael High School for the school year beginning next September.

Normally, San Jose students would attend San Rafael high, since the San Jose elementary district is in the San Rafael high school district. Many San Jose parents have objected, primarily because of the distance between homes and San Rafael. Novato High School is closer to homes in the San Jose district.

Superintendents agreed to this first move at a meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Michael V. Doran, chairman of a citizens committee seeking merger of the Novato and San Jose districts.

But superintendents W. J. J. Smith of Novato and Frank L. Lucas of San Rafael agreed that before any decision could be made by their boards of trustees, an opinion poll on unification should be taken.

Smith is expected to ask trustee approval of an unofficial unification opinion poll in the Novato district. If this poll is approved by trustees and then proves favorable, the San Rafael district would institute a poll of residents in the San Jose district, Lucas agreed.

The county committee on school district organization tonight will hold the first of a series of three meetings on unification, which ultimately is expected to come to a vote for a third time in both districts. In two previous elections,

Maltreating Of Captives Laid To Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. government today accused Cuba's Castro regime of maltreating U.S. citizens held in Cuban jails.

The State Department said officials are not giving enough food and medicine to the Americans — and also are stopping U.S. gift foods and medicines from reaching the prisoners.

About 22 U.S. citizens are reported to be in Cuban prisons under various sentences.

The jails are already overcrowded with Cubans imprisoned by the pro-Communist Castro government.

Sausalito Undecided On Cove Lots Ruling

The City of Sausalito is not ready to give up the fight for underwater Shelter Cove lots, despite an adverse court ruling.

The city council last night instructed City Atty. John B. Ehlen to prepare a recommendation on its future action after written findings of fact in the case of Reagan vs. Sausalito are filed by Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin Superior Court.

On Monday, Judge Sims found in favor of Russell S. Reagan of 1 Edwards Avenue, Sausalito, who had sued to prevent city purchase of the lots from Walter L. Benson for $63,000. The judge ruled the city must either rescind the purchase or submit the matter to referendum.

Declared Ehlen last night: "I don't think the transaction was illegal . . . The litigation has no foundation except, perhaps, malice."

Later, Ehlen said he would give the council his opinion on whether the city should (1) ask a new trial, (2) carry the case to a higher court, or (3) abide by Judge Sim's ruling.

Ehlen also told the council that the litigation does not pertain to the council's agreement with Benson to purchase other underwater lots at the foot of Richardson Street.

[illegible], in the audience, said: "If it goes to the people to vote, I think now is the time to define where our waterfront is. Let's start buying the other water lots and try to preserve the waterfront."

"Amen," said Ehlen.

President Named By U.S. Chamber

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard Wagner, 64, who rose from a $5-a-week bank runner to board chairman of Champlin Oil and Refining Co., today was named president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

The Chicagoan will take office May 2. His election by the chamber's board of directors is for one year.

Wagner, who is both chairman and chief executive officer of the Chicago oil firm, has a reputation in business circles as an articulate advocate of tax reform.

MARIN'S STATE FAIR DISPLAY—Against a background of redwoods and Marin plants, the Marin County exhibit at this year's state fair will feature color transparencies, illuminated from behind, and a relief map of the county. The board of supervisors unanimously endorsed previous approval by its state fair committee of the exhibit, originated and presented yesterday by Henry Cole.

Assessor Promotions Go By The Board

Two promotions asked by County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel failed of approval by the county board of supervisors yesterday in a sequence declared by Broemmel to constitute a reversal of established personnel policy.

The board refused both to follow a finance committee recommendation to deny, or to back a move to approve. Broemmel was sent away finally with a promise that his case would be heard again at budget time.

"This isn't just a matter of better work and step increase but of professional qualifications for a different job," said Broemmel. "It will leave everybody wondering just what is personnel policy of the county today."

Broemmel was asking not step increase but range changes—promotions. They would increase the monthly pay of Raymond Ogata from $420 to $483, and of Earl Snowden from $555 to $581.

It was noted in Snowden's case that a step increase in the same salary range would give equivalent pay hike and at one point it seemed this might be managed. Broemmel said today that he had avoided such a move as a matter of principle.

When the promotions came before the board, Supervisor J. Walter Blair reported his finance committee disapproved. It also disapproved a step increase for Arnold Katz, deputy probation officer, which would have put him up from $483 to $506. Some time ago Katz was involved in an overtime claim which the board pared down as excessive and he has threatened to sue for the difference. In his case the board promptly backed the finance committee's turndown.

Broemmel was called in and lost no time in making the point that Ogata and Snowden had been trained to fill greater responsibilities, had passed tests. Under comparable circumstances four others had been given similar promotions last year, he said.

"In recruiting for the appraisal field," he said, "it is difficult if not impossible to get qualified people at the beginning level of pay. We found that the solution, though not the most desirable, is to train. In effect we run a training school from which five have quit to take positions at greater salaries.

"We pay a trainee wage until the man proves capable of filling a full-fledged appraiser's job. Companies will hire such men without previous experience at salaries $30 to $40 more than we hire junior appraisers.

"This is entirely different from raising step levels if work is satisfactory. This involves different jobs. We should not penalize people who qualify, just because they have been with us."

After long discussion, Blair moved denial.

Said Broemmel: "If a policy departure is being made from the pattern set up, the board should make that clear to personnel . . . Morale is going to deteriorate."

Chairman William D. Fusselman suggested the possibility of making a special step increase and said he would vote to move Snowden from fourth to fifth step, a suggestion approved by Supervisor William Gnoss.

At this point Fusselman called for a second to the Blair motion but failed to receive any, so it died, to be followed by a counter-motion by Supervisor Walter R. Castro asking approval of the promotions.

Gnoss seconded but this motion failed by 2-3 vote.

"You're too eager on this," Fusselman told Broemmel. "I agree you have a problem and recognize your sincerity but ask that we consider the whole problem again as of July 1."

"I feel very bad over Ogata particularly," said Broemmel. "His four colleagues made the grade last fall and now I've got to tell him there has been a change of policy."

"You could fire him and hire him again at the new level," suggested Supervisor George Ludy.

"You couldn't get confirmation under the circumstances," said Fusselman.

Debate Challenger Hurled On Bonds

Tom McDougall, candidate for Tamalpais Union High School District trustee and opponent of the district's proposed three-million-dollar bond issue, today announced he has challenged Edward W. Colthurst, bond campaign chairman, to debate the bonds "any time, any place."

"I think it appropriate that the chairman of the loyal opposition and the chairman of the bond committee should publicly debate the issue," said McDougall, who is chairman of a committee opposing the bonds. "The debate would be strictly on the issue and with no personalities whatever."

Colthurst said he would consider McDougall's challenge and reply within a few days.

Potted Plants Stolen

Jackson Suares, manager of the Jackson Beauty Salon at 80 Throckmorton Avenue, Mill Valley, reported to police this morning that four potted plants and two Easter display boxes had been taken from the sidewalk in front of his store during the night.

'TRAMPOLINE' CAN'T BE USED AS TRADEMARK

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The word "trampoline" is in the public domain and cannot be exclusively appropriated for trademark use, a U.S. district court ruled today.

Nissen Trampoline Co. of Cedar Rapids had sought an injunction and damages from the American Trampoline Co. of Jefferson, alleging unfair competition, trademark infringement and patent infringement.

American Trampoline filed a counterclaim, asking that the trademark "trampoline" be found invalid and seeking $175,000.

Judge Roy Stephenson held the word "trampoline" is in general use and can be used by any firm.

Lobby Bill Will Get More Study

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Assembly today changed its mind about eliminating stiff penalties from California's lobby control law.

The lower house voted 71-1 to return a bill by Assemblyman Myron Frew (D-Dinuba) to committee for further study. The measure would have substituted a $1,000 fine for heavy penalties placed in the law after a fight over lobbyist activities 10 years ago.

Previously, the Assembly voted 48-16 to reconsider the bill.

The house had passed the bill by a 62-15 vote Monday, but the reconsideration motion was made.

Board Passes Exhibit Plan For State Fair

Marin County will be represented at this year's state fair by a landscape-and-picture exhibit bigger and, the board of supervisors believes, better than last year.

The board yesterday unanimously approved a design by San Rafael landscape architect Henry Cole, after Administrator Alan Bruce had reported unanimous approbation by the committee in charge.

"The committee was very favorably impressed," said Bruce. So was the board after Cole produced his sketch and described it.

Another favorable impression was created when Assistant Auditor-Controller said it would be in order to spend county fair fund money, of which there was $2,800 available.

Overall cost of everything connected with the 32 by 18-foot proposed exhibit was set at $3,500, with a chance of getting $1,600 back as first prize and a minimum prospect of $1,000.

Cole said that against a background of redwoods and Marin plants streamers would hang down to be gathered at a shield behind a row of five color transparencies of Marin scenes illuminated from behind. Projecting at the left side would be the revolving platform used for last year's exhibit, intended this year to contain a relief map of Marin County.

It was suggested that exhibit might be made at San Quentin Prison, but Chairman William D. Fusselman said, "I don't think the people at San Quentin are much impressed by Marin's beauty. A number of students might built it as a project."

Reed Hopefuls Tell Views On Schools

More than 100 persons turned out last night to hear four Reed hopeful candidates for three positions on the Reed Union School District board give their thoughts on grade school education.

The candidates agreed that elementary school is for intellectual training, and that the finest teachers possible should be attracted and retained.

Incumbents Richard J. MacLaury, Mrs. Alyce Farkas and Leo Souza described the need for broadening and "enrichment" of the curriculum, with Souza adding that the district's new superintendent (not yet selected) should be versed in public relations as well as curriculum development.

HIGHER SALARIES

Trustee aspirant Marilyn C. Steinau recommended higher teacher salaries.

Trustee Edward Drechsel was moderator.

Trustees agreed that "in theory unification of school districts, if financially feasible, would be a good idea," but Souza said "being a realist, the principle is good but it will be a problem to make it a fact."

None of the four had any idea on the use of teaching machines instead of personnel. Only Mrs. Steinau tackled the question of what are frills and what are necessities in the school.

ACADEMIC ELECTIVES

Questions included how many academic electives should be offered in the seventh and eighth grades, what would be expected in characteristics of the new superintendent, and whether the candidates believe in uniform statewide testing similar to that in New York.

Supt. Chester G. Carlisle of Tamalpais High School District spoke to urge passage of the April 18 three million-dollar school bond issue in the high school district. "This is the fastest, cheapest and best way to increase the size of our present schools to take care of the expected 5,078 enrollment in 1962-63," he said.

Nine of the 11 candidates for the four seats on the high school board also spoke.

Trees To Sprout At Lootens', A

San Rafael's Fourth Street between Lootens and A Streets will boast a row of trees on its south side within 10 days, Joe Petersen, chairman of the tree planting committee, yesterday told the San Rafael Beautiful Committee.

Merchants are being asked to contribute $1.25 per lineal foot to buy the concrete planters and the trees.

Petersen said 95 per cent of the merchants are cooperating in the movement. He estimated it would take six months to get the trees planted.

LULL IN LARKSPUR

Attendance Scant As Candidates Speak

A scant two dozen Larkspur School District voters showed up last night at a school board candidates' night to hear nine board aspirants discuss three election issues.

The three questions dealt with unification of school districts, crowding of classrooms and the challenge that board members lean too much on "professional" administrators.

Four trustee seats are to be filled in the April 18 election. There is no other issue on the district ballot.

Incumbent members of the board seeking re-election are John W. Boyd, Pauline Secor, Jack L. Mengel and John R. Cunningham, all of whom more or less defended present board actions. Five challengers are Donald Fox, C. H. (Chuck) Pendleton, Donald F. De Voto, Herbert J. L. Baum and Curtis P. Kamai.

On unification, the candidates said:

Cunningham: "All of us who have served on the county committee on unification know the advantages are there, but some old districts feel self-sufficient."

Mengel: "We (on the county committee) have not engaged in a study of unification of this district because it is not large enough."

Boyd: "Unification is not easy."

Pendleton: "I will study unification. Our schools cost enough."

Fox: "I would like to approach the Kentfield district on the question of unification. Taxes would not go down, but services would go up. Anyone not for unification should not vote for me."

Kamai: "Unification is coming. Marin County now supports 29 little school 'kingdoms'."

Saltiest critic of the present board accomplishments was Pendleton, who said there is something wrong when graduates of schools have to be "literally taught to read and write on the job."

Pendleton has opposed the board in recent meetings on the trustees' right to discuss matters not on the published agenda. "I intend to challenge all items not clearly defined in the budget," he declared.

On teacher-pupil ratio in the classrooms, Pendleton said one teacher to 50 children is not uncommon in parochial schools. "I feel primarily that we load our teachers with too much clerical work," he said.

Boyd said the way to avoid crowded classrooms is to plan ahead. "However," he reminded the audience, "we are not allowed, as borrowers from the state, to buy property for schools until the need is actually there."

On leadership of board members and their reliance on the administrators for leadership, Mrs. Secor said she felt that "strife is apt to be damaging. I feel the board should follow the leadership of the superintendent, principals and department heads."

Pendleton accused the present board of neglect because of "indoctrination in the harmonious aspects of boardsmanship."

The meeting, held at the Neil Cummins School, was chaired by Bud Cole, Corte Madera town councilman.

Three of the four winning candidates will serve four-year terms, the fourth a two-year term. Winners will draw lots for the short term.

'Sausalito Future' Talks Scheduled

A series of five talks on "The Future of Sausalito—As I see it," will be presented by the Sausalito Rotary Club, the first being given at tomorrow's noon luncheon meeting at the Alta Mira Hotel by Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr.

Other speakers will be Clyde Kilian, Frank Bosl and Halsey Lyon, April 13; Luther W. Conover, Stuart Rose and Harold Puharich, April 20; Charles Ritzinger, George Elkington, Rob Rose, April 27. A summary will be made May 4 by A. Leonard Bjorklund Jr.

Alert Issued For Suspect In Embezzling

Marin County sheriff's inspectors today spread a nationwide alert for a Marinwood businessman, suspected of embezzling $3,000 in company finds and fleeing the county.

An arrest warrant with $5,000 bail was issued today for James Stuart Page, 40, of 285 Johnstone Drive, Marinwood. Page worked as liaison man for the Appliance Professional Assn., with headquarters in Los Angeles, which is an organization of appliance dealers.

Inspector William C. Bradley said Page operated out of his Marinwood home, signing up new members for the association, collecting their dues and membership fees. Page suddenly packed his belongings, his wife and one child, and vanished last Thursday. He took all the company records with him.

Everett Clyde Barbour of Oakland, chairman of the northern regional board of the association, and William Alex Shirley of San Mateo, secretary of the association, told the inspector they cannot be sure of the exact amount embezzled until they check with each association member in Northern California.

"The best estimate so far is about $3,000," said Inspector Bradley.

Page had been working for the company since last November, taking a commission for each new member he added to the association.

He was behind $400 in rent at his Marinwood home, according to the landlord, John Maloney of 397 Nova Albion Way, Terra Linda.

The five Rangeley lakes in Maine are known as Cupsuptic, Umbagog, Mooselookmeguntic, Mollechunkamunk and Welokennebacook.

ORLANDO

VOTE FOR CONTI

FOR SAN RAFAEL CITY COUNCIL

Street & Traffic Problems

Orlando Conti Says:

Now how about Third or San Pedro Road widening between Irwin Street to McNears beach. This has been a subject for many, many years, but all it gets to is the talking stage and at this rate it will take another 10 to 15 years to get something done.

What about the bottle-neck on First Street between D and E? It has been there many, many years, but nothing has been done. Why?

What about First Street between B and Irwin Street, is this another highway program? No it is not.

Let's stop installing stop and go signs up all over. Let's make some very careful study on this before we do.

What about Irwin Street between Woodland Street and Second or First Street? No curbs and gutters, lots of traffic, also a lot of foot traffic and no sidewalks. What are we doing about it—nothing.

What about Third Street extention between E and Second? This is another dream. We need it, let's get it done, let's not have anymore talk let's have some action.

These are some of the things we need and there are many, many more. Land was cheaper, and the cost was cheaper in the past, the cost of both are getting higher and higher, so how long and how much more costly is this going to be if we keep putting it off.

These programs have nothing to do with the present Highway 101 program. Let's get something done, let's stop the talk and start the action.

Tough Dope Bill Passes In Senate

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Final agreement is near in the legislature on a program of stiffer penalties for narcotics violators.

The Senate yesterday passed 36-0 and sent to the Assembly a bill by Edwin J. Regan (D-Weaverville), which cracks down on peddlers and users.

The Assembly earlier in the session passed a measure by Clayton A. Dills (D-Gardena), very similar to the Regan bill.

Now, all that remains to be done is to get the two houses to agree on minor differences and send the bill to Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who already has expressed his support for the Regan version.

As approved by the Senate, the Regan bill provides for longer prison terms and no probation on second or subsequent offenses for most narcotics violations.

It does grant judges the right to grant probation on first offenses except on sale of a hard narcotic by an adult to a minor. In that case, the offender must serve a sentence of 10 years to life with parole allowed after a minimum of five years has been served.

The Dills bill is almost the same as the Regan measure but would permit probation to be granted in all first-offense cases.

There are 68 land-grant colleges and universities in the U. S.

Trading Stamps Measure Dies

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill allowing customers to ask for a cash discount instead of trading stamps died in the legislature yesterday at the hand of its author.

Assemblyman Ronald B. Cameron (D-Whittier) asked members of the Assembly Committee on Government Efficiency and Economy to put his measure out for study with an interim committee.

He said that he had listened to arguments opposing his bill from representatives of stamp companies and had found them "without merit."

But he also said that he had polled committee members and found himself without the necessary six votes to get his bill to the floor.

Legislature Due License Fee Measure

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The only tax increase proposal with a chance for passage was ready for introduction today in the legislature.

Sen. Randolph Collier (D-Yreka), chairman of the powerful Senate Transportation Committee, was having the bill drafted and said he expected to introduce it in the next couple of days.

The increase would hit owners of California's 8,569,295 registered vehicles square in the pocketbook to the tune of 78 million dollars a year to help finance construction of 100,194 miles of city streets and county roads in the next 20 years.

In effect, it would raise the average license fee on cars to $23.55 on a typical car worth $785 (a four-year-old, low-priced popular model.) However, owners of newer, more expensive models would be hit with as much as $30 a year over present fees.

If the proposed increase in the in lieu tax—collected by state but shared between cities and counties—passes both legislative houses, the lawmakers would be passing the buck back to city councils and county boards of supervisors to make the tax hike stick.

The local option feature of Collier's proposal yesterday received the support of spokesmen for both kinds of local government who would use the additional revenue.

Demos To Meet

Liquor Store Squabble Uncorked In Tiburon

A petition containing several hundred names has been forwarded to the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board protesting the opening of an off-sale liquor store on Tiburon Boulevard.

The store, which is being constructed by Tiburon property owner Fred G. Zelinsky for lease, is next to the Corner Market grocery store owned and operated by Fred Mantegani.

Mantegani was instrumental in the petition's circulation, and referred to the bill now pending before the state senate prohibiting one liquor store from being built within 200 feet of another.

"We have four package liquor stores within one square mile in Tiburon . . . we are saturated," Mantegani said. "We also have four bars and will have five when Zelinsky opens his new restaurant."

Mantegani's store is one of the four selling liquor.

"I gave Mantegani 35 days in which to decide if he would like to run the store in conjunction with his own. I certainly feel that this is quite unfair," Zelinsky said.

Tam Cafeteria Burglarized

Tamalpais High School officials took inventory at the school cafeteria this morning to determine how much was stolen in a midnight burglary.

Ellis Coale, night watchman, called the sheriff about midnight to report the cafeteria was open and candy lay all over the floor and hallway.

Sheriff's deputies said the thief had forced a window next to the cafeteria door.

Yesterday afternoon, a 16-year-old Marin City boy admitted stealing $5 in cash from the boys' locker room. John George, dean of boys, reported the thief returned the cash to the owner, Raoul Bozio, another Tam High student. The locker thief was booked at Marin Juvenile Hall on a petty theft charge.

kema, professor of electrical engineering.

Goldstein, taking a leave of absence from one-half of his normal teaching time, will be paid by foundation funds to make up his fulltime salary. Dr. Callas, as well as the other consultants, will be paid for their time.

The National Science Foundation is a branch of the federal government devoted to support of basic research and supplying scholarships.

"In spite of all the corny jokes about government spending, they don't throw our money around carelessly," Goldstein said with some awe.

Goldstein, whose month-old son is appropriately named Grant, moved to Marin County from San Francisco when he was about 8 years old.

His elementary school years were spent at the Main School, now the Wade Thomas School, in San Anselmo. He was graduated from Tamalpais High School in 1942 and holds bachelor and master of arts degrees in physiology and philosophy from University of California.

He and his family live at 174 Meadowcroft Avenue in San Anselmo. Mr. and Mrs. Goldstein also have a son of 20 months, Aaron.

His teaching experience, prior to the past three years at Drake, includes Mount Diablo High School in Concord and Lassen High School in Susanville.

"I could have carried out the project at the University of California, but I wanted to do the actual work at my own school," Goldstein said. "I want my students to work with me."

"As the grand jury is the legally constituted body to investigate the affairs of government I think it would be perfectly proper for this matter."

"I kind of like that grand jury idea," mused Blair and put it in the form of a motion.

"Looking a little dazed, Busher asked "What about the interim?"

Fusselman asked when actual occupancy of the new quarters was expected. Busher said "May 15." Fusselman said that gave "ample time."

Castro said it would take time to screen applicants and moved that Busher be allowed to go ahead, putting in extra staff when extra space created the need. This passed 4-0, with Blair abstaining.

Busher in conclusion asked if a deadline could not be set for the grand jury to report.

"You don't give deadlines to a grand jury," replied Fusselman.

Bids Are Called For Sewer Lines

Corte Madera Sanitary District directors last night called for bids on construction of a portion of an interceptor sewer and a trunk sewer along Tamalpais Drive and a force main near Lakeside Drive.

Bids must be in the district offices at 500 Tamalpais Drive prior to 3 p.m., April 28. They will be opened at 7:30 p.m. May 2, at the directors' regular meeting.

Funds for construction of the lines will come from the $900,000 bond issue approved by district voters last May.

Board Votes Hospital Plan Additions

Marin County Hospital District directors last night recommended construction of six of nine additives to the 116-bed addition to Marin General Hospital.

According to the recommendation, a coffee shop, laundry ventilating system, additional laundry equipment, partial installation of a pneumatic tube system and an elevator will be added.

A low base bid of $1,972,000 was submitted March 28 by Barrett Brothers Construction Co. of San Francisco. No contract will be awarded until the bids have been approved by the State Bureau of Hospitals, but must be made within 30 days of the bid opening, according to W. W. Turner, administrator. Nine bids were submitted.

The remaining three additives not recommended for immediate construction were additional parking facilities, storage rooms and completion of the pneumatic tube system.

Turner reported to the board that 1,705 patients were admitted to the hospital during the three-month period ending Feb. 28. Four hundred thirty-six babies were born during the same period, Turner said.

Eurekan Hired As Sausalito's Public Works Chief

Michael T. McGovern, a 25-year-old Eurekan, will start work Monday in the newly created position of Sausalito supervisor of public works, City Manager Charles A. Brown told the city council last night.

McGovern has been traffic engineer, assistant city engineer, supervisor of construction contracts and designer of sanitary and storm sewers for the city of Eureka for two years, said Brown.

In Sausalito, he will be responsible for engineering problems as well as public works maintenance projects, Brown said. About one-third of his time will be spent on street superintendent duties, formerly performed by Paul Lowe, who retired last Oct. 1, as street superintendent. His salary will be $580 per month.

McGovern, who is married, plans to move his family to Marin soon, Brown said.

3 Burglaries Are Reported

Three burglaries were reported yesterday to San Rafael police.

Someone entered the office of Pyramid Plywood Co. at 650 Irwin Street between 2 and 3 p.m. while the office girl was gone, and took $93 from the cash box, Ray M. Newgard of 277 Irwin Street, proprietor, told police.

A rear window at the John Robert Powers School at 1000 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, was found open about 10:30 p.m. by police. The school had been closed at 9:30 p.m., according to Millie Cameron of 83-B Park Street, manager. Nothing was reported missing.

A petty cash box containing an unknown amount of money was taken from the Knoles and Co. office at 96 Woodland Avenue. Entry was gained by breaking a window at the sheet metal company, police said. Samuel S. Knowles Jr. of 3 Brookside Drive, San Anselmo said nothing but the cash box appeared to be missing.

Larkspur Zoning Report Planned

The first report on revision of the Larkspur zoning ordinance will be given the city council tonight at 8 o'clock by Councilman Lesly A. Daveler.

City Manager Ronald E. Piper will report on the titles to four lots on West Baltimore Avenue which are owned by the city and have been considered for sale. A public hearing will be set on a proposed professional and administrative zoning for recently annexed property between Bon Air Bridge and Marin General Hospital. The zoning has the approval of the planning commission.

A public hearing will also be set on proposed adoption of the uniform fire code.

The council meets at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

Sausalitan Named Aide In Peace Corps

Tom Mathews of Sausalito, reporter on the San Francisco Chronicle for the past nine years, has been named assistant director of public information of the Peace Corps.

Mathews, 39, who lives at 148 Harrison Avenue, took over his new duties yesterday in Washington, and will be joined by his wife, Bonnie, and three youngsters in June at the end of the school year.

A graduate of the University of Utah in 1943, Mathews worked seven years on the Salt Lake Tribune at Salt Lake City, becoming Sunday editor.

He handled public relations for Edmund G. (Pat) Brown in 1948 when Brown ran for governor, and held a like position in 1959 for George Christopher when Christopher ran for mayor of San Francisco. He was co-director on the state water bond campaign last year.

His son, Tom Jr., 17, is a freshman at Princeton University. Son Colin, 13, and daughter Anne, 6, are students at Marin Country Day School.

Elks Lodge Will Install Tomorrow

William Grant will be installed tomorrow night as exalted ruler of San Rafael Elks Lodge 1108 at a dinner meeting in the Elks Club.

Other officers to be installed include: Carl Clark, esteemed leading knight; Clyde Jones esteemed loyal knight; James Fahrner, esteemed lecturing knight; Albert Gately, esquire; Felix Eichler, tiler; Frank Ench, trustee for five years; Fred Schroers, secretary; John Lethbridge, treasurer and Arthur McDevitt, alternate to the Grand Lodge convention.

Dinner at 7 p.m. will be followed by the installation.

OBITUARIES

Laos Crash Victim's Rites Set

A Requiem Mass for Francis P. Corrigan of Larkspur, who was killed Friday in a plane crash in Laos, will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Saturday in St. Patrick's Church, Larkspur.

The cortege will form at the Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo. Interment will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Friday at the Chapel of the Hills.

A Navy guard of honor will attend the services. Corrigan was a Navy lieutenant in World War II. He was a U.S. Information Service attache in Laos at the time of his death.

The body was to arrive in San Francisco late today, Corrigan's brother, William, a Mill Valley attorney, said.

William Corrigan said his brother's wife, Flora Mae, will remain in Laos for probably another two weeks while adoption proceedings are completed for a 23-month-old Laotian girl, Katrina.

Services for Corrigan have been held in Bangkok and in Laos.

RUSSELL WARDEN

Russell G. Warden, 53, until recently a lifetime resident of Marin County, died Monday in San Francisco after a long illness.

Warden was born in San Rafael and graduated from San Rafael High School. He attended the University of California and later became a certified public accountant. For 28 years he had been employed by and at the time of his death was the executive manager of the Grant Investment Co. of San Francisco. He was also a director of the First National Bank of San Jose.

He had moved from his home in Larkspur to San Francisco a few months ago. He had spent his entire life until then in San Rafael and Larkspur.

He is survived by his wife, Honey (Zola) S. Warden, a sister, Mrs. Florence Boitano of Fairfax and a brother, George E. Warden of Novato.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Carew and English Chapel, Masonic at Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco. Inurnment will be private.

JOHN SCHROEDER

John H. Schroeder Sr., 75, of Orange Cove, Fresno County, a former San Rafael resident, died yesterday in a Stockton hospital after three years illness.

He is survived by his wife, Lydia Schroeder; two sons, John H. Schroeder of San Anselmo and Harold A. Schroeder of Orange Grove; two daughters, Mrs. Lorena Arbini of San Anselmo and Mrs. Luella Laremore of San Francisco, six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

He formerly worked for R. C. Briggs and Leibert and Trobock contractors in San Rafael. He was a member of Carpenters Union Local 35 of San Rafael.

Schroeder was a native of Nebraska. The family moved to Orange Cove from San Rafael after he became ill.

Funeral services will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Interment will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

Understanding Unit To Hold Birthday Fete

Dr. Daniel W. Fry, founder and president of Understanding, Inc., will be guest speaker during the first anniversary celebration of the organization's Unit 31 of Marin County.

He will lecture at Drake High School Friday at 8 p.m. on "Spacecraft and Space Travel," and at the Womens' Improvement Club building at 167 Tunstead Avenue, San Anselmo, Saturday at 8 p.m. on "The Relativity of Reality."

Karl Barron of radio station KTIM will interview Fry at 11 a.m. Saturday.

Fry is vice president and research engineer in an El Monte electronic and missile firm. He claims he took a ride in an "unidentified flying object" or "flying saucer" a little more than 10 years ago at White Sands Proving Ground, New Mexico.

Decline Noted In Unemployment; 1st In 6 Months

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unemployment declined 210,000 in March to 5,495,000. This was the first drop in six months, and was less than seasonally expected.

A normal drop would have been about 300,000.

Giving the figures yesterday, the Labor Department also reported that employment rose by 861,000 in March to a record of 65,516,000.

The total labor force—that is people working or available for jobs—increased in March by 651,000 to 71,011,000.

Because unemployment failed to decline as much as expected in March, the seasonally adjusted rate of the idle to the total work force increased from 6.8 per cent in February to 6.9 per cent in March.

The actual unemployment rate for March, without seasonal adjustment was 7.7 per cent—meaning that 77 out of every 1,000 workers were unable to find jobs last month.

Kaiser To Build Palo Alto Plant

OAKLAND (UPI)—Kaiser Industries announced yesterday plans to build an electronics plant, for production of cathode tubes and the Kaiser Flite-Path System, at Stanford Industrial Park in Palo Alto.

A spokesman said the new facility would be Kaiser's electronics facility in the area.

In Pacific Tests

Two Marin sailors are participating in large Pacific Fleet exercises. They are Michael B. Ricketts, seaman apprentice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat J. Ricketts of 11 Skyline Road, San Anselmo, aboard the carrier Yorktown, and Gene P. Ashlock, engineman third class, son of Mrs. T. B. Gerhardt of Woodacre, aboard the minesweeper Illusive. Both vessels operate out of Long Beach.

BUCKET SEATS FOR NEW COMET

Lincoln-Mercury Division is offering a new luxury version of the compact Comet to be displayed in dealers' showrooms by late April. The new two-door model will feature individually contoured "bucket-type" seats in the front, separated by a console storage compartment, sports-type steering wheel and all-vinyl interior trim.

Fairfax Joint Recreation Session Sought

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission last night invited the Fairfax City Council to hold a joint meeting on May 2 to discuss the future of recreation and mutual plans for civic improvement.

The commission requested the meeting so it could formulate plans for future development of the recreational facilities in the city, said Mrs. Helen Youngclaus, secretary.

Parents met with the commission and urged that improvements be made in the city's recreational area. The specific requests were for fencing the area and installation of safer equipment, Mrs. Youngclaus reported.

The commission heard a report that the $1,945 in the fund to build the Andrew Peri memorial tennis courts is insufficient. The commission will seek more funds to go ahead with the proposed courts, Mrs. Youngclaus said.

Tom Kelley, recreation director, reported that 335 people had used the recreation facilities in March. Equipment is being purchased and readied for summer, Kelley reported.

Bagley Puts 5 Bills In Legislative Hopper

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Five bills varying from local Marin County problems to drunken drivers and state college parking were introduced in the Assembly yesterday by Marin-Sonoma Assemblyman William T. Bagley.

Bagley proposed that a special license be issued to persons convicted of drunken driving for the first time who had their license suspended. The new license would permit the recipient to drive during his employment and not simply to get to and from work.

"There is a real inequity which exists when a person makes his livelihood by driving," Bagley said. "A truck driver, traveling salesman or other person similarly employed suffers tremendously when his license is suspended, compared to the ordinary automobile user." The special license is needed, he said, because of the "automatic" suspension of licenses for drunken driving put into effect in the last year.

The bill isn't an attempt to upset the authority of the Department of Motor Vehicles to order the suspensions, he went on. Rather it is to make such suspensions fair for all first offenders, not unduly punishing some.

The parking bill Bagley introduced gives the governing board of a junior college or state college the right to permit parking of students, staff and other employees on the college property and to set up regulations for such parking, including fees.

The bill, he said, comes from a recent dispute over whether a state college can charge college professors a parking fee. A Sacramento superior court recently enjoined Sacramento State College from charging such a fee.

A third Bagley bill would require a court to determine that a minor brought before it is a fit subject for consideration under juvenile court law.

The purpose of the bill, Bagley said, is to assume that all juveniles coming before the court receive the same consideration. A recent Supreme Court decision held that in some types of juvenile cases, it is not necessary for a judge to make such a determination.

Larkspur and Fairfax would receive more money from fines and forfeitures resulting from arrests by their officers and other city employees under another Bagley bill. Conversely, the County of Marin would receive less from each case.

At present the county gets 62 per cent of the Larkspur fines and 58 per cent of the Fairfax fines. Under Bagley's bill the county would receive only 30 per cent from each city for its jail, courts and other services.

The bill was introduced at the joint request of the Marin supervisors and the two cities involved.

The fifth bill would prohibit annexation to a city of territory of a community services district unless all of the territory of the district, and no other territory, is annexed at the same time.

The bill was introduced at the request of the Terra Linda Community Services District as a result of the recent unsuccessful annexation election conducted by the city of San Rafael.

The idea, Bagley said, is that the district should vote as a complete entity as to whether it wishes to go into a city or not, rather than having a part of it left out of the city or having other areas, not in the district, voting at the same time and possibly being the determining factor in the election.

Unusual Army

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Adjutant General's Department has records of one of the nation's strangest armies—"The Squirrel Hunters."

When a Confederate force moved toward Newport, Ky., in 1862, threatening Cincinnati, Ohio, Gov. David Tod appealed for all able-bodied men in the state to defend the city. Some 50,000 men turned out.

The Rebel force never engaged the strange, uniformed army, but Ohio granted a bonus and discharges to the "squirrel hunters."

3 Fairfax School Trustees Won't Run–8 Want Posts

(This is the 10th of a series of stories introducing candidates for school boards in the April 18 election.)

None of the three Fairfax Elementary School District trustees whose terms expire this spring is seeking re-election April 18.

One of them, Stryker Warren, already has turned in his resignation. The other two, J. C. Uhte and Sebastian Cimino, will step down at the close of their terms. The board was successful in getting an 80-cent tax increase passed early this year after repeated failures in earlier elections, and are retiring with that job done.

But there is a wide-open race for their seats. Eight candidates are vying for the favor of Fairfax voters.

Here is a rundown of the candidates:

GORDON B. ADAMS, 43, is engineer in the mechanical department of the Southern Pacific Co. in San Francisco. His life is closely tied up with railroading. He has built a model railroad, big enough for children to ride, in the back yard of his home at 475 Cascade Drive. Adams and his wife, Pauline, have no children.

Adams was born in Birmingham, England, received his degree in mechanical engineering from University of Birmingham and took postgraduate work at Derby. He has been a Marin resident since 1948. He served in the British Army Engineers, railway operating division, in World War II until wounded, then finished out the war as chief engineer on a merchant vessel.

Says Adams: "I believe it is the duty of the taxpayers to see that each child . . . is given the best possible basic academic education . . .

"I will oppose any expenditure except that necessary for the proper maintenance of the plant and buildings, my criterion being that any item with the exception of maintenance that will not make the child a better reader, writer, linguist or mathematician is a waste of the taxpayers' money . . .

"I favor teachers instructing several grades in the subjects they are best qualified to teach, also the teaching of a language and basic science in the higher elementary grades."

Adams would oppose using the entire 80-cent tax increase authorized the voters, lest the district "very shortly again be in financial difficulty."

HARRY L. CARPENTER, 41, is employed by the post engineer at the Presidio of San Francisco. He and his wife, Eve, reside at 159 William Avenue.

Carpenter was born in Houston, Tex., but has been a California resident since before his marriage. He served as a metalsmith in the Navy in both World War II and the Korean War.

Says Carpenter: "I believe in the best education possible for our children . . . On the other hand, I don't think we have to go overboard with a lot of unnecessary spending . . . When a dollar is spent, there should be a hundred per cent return. The parents and taxpayers should govern on majority rule."

JAMES K. HENINGTON, 46, is a welder employed at the San Francisco Naval Shipyard. He and his wife, Doris, have four children in school. They reside at 112 Cypress Drive.

Henington was an enlisted man in the First Cavalry Division in World War II, serving in the Luzon and Southern Philippines campaigns and receiving the Purple Heart among other decorations. He is a native of Montrose, Ark.

Says Henington: "I am self-educated and feel that entirely too much stress is placed on formal education and that the American people are being hoodwinked by the organizer professional educators and administrators . . . I do not accept at face value the professional educators' argument that higher salaries are required . . .

"I feel with the utmost conviction that the entire public school system in California is top heavy with high-salaried administrators . . .

"If elected I will fight for the best education possible for our children but keeping an eye open for waste and inefficiency."

LAURENCE G. HERMANN, 33, is a fire and safety engineer for General Insurance Co. of America in San Francisco. He and his wife, Helen, have two children at home at 220 Marinda Drive.

Hermann was born in Olympia, Wash., and received an A.B. degree from College of Puget Sound. He served in the Navy 1946-48.

He has been active in school affairs in Fairfax and was on the committee that investigated the district's financial condition and urged passage of the tax increase last winter.

JOHN J. HOURIHAN of 61 San Gabriel Drive did not respond to an Independent-Journal request for biographical information and statement of his aims.

JAY M. HUTCHINSON, 36, is a bonding and insurance representative for Standard Accident Insurance Co. in San Francisco. He is president of the Fairfax Voters Information Group, which was instrumental in passage of the tax increase measure.

Hutchinson and his wife, Bettie, have four children at home at 94 Hillside Drive.

Active in Democratic politics, Hutchinson is a director of the Ross Valley Democratic Club. He is a member of the Deer Park Parent-Teacher Assn.

He was born in Sacramento, received his B.A. in economics from University of California at Berkeley. He spent part of his childhood in Marin and attended Kent School. He was a flight engineer in the Army Air Force in World War II, with service in the South Pacific.

Hutchinson said he believes that close communication among school trustees, Parent-Teacher Associations and the public will assure progressive development of Fairfax schools.

ROBERT C. LAUPPE, 41, is office and personnel manager for St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Co. in San Francisco. He and his wife, Barbara Ann, of 18 Meadow Way, have two children.

Lauppe was born in Antelope, Sacramento County. He attended Stockton Junior College and received an A.B. degree from College of the Pacific. He was a pilot in the Army Air Force in World War II, with the rank of major, flying 59 missions from England, and is now a lieutenant colonel in the Air Force Reserve.

JOHN W. (BILL) SHIRLEY, 39, is owner of the Gilbert-Shirley Co., San Rafael firm which does printing, accounting and photocopy systems. He and his wife, Mickey, have three children, aged 7 to 11.

Shirley was born in Tupelo, Miss., and completed his education at Bowling Green Business University. He has lived in Marin since 1951 and in Fairfax since 1954. He was a Marine Corps captain in World War II (serving on Guadalcanal and Iwo Jima) and Korea, winning the bronze star and purple heart in the latter conflict.

Says Shirley: "I am for an adequate maintenance program . . . for increased teacher salaries . . . The science program should be pushed. Let us equip it properly before going for the extras

"I feel that our children should first be provided with the best possible basic education. Then, if after a year or so we find more money, given them the 'frills.'

"I would hesitate to enact an expensive program that would have to be cut back later."

Don Timoteo School Bids To Be Rejected

All bids for construction of the Don Timoteo school, opened on March 22, will be formally rejected by trustees of the Dixie School District at a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in the administration building at 4775 Redwood Highway.

The board will also go over proposed changes in the plans for the school with the architect, according to Supt. Dennie B. Willis.

Disappearing Shovels

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—When the Recreation Department's snow-clearing tractor developed mechanical trouble, officials provided shovels for ice skaters wishing to help clear Sippo Reservoir.

Instead of the snow disappearing, the shovels have vanished, says skating supervisor Ralph Huppert.

Fairfax, Tam Candidates' Night Slated

A candidates' night for aspirants for the Fairfax Elementary School District and Tamalpais Union High School District boards will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Deer Park School in Fairfax.

Seven of the eight Fairfax candidates have accepted invitations to appear, Supt. Homer L. Sisk reported today. Tamalpais High School District candidates also have appearances scheduled tomorrow night at Tamalpais High in Mill Valley, but several of them will first speak in Fairfax, Sisk said.

The Tam district candidates will be presented at the beginning of the program, followed by the Fairfax candidates. At the Mill Valley event, candidates for Mill Valley Elementary School District board will appear first, followed by the high school candidates.

Deer Park, Central and Manor Parent-Teacher Assns. are jointly sponsoring the Fairfax program.

FOR PUBLIC INTEREST

Hodges Wants Ethics Code For Businessmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, disturbed by the price-fixing conspiracy in the electrical machinery industry, is trying to develop a code of ethics for businessmen.

Hodges, a former textile executive, told a reporter that a group is working, at his behest, on a moral credo which would set forth the principles under which business should operate in the public interest.

The idea is to unveil the code, when completed, under sponsorship that would command widespread respect among businessmen and the general public.

No decision has been made on whether the sponsor should be an existing business organization or a special group which might be created under the auspices of the Commerce Department or, possibly, the White House.

Hodges said business credos too often are simply a statement of conservative economic views, side-stepping questions of basic morality.

He said the need for greater attention to business ethics in some areas was made apparent by the price-fixing case, in which more than 200 corporations were fined nearly two million dollars and seven executives were jailed.

Hodges has enlisted a group of businessmen, philosophers, and business educators to begin drafting ideas for possible inclusion in an ethical code for business.

This group, widely scattered geographically, is expected to hold its first formal meeting here next month.

Laos Ready To Talk To Reds

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—The pro-Western government declared today it is ready to lay down arms and talk with the Communist Pathet Lao rebels as soon as the major powers agree on a cease-fire in Laos.

Brig. Gen. Phoumi Nosavan—deputy premier, national defense minister and the strongman of the government—made the statement through the government-operated Lao Press news agency.

He said the objective of the major powers—particularly the United States, Britain and France—appears identical to that of the royal Laotian government: "The end of hostilities."

Phoumi and other Laotian officials discussed the proposals for a Laotian settlement, as outlined in British and Soviet notes, at a two-hour cabinet meeting yesterday.

It was called after Phoumi reported that rebel paratroopers had jumped in the Vang Vieng area, about 65 miles north of this administrative capital on the highway to Luang Prabang, the royal capital.

The move appeared to be aimed at seizing a vital air strip but there was no word on whether they had succeeded.

Just last Friday the rebels seized Tha Thom in a similar drop. Both were carried out from Soviet-built planes.

Meet Communist Threat In Calm, Law-Abiding Manner

(NOTE: Today's guest editorialist is John Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It was written for circulation to all law enforcement officials, but we feel it should go to the general public as well.)

America, historically an impregnable fortress against tyranny, is engaged in a mortal struggle with world communism. It is time for both citizens and governmental authorities to confront this threat in a calm, realistic, rational, law-abiding manner.

The ingredients for communist coups in nations which have fallen under its spell always include a populace shaken with fear, hysteria and confusion. Above all, however, is the danger of irresponsible counteraction by citizens who lend impetus to communism through inept attempts to fight this insidious menace.

The leaders of worldwide communism proclaim that even America can succumb to the "rules of revolution" conceived by Karl Marx and galvanized into the first successful communist revolution by V. I. Lenin.

Lenin said, "The more powerful enemy can be conquered only by exerting the utmost effort, and by NECESSARILY, thoroughly, carefully, attentively and skillfully taking advantage of every, even the smallest, 'rift' among the enemies . . ."

There exists today in our land a vital "rift" which the communists are exploiting. Unfortunately, this invloves certain people across the country who engage in reckless charges against one another.

The label of "communist" is too often indiscriminately attached to those whose views differ from the majority. Those whose lives are not led according to what one segment of society might decree to be the "norm" are too frequently challenged as "Reds."

Attributing every adversity to communism is not only irrational, but contributes to hysteria and fosters groundless fears. Communism is, indeed, our paramount adversary, and it leans on its credo of invincibility and a concept of historical inevitability to accomplish its ends.

The way to fight it is to study it, understand it, and discover what can be done about it. This cannot be achieved by dawdling at the spring of knowledge; it can only be accomplished by dipping deeply into thoughtful, reliable and authoritative sources of information.

The job of curtailing and containing communism is one for legally constituted authorities with the steadfast cooperation of every loyal citizen. This is neither the time for inaction nor vigilante action. We must unite as a people, we must understand our basic American heritage under law, and we must face the communist menace with deliberation, quiet courage, and knowledge. These are the qualities which communism shrinks from—these are the qualities against which communism can never succeed.

'YOU COULD TRY A LITTLE HARDER TOO'

By RANDALL GOULD

Style Books Should Be Furnished To Every Person Reading The Paper

Few good Marinites have much time for Time. They are too busy readying the I-J.

This is for the best. Time devotes over-numerous pages to a terrible lot of tedious twaddle about such odd places as Asia, Africa and Washington, D. C. Much of Time is waste of time.

People living in a lively place like Marin County naturally have scant need for dreary tidings of those outlying spots. Anyway they can learn a surplusage merely by checking the front page of the I-J plus a section called "Wire News From Everywhere," a compilation of incredibly spicy items such as that there is a town of Hell, Mich.

Thus not many read Time. Evidently neither does Time read us. For scanning a current copy I note a piece called "The Reporter's Guide," about what are called "style books"; and the I-J is not mentioned.

The reason for style books isn't flattering to me and my colleagues, if you take Time's saucy word for it. Says Time: "In the opinion of many a newspaper editor, the typical reporter is a near illiterate who is dedicated to the proposition that the preposition is to end sentences with."

Everybody is entitled to his opinion. Mine, for instance, is that I am surrounded by a lot of highly literate bosses; printers, proofreaders, etc., who know better, but nonetheless delight in sprinkling my pellucid prose with extra commas and uncorrected typographical errors.

TIME REVEALS that to guide the knuckleheads of the newsroom many journals isjust is what our own I-J did, not long ago, after some years of groaning and heaving.

The fact is that even I once compiled a style book, for a newspaper I ran in Shanghai until the Chinese Communists ran me (out).

A friend now in New York recalled it fondly in a letter the other day. Indeed it was full of fun and frolic, with much better plot than usual. Sadly, no copies survive.

It's too bad that style books are normally kept close within the bosom of the news family. Staff members are supposed practically to memorize the local version, but the public be what Vanderbilt reputedly told it to be.

My feeling is that it would be no more than right if management were to print up enough style books to give one to every subscriber. But on the other hand this would turn over a weapon for general criticism.

FOR INSTANCE the very first sentence of the I-J style book reads:

"Anyone employed in the Independent-Journal editorial department knows English and has some facility at writing it, else he (or she) wouldn't be here."

This is idealistic, inspirational, and has more holes than a Swiss cheese.

With regret I must admit that our book, compiled by News Editor Dick Layman, is for from airtight in many ways. For instance it admonishes not to capitalize "false titles" (such as news editor?) and as illustration gives "screen star Brigitte Bardot." Maybe Brigitte is the ship's cook. But what's false about her?

We are warned to beware of "alphabetitis" and told: "MWWD may mean Marin Municipal Water District to you, but probably means nothing to many readers." A lot of people like their Bourbon neat and some don't bathe much, but does that give anybody a right to insult them?

"GET THE NAME right" we are admonished. Nowadays our worthy representative favors a chummy "Clem Miller" usage, but because he used to be more stuffy, we hold him to "Clement W. Miller" regardless. Who's right, how?

What really bothers me is that I don't know whether to write Civic Center or civic center. It comes out in the paper first capitalized, then not.

The Denver Post used to say that its reporters write, but the printers edit. That could even here be the truth, style books and editors notwithstanding.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Ex-Marinite In Need Of Letters

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I am writing to you for my sister, Mrs. Constance Clark, who did at one time live in San Rafael before her husband passed away. They lived on Union Street and then moved to Glenpark Drive. They lived there until this past Nov. 14 and then her husband was taken sick and passed away.

His name was Edward Clark and he worked at the West Inn Villa there in San Rafael. They also were well known and they have two daughters. One is named Dawn and she went to Coleman School, the other daughter's name is Tommie, she is only 13 months.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark have quite a few friends, but now she is living in Baltimore, Md., where her husband's body was shipped back to. She now lives here with her people, but what I would appreciate is if you could find in your heart to please put in your paper about what I am telling you about her.

She has and is still having a large burden on her since she has been back. She was taken ill and now has to go away to the state hospital here in Baltimore to be treated for TB.

What I would like is to have her friends to please send her cards and letters because she will be in the hospital for six months to a year and we her family are doing the same.

I know that if she could hear from her friends in San Rafael she would be so much happier. They can send cards and letters to Mrs. Constance Clark, Mount Wilson State Hospital, Mount Wilson, Md.

Please don't fail her. God bless everyone.

My Nerves Are Shot And Why

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

My nerves are shot and why.

The cold, med. and hot war.

The children, they're late so they have been kidnaped or run over.

Newspapers and television. You're shot, half shot or going to get shot. Or run over or wrecked. (After a trip in the car, you're home so hurrah, we made it. It was pretty close though.)

Then there's the heart disease fund drive, cancer fund drive, Red Cross fund drive, blind craft, Easter seals, Christmas seals, leukemia, polio. Just to mention a few. Each is highly publicized. If you're not going to need help or have the disease now, you will, so donate.

Teen-agers. Along with other things they expect to drop dead, one way or another, so the heck with it.

Bills and taxes. Both parents have to work to pay, so who listens to the youngsters' problems which arise several times each day? This is a real nerve shooter because they are stuck with what comes next and I think the majority are at the very least a little shook up.

If you can pay for professional trouble solvers this may not be a problem. There seems to be a serious shortage of these people.

Is there some place the kids and I can donate to a "feeling of security" fund?

Brunch Break Is Final Straw

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As an earnest advocate of sound education, I have consistently voted for all school fiscal measures. I have even remained mute when these funds were used for country-club style swimming pools complete with underwater lighting effects, gymnasiums equipped with electric hair-dryers, theaters modified for expensive professional stage lighting, et al.

Bloody, but unbowed, I still supported the schools in their eternal quest for additional funds.

Then came the "BRUNCH BREAK"!

It must have taken a considerable amount of study to come up with this plan for wasting much needed school-time and school facilities.

This infantile scheme of suspending all school activities to accommodate those students and/or parents who are too indolent to get out of bed in time for breakfast, well, to quote the colloquial, that is a "gasser."

The school authorities who can condone such a fantastic plan of dissipating our educational tax-dollar on such a frivolous scheme are not fit to disburse public funds, directly or indirectly, and should be thoroughly investigated.

Please, Mr. and Mrs. School Board, don't insult my intelligence by asking for more money to perpetuate such nonsense.

Perhaps the memory of the Tam High faculty and student body of many years ago, who had the intestinal fortitude to build their own swimming pool out of war (World War I) surplus materials in their spare time will instill a little moral fiber into these august gentlemen who would retard an entire school to help the late risers.

President Raising Right Questions About Increasing Unemployment

WASHINGTON—The Kennedy administration may not be giving us all the right answers, but the President is raising the right questions about the distressing and increasing unemployment in the United States.

It is getting worse, not better. Great harm can come from ignoring it. The anomaly is the unemployment and employment have been rising simultaneously.

Nothing could be more hurtful than to lose sight of the problem by focusing the debate on the "prosperity records" of past administrations, Republican or Democratic.

MANY REPUBLICANS feel that the Eisenhower years have been the greatest ever. Many Democrats contend that the recessions were frequent, the recovery too little and the rate of economic growth too slow.

The need now is to get away from the blurred cliches of "campaign oratory" so that we can look at the problem frankly and realistically.

Throughout the last decade, despite remarkable prosperity for many, despite high average wages and high consumer purchasing power, persistent unemployment has been steadily mounting.

The most revealing fact of all—and this seems to me to cut through the distracting argument over how good or bad things have been during the past eight years—is that persistent unemployment has been increasing even when prosperity has been highest.

CHRONIC UNEMPLOYMENT, according to the latest report of the National Planning Association, went from about 500,000 in the third quarter of 1953 to about 2,000,000 in the first quarter of 1960. This is not the total unemployment, which is now about 7,000,000. It is the mounting, hard core of unemployment which has persisted and grown through both the least prosperous and most prosperous years of the Fifties decade.

This is why the NPA, a non-political organization made up of leaders in business, labor, agriculture, and the professions, warns that such unemployment will rise further unless counter-measures are forthcoming.

To reduce unemployment and under-employment within a year to 4 per cent of the labor force would require some 7,000,000 new job opportunities—a gigantic challenge.

The NPA describes chronic or structural unemployment as not caused primarily by the ups and downs of the business cycle. There are more deep-seated factors, such as inadequate growth, more automation, economic changes abroad, movement of industry to new locations, and "discrimination against age and racial groups practiced by some employers and in some cases by unions."

THOSE MOST affected by chronic unemployment are men 65 and older. The tendency for widespread persistent unemployment in the 45-to-64 age group is also very acute. In February 1961 the proportion of unemployed who had been looking for work more than 15 weeks in this age group was as high as 32 per cent.

To combat both age discrimination and racial discrimination in employment, the NPA urges public education stressing the need to use these workers, increased vocation and re-training, and wider use of the U. S. Employment Service as well as other means.

However much the partisans may disagree over the prosperity of the nation in recent years, chronic unemployment has been growing in good and bad times alike. It now confronts industry, labor, and government with a problem too persistent to be ignored.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

DOUBLE INSTEAD OF NOTHING

A billfold lying on a San Francisco sidewalk attracted the attention of a 21-year-old college student. She discovered $25 in cash in it, together with the owner's name and address.

Without delay she returned it to the owner—a doctor in Oakland, Calif.

A few days later a card reached the co-ed from the doctor.

"Many thanks for your honesty," it read. "And may God bless you."

Enclosed was a money order for $50.

While there may be little chance of your experiencing such a happy ending, this is no reason for being less zealous to see that honesty prevails in every field you can influence.

Keep on the lookout for the little things and the big ones usually fall into line. If you can do that extra bit of work your job requires and show a tireless devotion to the securing of the God-given rights for others, you will have a reward that is more than financial.

"Let us therefore cast off the works of darkness and put on the armour of light. Let us walk honestly as in the day.
(Romans 13-12, 13)

Keep me ever aware, O Holy Spirit, of each day's opportunities to offer You the service of a devotion to justice.

Congo Independence Is No Joke To Houseboys Of Leopoldville

By PETER GROSE
For Hal Boyle

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—The latest story going the rounds of Leopoldville cafes concerns Alphonse, a Congolese houseboy struggling to support his wife and five children.

He says of his white employer:

"Oh, patron, when is the 'independence' going to end?"

To the ordinary Congolese, the catchword "independence" once brought hope of a better, carefree life. By now the word means unemplomент, insecurity and frustration.

After nine months in the dream world of independence, Congolese in Leopoldville realize the austere and unexpected responsibilities they assumed when they insisted on managing their own country.

Bright yellow billboards are springing up around Leopoldville bearing words of encouragement to the weary Congolese in their own language.

"If the politicians reach accord, if national unity is achieved, if tribal warfare can only cease, then will come the end of unemployment," the signs say.

This once wealthy capital is running down gradually. Some of the outlying provinces are in chaos but Leopoldville's daily life retains its hot and sleepy routine.

Here the hard aspects of independence are coming through attrition rather than spectacular collapse.

ONE BY ONE, STORES in the European city are closing because of lack of things to sell as well as lack of people with money to buy them. Half a dozen supermarkets are still crowded with Congolese and European buyers, but the shelves are emptying. Prices are creeping up as difficulties of importing—and paying for the imports—increase.

A familiar brand of American corn flakes is 46 cents. A can of chicken soup is 30 cents. Six small apples in a plastic bag sell for 86 cents.

PRICES LIKE THOSE are far beyond the reach of Congolese workers. Alphonse, the houseboy, earns $44 a month and is doing well compared with his neighbors. He has five children. Monthly rental on a tin-roofed, three-room brick hut is $10.

Many newer houses are going vacant because people can't afford the rents. An increasingly common practice is for the family of unemployed worker to move in with a more fortunate cousin who still has a job.

Definitions not in Webster's:

BACHELOR: A man who knows the precise psychological moment when to say nothing.

WIFE: A person who can look in a bureau drawer and find the husband's tie clasp that isn't there.

PEDESTRIAN: A chap who knows what the motorist is driving at.

COMMUNIST: A red hot Marxman.

A bashful, but wealthy, young gentleman took a beautiful maiden out for a motor ride in the moonlight.

In a shaded glen the engine gave a couple of feeble convulsions, then expired completely. "Goodness!" exclaimed the concerned young gentleman. "I wonder what's wrong. What do you think that was knocking?"

"Perhaps," said the maid demurely, "it was opportunity."

KUENN, DAVENPORT, SCHMIDT ARRESTED

Dark Defends Giants Nabbed In Brawl

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Three stars of the San Francisco baseball team were arrested today on charges of being drunk and disorderly, but Giant Manager Alvin Dark said they were only defending themselves against young thugs.

Arrested early this morning were catcher Bob Schmidt, 27, third baseman Jimmy Davenport, also 27, and outfielder Harvey Kuenn, 30, recently traded to the Giants from Cleveland.

Police said they fought with officers trying to arrest them after policemen stopped a scuffle between the three players and two motorists.

"The whole trouble was caused by some kids out looking for trouble," said Dark. "As far as I'm concerned, the players should be blamed for nothing in this case. It wasn't their fault it started. These guys were intimidating the ballplayers.

"I'm sorry it happened," added Dark, who said he did not plan to fine the three players. "This is one of those unfortunate circumstances which make ballplayers look bad. I don't approve of fights, but I do approve of people defending themselves."

Dark claimed the players were not drunk and police gave them no tests to determine if they had been drinking.

Dark said the players would forfeit their bonds of $30 each instead of appearing in Municipal Court April 18 when the regular season would have begun. Bond for the three was posted by team secretary Edward T. Brannick about 3 a.m.

Lester Gray, 20, one of the motorists involved in the fracas, said the players shouted foul names at him and threatened to run his car off the road. He said he stopped his car when the car bearing the players stopped and one of them began hitting another motorist in front of the team's hotel in downtown Phoenix.

Gray said he was hit once by one of the players and twice by another and "my glasses were knocked off."

"They were standing there on the street arguing with a couple of private citizens in a loud way," said a desk sergeant, "so when an officer came up and they started criticizing him we called the paddy wagon."

When the baseball trio arrived at the police station they were booked on suspicion of being drunk and disorderly in a public place and put in a cell, the sergeant said.

Kuenn, who was swapped for Willy Kirkland and Johnny Antonelli at the end of the past season, hit .308 in 126 games for Cleveland last year.

Davenport, whose form was off because of an ulcer and other injuries, batted .251 in 112 Giant games last year, while Schmidt knocked out .267 in 110 games for the Giants. Both players came up through the Giant farm system.

Giants 3rd Base Traffic Man Has A Few Words About Past 6 Weeks

HANLEY

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Salty Parker, third base traffic director of the Giants, summed up the past six weeks of spring work in the Giant encampment with some pertinent observations today.

"Billy Loes," said Parker, "is the biggest surprise in camp. He has been our most consistent pitcher. Whether he maintains it remains to be seen but he certainly has been a pleasant surprise.

"Then there are those two right handed rookies, Jim Duffalo and Bob Bolin, both of whom have been pleasant surprises. Both have a chance of making the big jump this year. Bolin could be the strong, rugged bullpen man we have missed ever since Marv Grissom left us.

"Duffalo has remarkable control and looks poised and experienced even though he only pitched Class A ball at Springfield, Mass., last year. He could make it just like Jim Perry made it from the Eastern League to Cleveland a few years ago.

"As far as our mound regulars are concerned, Candlestick Park fans know them already but I think this year could be the big one for Mike McCormick and Sam Jones looks like he is going to keep rolling right along like the old Mississippi.

"The question with the pitching staff still is 'Who is going to be the reliable relief man?'

GOING TO the catchers, Parker said Tom Haller "is an outstanding prospect—rugged, big, with a good arm and bat—and even though John Orsino didn't make the squad cut to 28 this year you definitely will be hearing about that fellow before long."

Parker, like all other baseball men, has nothing but admiration of the highest order for Willie Mays even though Willie sometimes runs right through his traffic signs.

"Flanking Willie in the outfield are Felipe Alou and Orlando Cepeda. Neither needs any plug from me. What they have been doing this spring speaks for itself. In Alou, I believe we have one of the coming stars of the game.

"IN THE INFIELD, Willie McCovey is a new man. He is a determined athlete now. He learned his lesson last year. Everyone knows by now how he trimmed 20 pounds off his weight during the winter and reported sleek and trim.

"Dark didn't tamper with McCovey's swing because it is one of the best in baseball. Yet, he has McCovey hitting again—like the way he lashed the ball as a rookie in '59. Alvin has eliminated all doubt that McCovey is our first baseman.

"We still have Jim Davenport for third base but Dark is set on Harvey Kuenn there since that is the only position open for his big bat.

"THE SHORTSTOP-SECOND BASE combination still is open. Eddie Bressoud has competition from Jose Pagan and Davenport who was moved over to short from third.

"Don Blasingame, Charlie Hiller and Ferrell Bowman are three deep at second and that doesn't even mention Joe Amalfitano, who has proved his usefulness.

"Hiller has an exceptionally good bat. He led the Texas League last year. Bowman has good hands and a strong, fast DP arm. They have The Blazer battling hard for his job.

"I HOPE DON comes back. It is hard for me to believe that a man with his youth — he's only 28—could go back as far as he appeared to go last year. He knows he has plenty of competition on his hands but because he always has taken good care of himself and is in top condition he is capable of meeting it."

Cardinals' 1-2 Mound Punch Still Potent

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Talk about the St. Louis Cardinals' pennant chances and you talk about the power of Ken Boyer and Bill White, the defensive help of Julian Javier and starting pitchers Ernie Broglio, Larry Jackson and Bob Miller. But you start the talk with the ace who's always in a hole—Lindy McDaniel.

Lanky Lindy proved himself the best relief pitcher in the business last season, no mean feat among the likes of fellow National League firemen Elroy Face, Don Elston, Ed Roebuck and Dick Farrell and the American League's Gerry Staley, Mike Fornieles and Hoyt Wilhelm.

It was Broglio and McDaniel who shared the Cardinal player of the year award, Broglio with his 21 victories and McDaniel with is 12-4 record, 27 saves and 2.09 earned run average, best in the league.

It was Lindy once again yesterday, following Broglio to the mound as the Cardinals made it four in a row over the American League champion New York Yankees, winning 2-1 in 11 innings at St. Petersburg, Fla. Broglio blanked the Yanks on three hits for seven innings. McDaniel, after giving up his first earned run in 13 innings, resumed his shutout spell over the last four frames for the decision.

WHITE SOX RIPPED

Elsewhere, the Washington Senators, leading the American League clubs with a 13-8 exhibition record, ripped the Chicago White Sox 12-3; the Detroit Tigers walloped the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates, still tops in the exhibition standings, 10-2; the Minnesota Twins defeated Milwaukee 9-6; Cincinnati beat Philadelphia 6-5; Kansas City outlasted Baltimore 11-10 in 10 innings; the Chicago Cubs nudged the Los Angeles Angels 4-3; the Los Angeles Dodgers breezed past Cleveland 8-5, and the San Francisco Giants beat Tacoma, their Pacific Coast farm club, 7-5.

A single by Alex Grammas drove in the tie-breaking run for the Cardinals and hung the loss on Jim Coates, who worked the last four innings for the Yanks. McDaniel gave up the tying run on three singles in the eighth but then muffled the A. L. champs, who are 0-4 in extra-inning games and last in the A. L. exhibition standings at 9-17.

PIRATES DECKED

The Tigers decked two of the Pirates' aces—Vern Law and Face—as the champs closed their Fort Myers schedule with a 17-8 record. Detroit belted 14 hits, one a home run by Al Kaline. Bob Bruce went all the way with a six-hitter, giving up the Bucs' runs on a homer by Bob Skinner in the third inning.

The Twins took similar liberties with another National League ace, cracking all but one of their 17 hits off Lew Burdette of the Braves at Orlando. Earl Battey and Bob Allison each hit two-run triples for the Twins. John Demerit hit two homers and a pair of singles for the Braves.

HENKE TRADED TO ST. LOUIS FOR DRAFTEE

Ed Henke, veteran San Francisco 49er defensive lineman, will play for the St. Louis Cardinals next season.

The Cards yesterday traded an undisclosed draft choice for the 221-pound Henke, who has played both defensive end and linebacker.

Henke was not a starter for the 49ers last season for the first time since joining the club in 1950. He admitted his disappointment and publicly asked to be traded.

He greeted the news of his trade with mixed emotions. He said he was happy "because it was what I wanted—a change elsewhere." But he said he was sorry to leave his home in the Bay Area.

Eddie Machen Has Edge For Shot At Title

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Eddie Machen's heavyweight fight here Monday against Mike De John took on added significance today with word from New York that Machen is getting serious consideration as the next opponent for Floyd Patterson.

Tom Bolan, executive director of Sports, Inc., conferred yesterday with Machen's manager, Sid Flaherty. Bolan announced after the talks that Machen "has the edge" on other possible challengers.

Bolan and Flaherty committed nothing to writing, but talked over possibilities for a title scrap.

Bolan made it clear that representatives of European heavyweight Henry Cooper would be consulted before any final decision was reached and also added that "much depends" on Machen's showing against De John, veteran slugger from New York.

Machen is now rated No. 2 contender by both the NBA and Ring Magazine.

HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS

Ramsay's Homer Wins For Pirates

Former Little Leaguer Lou Ramsay's two-run homer in the bottom of the sixth inning provided the winning margin in Drake High School's 4-2 victory over the Petaluma Trojans yesterday. Just before Ramsay's clout, the Pirates tied up the tight battle when Stan Chapman singled home Bob Ingram, who was in scoring position thanks to two errors.

Winning pitcher was Chapman, who hurled the final two innings in relief of starter Nino Geminiani. In five frames Geminiani gave up four hits and one run while Chapman gave up the other run on three hits.

Drake cranked off two double plays — shortstop Jerry Ard to second baseman Larry Kline to first sacker Steve Anderson and third baseman Sam Johnson to Kline.

CHAPMAN HURT

Blake Chapman, 14, son of Sam Chapman of 32 Corde Morada, Greenbrae, one of baseball's greats, sprained his ankle yesterday in a junior varsity baseball game playing for Redwood High School in Crockett. Blake, a freshman, was treated at Marin General Hospital and released.

SWIM RECORD

Big news from the Drake High School swimming tank came in the Class B division where Terry Poleti turned in a brilliant 1 minute, 4.9 seconds clocking in the 100-yard backstroke for a school record.

Drake won both divisions, 50-45 in the varsity, with Tony Crossler and Denny Smith turning in impressive performances and 62-24 in Class B.

REDWOOD WINS

Rich Brear pitched the Redwood Giants to a 5-3 victory over John Swett High yesterday with a nifty two-hitter punctuated by eight strikeouts.

Brear also aided his own cause by personally equalling Swett's hit production with two singles of his own.

GOLF MATCH

Rick Webb carded 78 strokes, but his Redwood High School golfing teammates suffered a loss to Washington High at the Meadow Club.

UNBEATEN NINE

The new Terra Linda High still hasn't lost a baseball game. Yesterday, the T. L. horsehiders had a field day with a 16-1 rout of the Tam junior varsity with Paul Meuse getting a triple and two singles and Jerry Daniele delivering a pair of hits. Doug Matlock was the winning pitcher in Terra Linda's fourth straight triumph. Dick Schultz was impressive at shortstop for the winners.

Lon Gallagher collected both of Tam's hits.

INDIANS LOSE

Tamalpais High's Indians suffered a tough 4-3 loss to Santa Rosa when the Panthers rallied for two runs in the final two innings.

Tam, however, showed some batting muscles when Ed Collins, Russ Adams, Steve Long and Dave Perlis each banged out two safeties.

Perlis was the losing pitcher in relief of starter Russ Adams who went the first five innings and had a 3-2 lead when he left.

Gary Player Heads Strong Foreign Entry In Masters

By LEO H. PETERSEN

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Gary Player, the little South African who is golf's leading money winner this year, today gave the strongest foreign delegation ever to compete in the tournament its best chance to win the Masters title for the first time.

Rated next to defending champion Arnold Palmer in the pre-tourney betting odds, Player, using a longer swing, has won $25,200 thus far in 1961 and thinks the days the Masters have been dominated by United States pros "are about over."

"It may be this year," said Player, competing in his fifth Masters. "But if not, I'd guess that within four years the foreign players will start winning this tournament and once they do they'll keep on winning it."

PALMER FAVORED

The betting odds had Palmer favored at 4 to 1 followed by Player at 6-1 in the Masters tomorrow.

Player agreed with the talent-laden Masters field that this is by far the strongest foreign entry list in Masters history.

"With fellows like Roberto De Vicenzo, Stan Leonard, Angel Miguel and all the others, we ought to do all right," he said.

The best a foreign player ever has been able to do in the previous 24 Masters was the fourth-place ties of Leonard, the Canadian star, in 1958 and again in 1959.

Player's best was a sixth place tie last year. Peter Thomson of Australia, another leading foreign threat, was fifth in 1957. Before that Australian born Jim Ferrier was second in 1950 and third in 1952, but by that time he was a naturalized U.S. citizen.

17 FOREIGNERS

In all, 17 foreign entrants will be in the field which will tee off tomorrow for the first of the four 18-hole rounds which will decide the 1961 Masters champion.

Player feels the Masters course is built for a player like De Vincenzo, the Argentine now playing out of Mexico; Leonard, Angel Miguel and Thomson.

"They can all hit the ball a long ways," Player explained. He said that Angel Miguel "would be a good bet to win it if it wasn't for his temperament."

Although he has won all that money this year, Player said his game "isn't any better than it has been in my other tours of America."

"I've averaged about $1,000 a week when I have been playing over here," he explained. "I've won more this year because I've stayed on the tour longer and played in more tournaments. But I don't think I've been playing any better this year than I did in previous years."

He admits he has more power off the tees and fairways because "I lengthened my swing."

"The greater arc gives me more distance and it seems more accuracy," Player said, explaining he started experimenting with the longer swing during the winter to see if it would help his game. It did, so he has stayed with it.

In addition to Player, De Vincenzo, Leonard, Thomson and Angel Miguel, the foreign threats include Canadians Al Balding, Bill Kerr, Phillip Brownlee and Keith Alexander; Australians Kel Nagle, the British Open champion, and Bruce Crampton; Sebastian Miguel of Spain, Mario Gonzales of Brazil, Fidel De Luca of Argentina, Antonio Cerda of Mexico, Miguel Sala of Bogota, Colombia and Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriquez of San Juan.

PREP TOURNEY THIS WEEK IN SAN RAFAEL

Marin Athletic League's baseball tournament, postponed by inclement weather two weeks ago, will get under way Friday at San Rafael's Albert Field with all six schools participating in the carnival.

Opening rounds will match Marin Catholic against Redwood at 4 o'clock, Drake against San Rafael at 6 and Tamalpais vs. Novato at 8.

Four games are on the docket for Saturday, starting at noon, 2, 4 and 8 p.m.

Drake and San Rafael are rated the co-favorites.

TRAGEDY AT AQUEDUCT

One Of Most Promising Jockeys Killed In Spill

NEW YORK (AP)—At 22, Roy L. Gilbert was one of the most promising young jockeys in the country.

He had been riding only three and a half years but he had compiled an imposing total of 174 winners. Within a space of two weeks last month, he had won four stakes races.

It all ended yesterday in the fourth race at Aqueduct. Gilbert was killed when his mount, a 39-to-1 outsider named Plenty Papaya, bolted into the rail.

Gilbert, from London, Ky., apparently managed to jump from the 2-year-old filly at the last second, but she was so far behind the field that the patrol films of the race failed to show the spill.

The mishap happened at about the half-mile pole on the back stretch, a furlong from the starting gate for the 5-furlong maiden sprint. Hardly anyone in the crowd of 28,153 was aware of the spill as they watched the finish of the race won by the favorite, Miss Stowaway, under Eddie Arcaro.

Dr. John J. Kilgallen, track physician, immediately ordered Gilbert taken to a hospital.

DEAD ON ARRIVAL

When the ambulance arrived at Physicians Hospital, Dr. Alexander Kaye, chief of staff, pronounced the jockey dead.

This was only the second start for Plenty Papaya. She had gone to the post in a race at Gulfstream Park on March 7 and finished last in a field of 14—20 lengths back of the winner.

No one was sure exactly what happened. The stewards said they believed Gilbert's head must have smashed into some part of the rail. They said his helmet was stained with blood.

Jim Dailey, an outrider, said: "The horse hit the rail full and went right up on it. She slid along the rail on her back with her feet up in the air. I believe Gilbert rolled right after the horse after he hit the track."

FRACTURED SKULL

Dr. Kaye said he thought the cause of death was a fractured skull. An autopsy will be performed to determine the exact cause.

Censorship Looms Its Ugly Head In The Case Of Giant's Latin Boys

CONNOLLY

The problem of censorship—like the poor—we have always with us.

And for the special benefit of those unfamiliar with baseball censorship, let me tell you the San Francisco Giants have ruled Puerta Rican and Dominican Republic baseball players may answer questions of reporters, ONLY AFTER, they have been submitted to Manager Alvin Dark, who has to OK the answers.

It also is applicable to a few other ball players on the squad who are about 80 cents short of having a dollars worth of book learning. To cite a specific example, and to help clarify Dark's censorship, we mention the wordy battle some weeks ago between Orlando Cepeda, fiery tempered outfielder and ex-manager Bill Rigney.

Rigney made some replies to a veteran baseball reporter who cleverly worded the answers so that it sounded like Rigney was taking a hefty wallop at the intestinal fortitude of Cepeda.

TOGETHER, WITH the clever manipulation of words and a provocative headline, the story sounded like Rigney was alibing at Cepeda's expense.

When the report was shown to Cepeda, he blew up completely.

It is the contention of the Giants' freshman manager that had Cepeda properly interpreted the article, he would not have said so many nasty cracks about Rigney.

And Dark thinks Cepeda should be given every chance in the future to have somebody better acquainted with baseball phraseology define articles written about him or things said about him. So, now if a reporter goes to Cepeda with a question, Orlando is to take the question to Manager Dark and Dark tells him to not answer it, or tells him how to answer it, if at all.

THIS MIGHT be called censorship by some folks. I am not one of those guys who likes censorship, no matter how thin you slice it.

I think anyone advocating "Hush, hush, keep it quiet," "Don't do anything or say anything until you hear from me." Or, "no comment" cracks, really has something to hide.

And the practice of gagging ball players (who are always at their best when blowing off steam) comes mighty close to denying freedom of speech to the player and to the press.

In the business of baseball, reporting stories go in pairs. The first one is the story reported to have been said, and the second one is the denial by the player who said it.

SO YOU CAN see if such a thing as baseball censorship catches fire, most of the fun and the smoke in baseball will be squelched.

And I'm agin that — it removes the fun of a "beat" or a "scoop."

The late Dan Doran of the S.F. Examiner was sent to cover a swimming meet at Neptune Beach in which Norman Ross, world's champion merman, was competing.

DORAN SHOWED up late and nobody but Charley Small of the Chronicle had the exact time in which Ross shattered the world's swimming mark.

So Doran, refused the time, went to the phone and recited a yarn that stunned his office.

Doran reported, "while Norman Ross was shattering a world's distance swimming mark this afternoon at Neptune, the life of a baby was spared through the alertness of a spectator who dived in with his clothes on and pulled the baby to safety.

"The hero refused his name and the baby's mother raced home."

Both stories hit the street at the same time. Small, the exacting reporter, was criticized for not getting the "human interest story," while Doran got big cheers for his alertness.

AFTER THAT episode the swimmer's writers always gave out information to a competitive reporter.

Can Venturi Beat Jinx?

NEW YORK (UPI)—They tee off in the coveted Masters tomorrow and it's the now or maybe never year for slender Ken Venturi.

The young man from San Francisco comes to win and he has the talents. Yet, twice now he has known heartbreak on the final round of the Augusta event.

A third disaster well might make the Masters for him the same kind of nightmare the U. S. Open has become for Slammin' Sammy Snead.

Snead had the Open in his pocket the first time he ever played in it, back in 1937. Sitting in the locker room he was beaten out and since then he has finished second four times. It became for him a fixation of frustration.

Venturi is in the same leaking boat at the Masters.

Back in 1956, when he still was an amateur, Venturi opened the Masters with a 66—best round ever recorded there by an amateur—and then added rounds of 69 and a bad weather 75 to carry a four shot lead over his closest competitor into the final round.

Then, not only the roof, but even the walls fell in.

Ken shot a sky-high 80 as Jackie Burke, who entered the final round eight shots back, fired a 71 to win out by one stroke.

"Maybe it was better that I didn't win it," Venturi philosphized the next year after turning professional. "If I'd have won it as an amateur it might have been an anti-climax as a pro."

It actually was sound thinking more than rationalizing. Until you consider what happened just a year ago.

IN THE BAG

For there, as they started off the final round, Ken was right up among the leaders. He finished strong and sat in the clubhouse—as Snead had done so many years before in the Open—victory apparently his.

But Arnold Palmer, the Pennsylvania strong man, birdied the last two holes and took it away from him by one stroke.

Of such things are the sporting jinxes compounded. And if Venturi is right up there this time and once more it eludes his grasp it could slip for him into the land of never-never.

You can get strong support if you believe that, given another winning chance, the 29-year-old Venturi this time will put in in his bag. In four years as a pro he hasn't achieved the pinnacle of greatness which many predicted, but he has been a big and consistent winner. Over that period he has banked $121,169, which figures out to a fat average of better than $30,000 a year. On the procircuit that's up front and center.

A long iron artist, Venturi is the kind who given the chance will go for broke.

"I'd rather have one victory than four seconds, no matter how much the second places paid," he says.

'NEW HOGAN'

When he arrived on the pro scene there was much of the fading Ben Hogan in him. He had all the shots, a classic swing and worked tirelessly to perfect his touch. He also had that iron concentration which featured Bantam Ben's play. Once, during a match at Pebble Beach, he pulled off a critical shot and his pretty wife, Conni, who was standing nearby, said to him:

"Good going, honey."

Venturi looked her blankly in the face and replied:

"Thanks, lady."

Winning the Masters could push him farther along in Hogan's footsteps. Losing it again in frustration fashion could bury him in Snead's Open shadow.

Free Angling License For Aged Is Rejected

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Senate Fish and Game Committee has turned down a bill to give all Californians who reach retirement age free fishing licenses.

The committee acted yesterday after it learned the bill by Sen. Randoph Colier (D-Yreka), would cost the state $282,000 annually in lost license fees.

Raiders Happy Over Trade With Patriots

OAKLAND (AP)—In their biggest trade of the short American Football League history, the Oakland Raiders sent quarterback Babe Parilli and fullback Billy Lott to the Boston Patriots.

In return they get halfback Dick Christy, fullback Alan Miller and defensive tackle Hal Smith. All three could be starters this fall.

"We feel we have strengthened ourselves immeasureably by acquiring these three fine players," declared Oakland Coach Eddie Erdelatz.

Parilli, the ex-Kentucky rifle, was the No. 2 gun at quarterback for the Raiders behind started Tom Flores while Lott was the backfield workhorse for Oakland last fall and the Raiders' second leading ground ainer. He carried 99 times for 520 yards and was the leading pass receiver with 49 receptions for 525 yards.

Miller proved the leading ground gainer for the Patriots with 416 yards on 101 carries. The fleet Christy, an All-America from North Carolina State, gained 363 on 78 carries. Miller caught 29 passes for 284 yards and Christy 26 for 268.

Smith, from UCLA, weighs 250 and proved a strong defender for Boston in the initial AFL season. He should help shore up a leaky Raider defense for the coming season.

Exciting 1961 Season Predicted By President

By JOE CRONIN
American League President

BOSTON (UPI)—This 60th anniversary American League season is certain to be played with a historic backdrop even before it begins with colorful and traditional ceremonies at Griffith Stadium, Washington, next Monday.

It was back in the season of 1901 when the American League achieved Major League status, and for the first time it will operate as a 10-team circuit in 1961.

We are confident these expansion moves have been made in continued Major League fashion, and that interest and excitement are going to be greater and more intense, as well as more widespread, this year than ever before.

Encouragement has been forthcoming in expert opinions offered by qualified observers who have seen the new clubs, the Washington Senators and Los Angeles Angels, in action during the spring training period. The intense enthusiasm in the new territory of Minnesota has gained unanimous recognition.

By this no claim is intended that the expansion program, necessary for the modernization of the baseball structure, will be without future problems. However, we are now certain all problems ahead can be surmounted as were those of recent months.

Indeed, much has been accomplished and tremendous progress achieved in the brief span of time between last October and the approaching opening day, which will find 10 teams ready for action and competition, thanks to the cooperation and hard work of dedicated baseball men, the owners and officials of the American League clubs, both the old and the new.

GOOD FORTUNE

I have had the good fortune of seeing and studying in person the "new" Washington Senators, and the six other teams training in Florida, in recent weeks. Reports from the Arizona and California camps of the Boston Red Sox, Cleveland Indians and Los Angeles Angels have been a matter of daily menu.

It would be easy to predict that a 10-team pennant race is in prospect, but perhaps not realistic.

The champion New York Yankees can truly be classified as the team to beat.

Armstead Stops Santos In 7th Of Richmond Fight

RICHMOND (UPI) — Paulie Armstead of Los Angeles scored a seventh round knockout over Chico Santos of Oakland last night in a lightweight scrap at Richmond Auditorium.

Armstead, returning to the ring wars after a lengthy layoff, looked as sharp as ever as he moved well out in front on points from the opening bell.

Santos suffered a cut left eye and referee Jack Downey stopped the bout before the start of the eighth stanza.

Santos weighed 137 pounds and Armstead 135.

Armstead has now won 29 of 40 fights. His record shows one draw and 13 knockouts. Santos has won three of seven since coming here from Portugal.

ORDINARY CHEESECAKES are made with either cream cheese or cottage cheese as the basic ingredient. Extraordinary cheesecakes tastefully combine the two. Enjoy them in baked Berry Glazed Cheesecake, decorated with red-ripe fresh strawberries or raspberries, and in refrigerated Pineapple Cheesecake served with Apricot-Pineapple Sauce.

Exceptional Are The Glamorous Berry, Pineapple Cheesecakes

Exceptional is this glamorous Berry Glazed Cheesecake . . . crust baked high and golden brown, crumb tender and velvety smooth. It's moise, yet softly compact and easy to serve as finale to an elegant dinner or as "dessert and."

Pineapple Cheesecake with Apricot-Pineapple Sauce is refreshingly cool on warm spring days. Prepare this no-bake version to impress family as well as friends. They'l love it.

BERRY GLAZED CHEESECAKE

Spring form pan, 9-inch
Preheated 350° oven
12 Servings

Crust:
2 cups graham cracker crumbs
¼ cup sugar
½ cup (1 stick) butter, melted

Combine graham cracker crumbs, sugar and butter thoroughly. Press on sides and bottom of pan; chill while making filling.

Filling:
1 pound cream cheese
2 cups cottage cheese, sieved
1½ cups sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
½ teaspoon salt
6 egg yolks
⅓ cup flour
6 egg whites

Beat together cream and cottage cheeses until smooth; mix in sugar, vanilla and salt. Add egg yolks one at a time, beating well after each addition. in flour. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry; fold into cheese mixture. Pour into prepared pan. Bake 1¼ hours; then turn off heat, open door, and let cool in oven at least 1 hour. Chill before topping with berries and glaze.

Berry Topping:
1 pint strawberries or raspberries, hulled
1 cup sugar
½ cup water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup water

Mash ½ cup berries and place in a small saucepan with sugar, ½ cup water and lemon juice; bring to boiling. Mix cornstarch with ¼ cup water and add to hot fruit mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens; strain and cool. Top Cheesecake with remaining berries and pour the cooled glaze over them. Chill before serving.

PINEAPPLE CHEESECAKE WITH APRICOT-PINEAPPLE SAUCE

Square dish, 9-inch
9-12 servings

Crust:
2 cups vanilla wafer crumbs
6 tablespoons butter, softened

Combine wafer crumbs and butter until well blended. Reserve ½ cup for topping and press remaining mixture in bottom of dish.

Filling:
2 cups cottage cheese ,sieved
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
2 teaspoons vanilla
¼ teaspoon salt
2½ cups (20-oz. can) crushed pineapple
2 tablespoons (2 envelopes) unflavored gelatin
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
¾ cup sugar
¼ cup milk
3 egg whites

Combine cottage cheese, cream cheese, vanilla and salt. Drain pineapple; sprinkle gelatin over pineapple syrup to soften. In a saucepan, combine egg yolks, sugar and milk; cooking constantly, until thickened. Stir in gelatin until dissolved. Remove from heat and cool slightly. Stir in cottage cheese mixture and 1 cup of the pineapple. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry, then fold in the cheese mixture. Pour into prepared dish, sprinkle on reserved crumb mixture and chill overnight. Cut into squares and serve with Apricot-Pineapple Sauce.

APRICOT-PINEAPPLE SAUCE

Yield: 2 cups
1½ cups (10-oz. can) apricot nectar
2 teaspoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Dash of salt
Reserve crushed pineapple

Mix about ¼ cup apricot nectar with cornstarch. Heat remaining nectar to scalding; gradually add cornstarch mixture and cook, stirring contantly, until thickened. Stir in lemon juice, salt and reserved pineapple and chill.

How Smart A Shopper Are You?

Do you know the difference between American blue cheese and Roquefort?

The difference: American blue cheese is made from cow's milk while Roquefort is made from ewe's (sheep's) milk.

The basic fundamentals of the manufacture of blue mold cheese, however, are essentially the same in all countries. Just as the French add culture and rennet to sheep's milk, American cheese makers add the same ingredients to cow's milk to produce the curd.

In both France and the United States, the whey is then drained off and the curd poured into hoops. American aging facilities have approximately the same temperatures, air currents and humidity as the limestone caves of Roquefort, France, since these conditions encourage the growth of Penicillium Roqueforti, the agent used in blue cheese to develop the characteristic color and piquant flavor.

Most American blue cheese is aged even longer than Roquefort—usually 90 days, and in some cases, as long as 150 days.

The primary achievement in American production methods, however, has been a quality control program that assures uniformity in flavor and texture within a brand. Rigid milk grading programs, daily sterilization of stainless steel equipment and governmental regulations and inspection give the consumer of the American product a blue cheese produced under sanitary conditions, and in accord with Food & Drug requirements.

American blue cheese, which is available in supermarket dairy counters, is the most popular blue mold cheese in this country.

DOUGHNUTS, TEXAS-STYLE: These giant doughnuts were made from yeast risen dough. Each is as big as a saucer. They are cut with regular doughnut cutter, with or without center in place. The deep fat for Texas doughnuts must be heated to 365 degrees.

Veal Steaks Adaptable To Sauces

Serving a good balance of beef, veal, pork and lamb keeps meals interesting. Likewise, serving each cut in different ways can prevent monotony.

Veal steaks offer an example of a cut of meat that no doubt appears less frequently on your table. Veal is especially versatile, so it should find a welcome place in your menus. The mild flavor of veal makes it adaptable to a variety of sauces and gravies, says meat cookery expert Reba Staggs.

You'll like Savory Veal Steaks braised in onions, ginger and mustard. Evaporated milk or light cream added at the end of the cooking time creates a rich, savory sauce.

SAVORY VEAL STEAKS

3 veal shoulder steaks cut ½ to ¾ inch thick
2 tablepsoons flour
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon ginger
1½ teaspoons dry mustard
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
2 onions, sliced
1 cup water
1 small can (6 ounces) evaporated milk or 1 cup light cream

Mix together flour, salt, ginger and mustard. Pound seasoned flour into steaks. Brown steaks in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Cover steaks with onions. Add water. Cover tightly and cook slowly 45 minutes to 1 hour or until meat is tender. Remove meat to platter. Add milk or cream to cooking liquid. Heat thoroughly and serve as sauce with meat. 6 servings.

Lamb Patties In Herb Sauce

Serve "Lamb Patties in Herb Sauce" some evening after a busy, busy day and, chances are, the family will ask for return engagements. While the patties broil, it takes just a few minutes to make the gourmet-minded sauce, thanks to convenient creamy canned white sauce. Result: An economical entree with real flair. Elegant enough for guests!

LAMB PATTIES WITH HERB SAUCE

6 lamb patties
1 (10½-ounce) can white sauce
¼ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
¾ teaspoon dried marjoram
Chopped parsley

Broil lamb patties 3 to 4 inches from heat until done to your taste, turning once. Meanwhile, combine white sauce, mayonnaise, lemon juice, onion and marjoram, heat. Serve sauce over lamb patties; sprinkle with chopped parsley.

Chicken, Wine Sauce In Southern Style

Plan for a dinner party: "Southern-Style Chicken with Hollandaise Wine Sauce," buttered asparagus, grapefruit and avocado salad, fresh strawberries and angel cake, coffee. The super-special entree is boned chicken breasts on ham slices with a subtle sauce. It is a real snap to make, due to time-saving, failure-proof canned Hollandaise sauce. The guests will think you spent hours making the elegant topper. Why work when you can use tangy canned Hollandaise!

SOUTHERN-STYLE CHICKEN WITH HOLLANDAISE WINE SAUCE

6 large chicken breasts
salt, pepper, paprika
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
6 (⅛-inch thick) ham slices
6 toast slices
Hollandaise Wine Sauce
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

HOLLANDAISE WINE SAUCE

2 (6-ounce) cans Hollandaise sauce
3 tablespoons white dinner wine
⅛ teaspoon ground marjoram
Dash salt

Bone chicken breasts and season with salt, pepper and paprika; brown until golden in butter. Place in baking dish; cover and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 25 to 30 minutes or until tender. Saute ham in skillet used for chicken, adding more butter if necessary. Arrange ham slices on toast; top with chicken and Hollandaise Wine Sauce. Sprinkle with parsley.

Hollandaise Wine Sauce: Blend Hollandaise Sauce with 2 tablespoons of wine and seasonings; heat slowly. Add remaining wine just before serving. Makes 6 servings.

Orange Muffins For Breakfast

Morning is a time to enjoy a breakfast that's a bit out of the ordinary. You needn't serve a heavy meal, but try something special.

Homemade baked goods are always a delight. In the morning, however, you like to choose a menu that's easy to prepare. This makes Quick Orange Muffins an ideal choice. The mixing just requires a few minutes, the baking 15 to 20 minutes.

For tender, delicious muffins Reba Staggs, home economist, recommends lard. It produces the delicate and light texture you enjoy in all your baked products.

To complete the breakfast, serve a half grapefruit, pork sausage links, coffee or milk.

QUICK ORANGE MUFFINS

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
½ cup sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
4 to 6 tablespoons lard
2 -tablespoons grated orange rind
1 egg beaten
½ cup orange juice

Grease 12 medium sized muffin cup. Sift together flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Cut in lard until mixture has a fine even crumb. Add grated orange rind. Combine beaten egg and orange juice and add to dry ingredients, stirring only until flour is moistened. Fill muffin cups ⅔ full. Bake in a hot oven (425° F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Yield: 12 medium-sized muffins.

Ham Sandwich

Combine a plentiful fruit with meat for an unusual open faced sandwich. Place a lettuce leaf and two "boiled" ham slices on toasted bread. Then spread each sandwich with a mixture of 2 tablespoons whole cranberry sauce and 1 teaspoon mayonnaise.

Variety Preparation

Variety meats are usually cooked to the well-done stage, with the possible exception of veal liver which may be served medium.

Appealing Salad Idea From Friends South Of Border

Here is an appealing salad idea borrowed from friends south of the border. The surprise ingredient—and the one that gives this salad "he-man" appeal—is beef! Use cooked beef (roast or boiled beef) cut into thin strips and marinated several hours in a tangy French dressing seasoned with chili powder. Serve over crisp greens. The Mexican way is to toss the salad with some green pepper and onion rings. In this version we use the onion and green pepper rings as a garnish with slices of avocado, tomato wedges and ripe olives for added interest.

"Mexican Beef Salad" is an ideal luncheon dish, satisfying without being too heavy. For dinner, serve it with a macaroni and hard-cooked egg casserole topped with buttered crumbs, or with some other meatless entree.

MEXICAN BEEF SALAD

¾ cup salad oil
½ cup red wine vinegar
1½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon freshly ground pepper
Dash of cayenne pepper
½ teaspoon chili powder
3 cups cooked beef, cut into strips
Salad greens
Onion rings
Green pepper rings
Avocado slices
Ripe olives

Blend oil, vinegar and seasonings. Add beef and marinate several hours. Drain and arrange on crisp salad greens. Garnish salad with onion and green pepper rings, avocado slices and ripe olives. Serve with some of the marinade as dressing, if desired. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

MEXICAN BEEF SALAD uses leftover cooked beef marinated in a peppy French dressing and is garnished with avocado slices, ripe olives, onions and green pepper rings.

Good Breakfasts

The extra minutes of shuteye do not make up for the "black coffee menu, only" at the breakfast table. It's smarter to start the day with a nutritionally sound, high protein meal that will satisfy those hunger pangs until lunch.

PRACTICING CULINARY and hostessing duties in anticipation of the annual fund-raising event, a "Spring Luncheon" on April 11 at noon are members of the Davidson School P-TA. The luncheon will be held in the Masonic Hall in San Rafael. From left are Mesdames Albert Vanbianchi, Albert Walz, Edward Noble, Everett Iversen.

POINTING OUT faraway places on the globe is Davidson P-TA member Mrs. Stanley Ulrich while exchange student Victoria Geneteau of Panama watches. Highlights of the program at the luncheon will be talks by Victoria along with Roger Smeets of Belgium, exchange students at San Rafael High School. An honorary life membership will also be awarded. (Independent-Journal photos)

Davidson P-TA Plans 'Spring Luncheon'

Davidson School's annual P-TA fund raising event, this year a "Spring Luncheon," will be held at the Masonic Hall in San Rafael on April 11 at noon.

The program will feature San Rafael High School's American Field Service exchange students, Victoria Geneteau of Panama and Rogers Smeets of Belgium. They will discuss their impressions of American life as compared to life in their native land.

Luncheon guests will also be entertained by the San Rafael High School music department which will offer excerpts from the musical "Brigadoon."

A highlight of the afternoon will be the presentation of an honorary life membership in the Parent-Teacher Assn. This will be awarded to a Davidson mother who has been selected for outstanding contribution to the interests of children.

Officers to the Davidson School 1961-1962 P-TA board will be elected at the meeting.

Davidson P-TA extends an invitation to all future seventh grade mothers from Coleman, Laurel Dell, E Street, Sun Valley, West End, and San Pedro Schools to attend the luncheon.

Reservations may be obtained by calling one of the following: Mesdames R. D. Bolt, Albert Walz, or S. D. Ulrich.

Masterpoint Winners

Results of the Thursday Afternoon Duplicate Bridge Club at the San Rafael Improvement Club have been announced.

Masterpoint tournament winners: First, North-South, Blanche Gibson and Mrs. Don Smith and East-West, Hazel Strittmatter and James Carbaugh; second, North-South, Edith Fink and Joan Dever and East-West, Audrey M. Donahue and Ann M. Leachman; third, North-South, Helen Donnan and Frances Beurhaus and East-West, Cleo Mueller and Ludovica Bigelow.

The James Eschens (Molly is a new member of the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary) will be seated at a table with the Messrs. and Mesdames John Hofmann Jr., William L. Stewart Jr., and Edward B. Towne Jr.

Another large group who plan to attend the benefit opening consists largely of members of the Country Club Guild of Sunny Hills. Included in this reservation will be the Messrs. and Mesdames Clayton Rice, James Shock, Robert Walker, Ernest Haenggi, Dave Bray, Leavitt Olds, Herbert Walton Jr., David Menary Jr., Al Renger, and Dr. and Mrs. Martin Guttman.

Dining together at the opening will be the Messrs. and Mesdames William Stark, Warren Logan, Frank Klineman, Maury Koblick, Robert McGuinness, Gifford Von Kaesbourg, Charles Clifford and Brian Rowlands.

Mr. and Mrs. James Tufts II are planning to attend the opening with the Messrs. and Mesdames William Patten, Robert Brown and Francis Rollins Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Murray Fox have included a group of San Franciscans at their table. In this party will be the Messrs. and Mesdames Stuart Morshead, James McWilliams, Richmond Dennis and Horace Hill III of Belvedere.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Daniels Jr. (Carol is reservation chairman for the opening) will attend with the Messrs. and Mesdames John Munson, Harry Lucheta, Edmund C. Ward, and Howard Dickerson.

A group of mostly Kentfield residents who will sit together includes the Messrs. and Mesdames John Morse, James Peggs, Neil Fulton, David Peugh, James Waste, Boyd Quinn, Kenneth Treganowen, Kenneth Wells, and Donald McCrea.

Seated together at a large table at Dominic's will be the Messrs. and Mesdames George Ball, William Curley, Edward French, Max Thelen, Stewart Harrison, Noel Kelly, John Hale, James Coleman and Thurston Journey.

Reservations have been made for a table to include the Messrs. and Mesdames Dean Solinsky, Thomas Jones, Purn Vorhees, William Anderson, Charles Winton, John Allen III, John Willcutt, Beal Willcutt, William Carewe, Ellis C. Berry Jr., Everett Pezoldt, and Raymond Kallman.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sheehan will come from San Francisco to attend the benefit opening with Mr. Sheehan's brother and his wife, the Gregory Sheehans. Included at the same table will be the Messrs. and Mesdames Robert Slate, James Sigman, Ed Cala, Jan Smekens, and Allan Gilman.

Reservations are still available for the semi-formal party and may be obtained from Mrs. Charles Daniels Jr., 191 Deer Park Avenue, San Rafael.

Northgate Concludes Bridge Series

The Northgate Group of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross has just concluded its seventh bridge tournament for members and friends of the organization.

The eighth in the series will start in September and will be held in homes of members.

Mrs. Fred H. Sloat and Mrs. Harvie M. Freed, chairmen of the seventh series last week gave a small luncheon at Mrs. Freed's home in Greenbrae to honor the winners.

Awards were presented by Mrs. Edward J. Ruff, Northgate president.

Division winners were Mesdames Marsh W. Bull, Gregory K. Solon, William H. Cassidy, Samuel G. Crowell, J. Kenneth Peters, and Mrs. Freed.

The finalists in the tournament were Mrs. Cassidy and Mrs. Crowell.

Mt. Carmel P-TG Plans Space Dance

"Space Spree" is the theme selected for an evening of dancing on April 29 at the Mill Valley Golf Clubhouse to be sponsored by Our Lady of Mount Carmel Parent-Teachers Group.

Mrs. John Roll, general chairman, has named as committee heads Mesdames Frank Lamb, food; Manuel Pasquinucci, hostesses; Eugene Fox and Earl Miller, decorations; Francis Doyle, invitations; Frank Ubhaus, telephone; and Eugene Solovieff and Richard Savelli, reservations.

Mrs. James Arbios will handle publicity.

An orchestra will entertain from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the informal affair.

Men from Mars, the Milky Way and rockets in colors of chartreuse, black and cerise are among the motifs Mrs. Fox and Mrs. Miller will use to carry out the space theme.

The P-TG will give the profits from the evening to the support of Our Lady of Mount Carmel School.

Mrs. Solovieff and Mrs. Savelli are taking reservations.

STAFFERS AT the Village Salvage Shop in Tiburon are pictured as they ready items for the auction to be held on Friday at 11 a.m. at the Main Street shop. The auction will mark the ninth birthday of the shop. From left are Mesdames Joseph Johnson, Agnes Kircher and Wesley Costello. Among the articles to be auctioned are old books, a Victorian sofa and an Italian expresso maker. (Independent-Journal photo.)

ART CLUB REWARDS CARETAKER

In appreciation of his 18 years of outstanding service as caretaker of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley Leo W. Fenton was presented Monday with a gift by the membership.

Fenton has served the club since 1943 and is retiring. The gift was voted unanimously at the last meeting of the club after several spoke in recognition of his work, including the president, Mrs. Philip T. Smith.

Camp, Auxiliary To Meet On April 10

John H. Harris Camp 18, United Spanish War Veterans, and Auxiliary 82 will meet on Monday, April 10 at the IOOF Temple, San Rafael. Luncheon will be served at 12 m. with Mrs. Elizabeth B. De La Montanya, auxiliary president, the hostess. An Easter theme will be carried out.

The meetings will begin at 1 p.m. Patriotic days on the month will be observed, April 21, Muster Day, April 25 declaration of war with Spain and April 27, Americanism Day.

Birthdays of the members of the camp and auxiliary which are in April will be celebrated. All USWV members are invited.

Decorations Guild Adopts 'Theme Of Month' Program

The Decorations Guild of the Marin Art and Garden Center has adopted a "theme of the month" program.

Members of the group, which presents the Greens Sale during the Christmas holidays and year round sales of floral decorations, will offer arrangements and gifts for babies and brides this moth.

"April Showers" items will be available in the Decorations Guild show room at the Center in Ross.

Mrs. Robert L. Tuckey of Kentfield, president of the Guild, has named Mrs. Marion Ludlow as chairman of another new guild project. The latest creative program is the "hat bar" where garden hats and bags are offered at low cost.

Mrs. Tuckey announced wreathmaking lessons each Monday at 10 a.m. during April, with Mrs. Henry Picard acting as chairman.

Marin Students At Wellesley College Campus Guides

Two students from Marin, Sandra Boyer and Susan Detweiler, have been named official Campus Guides at Wellesley College in Wellesly, Mass., where they are freshmen.

Selected by representatives of the college administration, Campus Guides introduce Wellesly to prospective students and their parents. Guides are prepared to answer questions concerning studies, extracurricular activities, and facilities of the college as they escort these guests around Wellesley's 400-acre campus.

New Campus Guides will be honored at a tea on April 10 when they will have an opportunity to meet Miss Mary E. Chase, vice president and director of admission at the college, and Miss Barbara Clough, the associate director of admission.

Miss Boyer, a graduate of Redwood High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Boyer, Corte Madera. She holds a scholarship from the Seven College Conference of Eastern women's colleges.

Miss Detweiler's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John S. Detweiler, San Anselmo, and she was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School.

Marin Designer To Present Show

Designer Antoinette will present the fashions on Friday when the Welfare League of Santa Rosa holds its luncheon and fashion show at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito.

Marin designer Antoinette recently opened her salon on Fifth Avenue in San Rafael under the name Maison Antoinette. Spring and summer creations will be shown at the fashion luncheon.

Fashion Focus Will Celebrate Third Anniversary On April 11

By PATRICIA ZINN

"Fashion Focus," the popular Tuesday luncheon series at Rickeys Rancho Rafael celebrates its third anniversary next week by honoring the San Anselmo Women's Club in a promenade of fashion from a Marin shop.

Every Tuesday, rain or shine, for three years, with the exception of special holidays, "Fashion Focus" has been a part of the Marin scene. Its name is familiar to readers of the Independent-Journal and to fashion minded women from all parts of the Bay Area who have enjoyed the luncheons and fashions.

A weekly series that sparkles for three years is a remarkable achievement and gives "Fashion Focus" the distinction of being the longest running, continuous fashion luncheon series in Northern California.

For Marin organizations, Fashion Focus has been more than just a luncheon. It began with a three-fold purpose, and its purpose has been carried out by coordinator Marion Bellamy: 1. To honor every Tuesday during the year an outstanding community service organization by focusing attention on their special cause; 2. To present the best of fashion from Marin specialty shops and encourage shopping within the county, and 3. To spark every fashion luncheon with a different theme appropriate to the group and its activities.

In addition, the Tuesday luncheons are planned by the coordinator to make the day pleasant and profitable for the honored group with a minimum of work and worry.

As coordinator of the Fashion Focus series, Marion Bellamy must arrange for the honored organizations, spacing them with an eye to community interest and variety of purpose and select the fashion shop mindful of the season, the fashions of the store, and the group of the day . . . i.e., you would not choose a store featuring swimwear and sports togs for groups whose membership were mature grandmothers.

Once the honored group of the week and the fashion shop are scheduled, the coordinator must plan a provocative theme, arrange for publicity photographs and props, coordinate the fittings for clothes and hair styling with the groups model chairman, supervise and write the press releases, introduce and close every luncheon with zestful commentary. At every luncheon, Marion arrives loaded with jewelry, gloves, shoes and props to supply the all-important accessories for those stores that do not stock them. For designers showings when a store is not involved, she must fit, accessorize, and line up the entire show in addition to all the other activity.

ALL ASPECTS

In the course of producing one show like Fashion Focus, the coordinator must not only know all aspects of the fashion business, but be a publicist, journalist, public relations expert, and copy writer, display director, accessorizer, timer, commentator, production manager, decorator, instructor, prop man and chauffeur.

The story of "Fashion Focus" began in the summer of 1957 when John Rickey purchased Rancho Rafael and Marion Bellamy had an idea for a weekly fashion luncheon. First came the gala opening of Rickey's and a special fashion luncheon to benefit the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary. Inspired by the success of the Sunny Hills day and the enthusiasm in Marin for charitable endeavors, Rickey and Marion developed their plans for launching a weekly series in a friendly, informal setting.

Honored at the first "Fashion Focus" luncheon was the Marin Unit of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc.

One hundred and fifty to 200 luncheon guests are the average on Tuesdays with many weeks more than 300 on hand. More than 100 civic, charitable and educational organizations have had their special days, many returning more than once when a particular endeavor needs special emphasis.

From the boutiques of Sausalito to the branch of a San Rafael store in Novato, the Tuesday series has highlighted the county's fashion stores. Rising young designers with marked talent such as the distinguished couturier, John Calvin of Sausalito and the young French designer Antoinette have been introduced for the first time to the Marin public at the Fashion Focus series.

The luncheons have brought to Marin the collections of such fashion houses as Eleanor Green, Koret of Cailfornia, Rose Marie Reid, all of whom are available in Marin stores.

The outstanding original designs of Elizabeth Vincent, Joel Moreau, and Elizabeth Arden have been shown on special Tuesdays.

The attractive models-of-the-day are chosen from the honored organizations and are given a pleasant Saturday morning refresher class in informal modeling by Marion Bellamy to make them feel more at ease and show the clothes with greater confidence.

Spokesman for every group that has been honored at Rickeys Fashion Focus luncheons has been coordinator Marion Bellamy, who must come up with the sparkling theme for every week that suits the group, its history and its work, a project requiring a good bit of research and study of the organization's activities.

Next Tuesday's anniversary Fashion Focus luncheon will be no exception. Honoring the San Anselmo Women's Club, it will provide a fashionable cure for that contagious seasonal malady, "Spring Fever," a disease that does not generally affect the honored group, so busy are they with community service.

All of the 100 or more organizations that have been honored at the Tuesday luncheon series are invited to share the day which begins another year of Rickey's "Fashion Focus," two words synonymous with community spirit and attractive fashions here in Marin.

Marin Women

Status Of Women AAUW Section Sets Objectives

Encouraging qualified women in the community to participate more actively in public life is currently one of the prime objectives of the Status of Women section, American Association of University Women, Marin branch.

Members of the branch, under the direction of Mrs. Joel Nemschoff, chairman, have just sent letters of inquiry to approximately 50 local volunteer organizations, asking for names of women who could be recommended for appointive offices or could run for elective offices in Marin County.

When the suggestions have been received, the Status of Women group intends to make up a roster of Marin County women qualified for public office, either selective or appointive. Members have already studied a list of county boards and commissions in Marin County, with the qualifications necessary for service.

A roster of available and qualified women will serve a two-fold purpose, according to this AAUW group. It will offer suggestions for candidates to run for such offices as local school boards, and will also serve as an immediate source of names when there is a vacancy on a local board or commission. Before any woman is endorsed for a position by the AAUW, the executive board will be consulted.

Members of the Status of Women committee who have been active on this project are the Mesdames J. A. Kephart, James A. English, L. T. Lamb, Hugh Marchant, Joel Nemschoff, and Miss Lucile Dandelet.

A luncheon honoring eight outstanding women in the community is being planned for Monday, May 15, at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, by the Marin AAUW Status of Women section.

GOING OVER the Questionnaire Survey of Resource Persons which could be used in elementary and secondary schools in Marin, a project of the Marin Branch of the American Association of University Women, is Anthony Bacich, administrative assistant for instruction in the Kentfield School District, and from left, AAUW members, Mesdames Hugh G. Marchant and Robert S. Milmoe, chairman. (Independent-Journal photo.)

Question Survey Marin AAUW Project

The Education Section of the Marin Branch of the American Association of University Women has had as their project, this past year, a Questionnaire Survey of Resource Persons which could be used in the elementary and secondary schools.

The questionnaire has received the approval of many of the district superintendents in Marin County, and has been circulated through these districts. The San Rafael School District under Frank Lucas, superintendent, is the first to have completed the survey. In the Kentfield School District, under the direction of Anthony Bacich, administrative assistant for instruction, the survey is now in process. Other districts are planning to begin the survey in the immediate future.

The questionnaires from the San Rafael District have been returned to the Education Section, and the information contained in them is now being compiled into a master file. This information will be available to other school districts, as well as P-TA's, youth groups, and the original questionnaires will be returned to the district to be kept in their own offices.

The survey goes to each parent and asks them to check in which of the following fields they have had experience or training, and if they would be willing to volunteer themselves in this type of program. The fields listed on the questionnaire include foreign languages, science, art, music library and physical education.

The persons volunteering might be called upon in the classrooms by individual teachers, to speak at an assembly, to assist or advise in a specialized type of program, to conduct a class after school or during the summer, or if properly qualified, to be hired by the district to be used in a particular capacity.

The Education Section under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert Milmoe, and assistant chairman Mrs. Abe Froman, undertook the survey with the hope that if such a list of available people could be given to the schools and made use of by them, that this hitherto untapped source might alleviate certain financial obstacles to more enrichment and wider variety of opportunity in the aforementioned fields.

The year's program has included a meeting in each of the fields mentioned on the questionnaire, including a presentation and demonstration of music in the schools by Hugo Rinaldi. Related subjects were also covered when Lucas showed the movie "And No Bells Ring," which covered advanced methods of teaching in the secondary schools.

The group also held a panel discussion on "European Education vs. American Education." The four panelists participating were Mrs. Guy Flanddreau, Lothar Salin, Webster Wilson, principal of Terra Linda High, and Bacich, of the Kentfield District.

Anyone desiring more information about the survey or wishing to place his or her name in the master file should contact Mrs. Milmoe in Greenbrae.

WEDDING SET FOR SUNDAY IN FAIRHILLS

The Fairhills home of Mr. and Mrs. Merton Jacobs will be the setting on Sunday for the wedding of Ingrid Bernhard, daughter of Mrs. Adolph Israelski of New York and San Francisco, and Jacques Silvin of San Francisco. Dr. Kurt Schlesinger of Mill Valley will give the bride in marriage and Rabbi Sol White of Temple Beth Sholom of San Francisco will officiate at the wedding.

After the high noon ceremony a reception and wedding breakfast will be held at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club.

The bride-elect was educated at Hunter College, New York, and Madame Robin's in Lausanne, Switzerland. The future bridegroom received his education in Paris and came to San Francisco five years ago to follow a business career.

Game Week Plans Are Underway

Plans are well underway for the Game Week being sponsored by the Junior Social Service Auxiliary. Members are opening their homes on various evenings during the week of April 17 through 21. Also, the Marin Golf and Country Club will be open for bridge on Thursday night, April 20, at 8 p.m. for members, husbands and guests.

A prize for each table of four people is being provided by the Auxiliary, courtesy of Mrs. William J. Ghilotti.

All proceeds raised by the Juniors are turned over to the Catholic Social Service of Marin.

Game Week chairman is Mrs. Gordon Walker, assisted by Mrs. William L. Larkins, as co-chairman. Party arrangements are being formulated by Mrs. Leonard d 'Artney, in charge of awards, and Mrs. Laurence Bernardini, handling reservations.

Committee members include the Mesdames Vincent de Nevers, Charles Gondak, J. Kenneth Larkins, Robert Gibbons, James Hadfield, Edward Delger, Howard Carlson, and Crawford Gocher.

ROBERT L. HOLDEMAN, distinguished San Francisco artist, who will present the program at Tamalpais Centre Women's Club on Friday.

Distinguished Artist Giving Program, Tamalpais Center

The distinguished San Francisco artist, Robert L. Holdeman, will present the annual art program at the meeting of Tamalpais Centre Woman's Club on Friday. The artist has had a number of exhibitions and one-man shows. One at the Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco was widely acclaimed by the critics. Alexander Fried said "The watercolors and drawing by Robert Holdeman . . . are a first rate attraction. Whether Holdeman is working in romantic representational moods or quick sketchy abstractions, he puts forth a beautiful lyrical feeling. His mastery is both delicate and complete." Holdeman's art is variable. He shifts from style to style, choosing what is most expressive for the subject.

Holdeman was born in Nebraska in 1912 and came with his family to California in 1919. He studied art at Los Angeles City College and at the Chouinard Art Institute in Los Angeles. He has taught at the California School of Fine Arts and at the Artists' Cooperative.

The artist will be introduced at the 2 p. m. program by Mrs. Roland Becsey, first vice president. It will be preceded by a 1 p. m. business meeting with Mrs. William MacKay, president, presiding. The nominating committee will submit its report. The board meeting will also take place that day and is set for 11 a. m.

Friday is guest day and members may bring friends to the program and tea following. On the tea committee are Mrs. Clyde Lightbody, chairman, and Mesdames Esther McDonald, H. N. Mangels, Walter Hennings, and P. J. Roach.

Mayors Of Four Cities In Europe Meeting Tourists

Peggy Wilberg's motto "be more than a tourist, be a friend," has found a warm echo overseas. Letters from several mayors of European cities to whom she had written, asking if a friendly meeting between residents of those towns and her group might take place some evening at the travelers' hotel, have been answered and prove that people abroad are most eager to welcome Americans who show a friendly interest and curiosity.

Mayors of Lisbon, Madrid, Paris and Vienna have expressed their desire to cooperate and have arranged for meetings at their city halls. These cordial invitations suddenly posed a problem. Peggy thinks that her group should not appear with empty hands, and, after some deliberating, it was decided to take gifts along: The Information Please Almanac 1961, and handsome letter openers of redwood burl.

The U.S. Department of the Interior contributed a magnificent set of color pictures of U.S. national parks which Peggy will show, along with photos of all the beautiful and interesting spots in Marin County and views of cities in the country.

Mrs. Wilberg, who resides in Mill Valley, will leave with her friendship tour group on April 17 to visit 11 European countries.

Outdoor Art Club Section To Meet

Mrs. Frank L. Smith will review two books for the Outdoor Art Club's Literary Section tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. in the clubhouse, according to section chairman Mrs. J. H. Goulding.

The two books are "The Crookedest Railway in the World" by Graves and Wurm and "The Good Years" by Walter Lord.

At 2:30 p.m. Miss Lois Walker will show slides and comment on the pictures she took during her six months' tour last year through Europe and the Mediterranean countries.

FUN WITH FOOD AND HELPFUL HINTS

"Progressive" dinner parties are fun for everyone and no strains on purse-strings. If you draw the main course, this casserole for 8 can be prepared in advance. Cook two 12-ounce packages GOLDEN GRAIN Egg Noodles. Stir in 2 cups each, sour cream, cottage cheese, chicken; 1 cup ripe olives, ½ cup chopped pimiento. At serving time, pop into the oven and heat.

A baby likes variety in his meals—a bite of meat, a taste of cereal, a spoonful of fruit or pudding. And now Mother need not worry about leftovers. GERBER Can Covers slip over opened GERBER tins, to provide a quick, safe seal for refrigerator storage. They are at food stores now, in sets of three and four (Junior or Strained) in brightly marked packages.

Gelatine salads are the smart woman's best party aid. If you want to make the last-minute chores even less weighty, add the help of REYNOLDS Wrap Aluminum Foil. Press strips of foil at intervals inside greased mold, with ends extending outside and pour salad over them. To serve, use the tabs to ease the salad from the mold; result, perfect!

Stew can be glorious eating, particularly at this time of year, with real Spring lamb available. Two rules for really good lamb stew: brown the meat thoroughly, on all sides, before covering to simmer. And use FRENCH'S herbs to enhance its good flavor. A touch of FRENCH'S Rosemary, Bay Leaf and Garlic Powder perform wonders for a lamb stew or roast.

★ Paper plates, used for sifting flour and such chores, save dishes.

Beautiful green asparagus deserves the best in sauce and garnish. Cook the plumy spears until crisp-tender (not a second longer) and keep warm on paper towels. Saute drained ROYAL TREAT Mushrooms in butter and pour over the asparagus. Sprinkle with buttered crumbs and paprika. Save the delicious juice from the ROYAL TREATS and add rich flavor to gravy.

April's the month for showers, and I don't mean rain! If you're the hostess serve this salad, sure to be the center of conversation. Soften 1 envelope gelatin in ½ cup water, dissolve in 1 can hot cream of asparagus soup. Cool: add 1 7-oz. can WHITE STAR Tuna, 1 Tb. lemon juice, ¼ cup each, chopped, celery, radish, pimiento. Stir in ¼ cup mayonnaise; chill until firm.

These first spring days make it hard to stay indoors. When the garden simply demands a full day's attention, or the children beg for an afternoon in the park, plan a Mexican dinner. VAN CAMP'S Chili Con Carne with Beans is always delightful food . . . good meat chopped and cooked with piquant Mexican spices, small red beans filled with flavor.

Hand towels lead a hard life in the average home, but it can be lengthened considerably by frequent laundering with the right kind of bleach. PUREX Liquid Bleach, which contains no harsh chemicals to break down fibers of linen and cotton, does a gentle but thorough job on white and colorfast towels. Add it, with the soap, to the water in your automatic washer.

That's all for now! See you next week!

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Groundbreaking Planned Soon For New Telephone Building

Very possibly the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. will see the breaking of ground for its new toll equipment center on Shaver Street, San Rafael, before the middle of the month.

The $2,400,000 building is scheduled for completion by late summer of 1962 and is part of the company's 200-million-dollar expenditure program throughout the state for 1961.

This is one of those cases where the benefits are too often overlooked or just taken for granted—in which an existing industry bears a chicken and egg relationship to the county's economy.

Its own expansion follows as a natural sequence of population growth with increased demands for more conveniences—and in turn provides some of the additional facilities which encourage still more growth and attract other industry.

Upon completion, immediate advantages will be experienced by Belvedere, Ignacio, Stinson Beach, Bolinas, Inverness, Nicasio and Point Reyes with direct distance dialing and it will also give more space in the Fourth and H Streets building for increasing local exchange requirements.

WHILE CONGRATULATIONS are being passed around, some are due the San Rafael office of York and Co., Investment security counselors, that observed its second birthday last week—and to Jess J. France Jr., resident manager whose elevation to general partner in the firm has recently been announced.

The observance took the form of a luncheon at La Petite Auberge, attended by some 20 Marin community leaders.

Palmer York, youthful head of the firm and member of the board of governors of the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange, in commenting to the group on present trends in security prices said that the market is presently going through "its screwiest period" in the 15 years he has been following it closely.

He said he is suspicious of the high prices of many stocks right now, but added that "there are good buys—the trick is to find them."

LOWELL N. ROSS of San Rafael, northwest area sales representative for the microfilm products group of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. of St. Paul, Minn. has been named one of three 1961 winners of an annual microfilm sales award.

Ross was presented the Lens Award for leadership, enterprise and noteworthy salesmanship this week at the National Microfilm Association convention in Chicago.

THOMAS W. STARK of Redwood Factors, San Rafael — that business that helps other businesses with operating capital—has announced that the board of directors declared its first dividend to stockholders as of April 1. Checks are now in the mail.

Said Stark, "Our volume in 1960 showed a 100 per cent increase over the previous year. Prospects for 1961 look even better."

The firm is now in its fifth year of operation.

L. J. DERVIN FORD CO. of Novato has a couple of winners on its staff—Clifford (Buzz) Jackson and William Beedle, both of Novato—who have won Ford Motor Co. awards as top salesmen for the past year.

The average award winner sells $400,000 worth of automotive merchandise during a yearly period, a national company spokesman said.

All-America Ceremony To Be Held In Ross

Detailed plans for a ceremony of presentation of Marin County's "All-America City" award at 4 p.m. Sunday in the Art and Garden Center in Ross were announced today by the Marin County Real Estate Board and Marin Industrial Development Foundation, co-sponsors.

Receiving the award on behalf of citizens of the county will be Mrs. Norman B. Livermore, president of the Marin Conservation League.

The award will be given by representatives of the joint sponsors of the annual national contest in which Marin County this year was one of 11 winners, and the only county to be included with 10 cities.

George B. Leonard Jr., head of Look Magazine's San Francisco bureau, will serve together with Norman Nash of Kaiser Industries, Oakland, who will represent the National Municipal League of New York.

Fred F. Enemark, president of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, will preside over the ceremony, which will start after a half-hour concert by the 22nd Army Band from Fort Mason.

By authorization Monday of the Marin County Board of Supervisors the civic center model, which was shown as part of the contest presentation last fall in Phoenix, Ariz., will be on display. Other exhibits have been prepared by the National Park Service, the Marin Conservation League and the Marin County Redevelopment Agency.

Nitrogen is the fertilizer element most frequently needed by fruit crops.

Knock-Out Gas Plan Favored

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The California Assembly went on record yesterday in favor of a program of equipping U.S. armed forces with non-lethal "knockout gas" to use in police actions in underdeveloped countries.

The house voted 70-6 for a resolution asking the federal government to study the possibility of such a program.

Assemblyman Charles Conrad (R-Sherman Parks), author, called the development of non-poisonous gas "one of the most fantastic developments to come in recent years."

To Give Address

E. Dewart Lewis of the College of Marin in Kentfield, representing junior college English instructors, will address the 1961 Conference on English Composition at the Berkeley campus of the University of California on April 22.

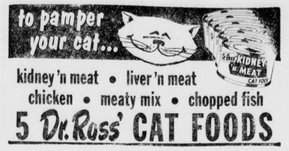
Oversize Furniture

GRUNDY, Va. (AP)—Ed Pugh has a boulder in his bathroom. It is in his bedroom, too.

The boulder plunged down a mountain side and crashed through the roof between the bedroom and bathroom. No one was injured, but Pugh is wondering how to get rid of it. It's too big to go through a door.



County's Republicans To Accompany Nixon

California's top Republicans will accompany former Vice President Richard M. Nixon to Marin County Saturday.

Nixon will speak at a buffet luncheon at Rickey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio for all workers and contributors to last fall's presidential campaign. He will personally thank all who helped. More than a thousand party workers from Marin, Sonoma and Napa are expected to attend.

David Winslow of Tiburon is chairman of arrangements for the reception.

Accompanying Nixon will be Joseph Martin Jr., national committeeman; Mrs. Patricia Hitt, national committeewoman; Caspar W. Weinberger, vice chairman of the state central committee; Mrs. Ruth Watson, women's vice chairman of the state central committee; Miss Emily Pike, assistant secretary, and Assemblyman Don Mulford, assistant treasurer, state central committee.

Also in the party will be Mrs. Lucille Hosmer, president, California Federation of Republican Women; Pete Ashen, president, Young Republicans of California, and Robert Lindsay, president, California Republican Assembly.

Nixon will arrive tomorrow morning in the Bay Area, appear at a kickoff luncheon for the Cancer Society drive in San Francisco, then attend a welcome home reception sponsored by the San Francisco Republican County Central Committee and the Republican Coordinating Council.

He will attend the Republican Community Service Center opening Friday in San Francisco, and a reception Friday night in San Jose. The Marin luncheon will begin at 12:45 p.m. Saturday.

Tickets For Seniors' Outing Available Soon

Tickets for Marin Seniors outing to Hamilton Air Force Base on May 4 will be available at the Marin Senior Assn meeting at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo, chairman Manny Charnow announced today.

After a business meeting Saturday, refreshments will be served, followed by games.

The INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL'S journey in the service of Marin County, from 1861 to 1961, has been a long one.

Marin County has grown and prospered during the past century and, in helping to build Marin, the I-J has also attained size and strength.

Now this newspaper is celebrating its 100th Anniversary. We invite everyone to join with us in celebrating this auspicious occasion.

Events of the celebration will include FOUR CENTENNIAL EDITIONS—March 18, March 25, April 1 and April 8.

We invite everyone to our OPEN HOUSE on April 7, with GUIDED TOURS of our plant from 7-9 P.M.

You will see one of the most modern newspaper publishing plants in the country, and receive with our compliments a 36-page booklet as a souvenir of the day.

Come one, come all—we await you with the WARMEST OF WELCOMES!

"Childhood Scenes"

Junior Music Club Plans Piano Concert

Guest soloist at Marin Junior Music Club's meeting Saturday at 1 p.m. in College of Marin's Olney Hall will be William Clark of Corte Madera.

Concert pianist Clark is a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., and a graduate of the Julliard School of Music in New York.

"Kinderszensenen (Scenes from Childhood), selections from the German composer, Walter Schumann, will be the theme of Clark's presentation before the young Marin musicians.

Included in the club agenda will be a brief business meeting and election of officers for 1961-62. A new slate of officers will be submitted to the membership by Kris Kraft, president.

After the meeting, a dress rehearsal is scheduled for the tenth annual formal concert of Marin Junior Music Club, to be held April 30 in Olney Hall. Eugene Ramey, master of ceremonies for the projected concert, will brief the performers on concert technique and stage presence.

Playgrounds Have Special Events

With the advent of spring, track and field, softball and special events are being supervised at all San Rafael playgrounds, the San Rafael Parks and Recreation department announced today.

The weekly schedule of supervision is as follows: On Monday, Coleman and Sun Valley Schools; Tuesday, Hartzell and Short Schools; Wednesday, E Street and Hartzell Schools; Thursday, San Pedro and West End Schools; Friday, Laurel Dell and MacPhail Schools.

All areas are supervised from 3 to 5 p.m. by a recreational staff member. Albert Field is supervised Monday through Friday from 4 to 5 p.m. and on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Bank To Show Local Paintings

Paintings, showing the development of the young artist, will be displayed at the Sausalito Branch of the Bank of America, it was announced here today.

The bank has been showing paintings by local artists, but this new theme is to show the education of the artist. The first showing will be the works of Thad Thomas, who has been in the Bay Area since 1954.

Discussion about the education of the artist will be held at the Phyllis Heath Gallery at 7 Princess Street in Sausalito at 7 p.m. each Wednesday.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, April 5, the 95th day of the year with 270 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1827, Sir Joseph Lister, English surgeon and founder of modern antiseptic surgery was born.

In 1869, Daniel Bakeman, last survivor of the Revolutionary War, died in Freedom, N.Y., at the age of 109.

In 1951, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were sentenced to death as atom spies.

In 1955, Sir Winston Churchill resigned as prime minister of England.

In 1958, Cheryl Crane, 14-year-old daughter of actress Lana Turner, stabbed and killed her mother's boy friend, Johnny Stompanata.

A thought for today: Ralph Waldo Emerson said: "An institution is the lengthened shadow of one man."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Lightface type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

Be Sure To Check On Summer Camp Before You Send Your Child There

It's time to choose summer camps for your youngsters. While good camps are wonderful, bad camps can be lethal. Let's take a look.

I've kept track of camp accidents for many years. Each summer a good many children lose their lives in badly run camps. There are almost no deaths at good camps. I wish I could give you a list of good camps, but I can't. I've examined the lists available and found some of the "approved" camps aren't entirely safe. You'll have to inspect the camps for yourself, and draw your own conclusions.

You'll find the better camps are popular. Some are filled up already. Don't send your son or daughter to any summer camp without first finding out the answers to these questions:

1. Is the director a trained, experienced camp executive? Amateurs usually make poor camp leaders, no matter how good their intentions may be.

2. Are the counselors and other workers carefully selected and given special training? Many camps hire run-of-the-mill teenagers without any preparation. Trouble follows.

3. Is the camp safe, and sanitary? Are there any roads running through it? Is the swimming pool fenced? Is a lifeguard employed? Are the toilets screened? Are the showers adequate?

4. Does the camp have a good safety and health record? How many children got sick last year? Were any campers drowned or killed riding horseback? Were any lives lost in falls from cliffs, or from trees? How many bones were broken? Beware of camps with bad records, no matter what explanations are given. Accidents and epidemics can be prevented.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Are the camps run by the nationally known organizations generally good? I'm thinking particularly of Scout camps, or YMCA camps."

N. V.

(A) National organizations set standards for their member camps. The places which live up to the standards are okay but I'm sorry to say that some camps do fall behind the national standards.

Pet Hospital Open House

The Tamalpais Pet Hospital will hold open house at its new location at 691 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, Saturday from 2 to 4 p.m. and be open for business at the new site Monday.

Dr. Henry P. Boyd, veterinarian, whose father, Dr. Robert Boyd, started the business in 1919 on Morningsun Avenue, announced today that he will open the new pet hospital in partnership with Dr. John K. Perry.

The building represents the latest ideas in veterinary hospitals, Dr. Boyd said, including a separate entrance for persons bringing dogs from those bringing cats to avoid hostilities. Inside "runs" have a solarium so dogs may be exercised with adequate light and ventilation.

Dr. Boyd, who took over his father's business in 1952, lives with his wife, Louise, and two children, Steven, 9, and Linda, 6, at 680 north San Pedro Road, San Rafael.

Dr. Perry, who has been in his own veterinarian practice for 20 years at Palo Alto, will move soon from Menlo Park to Tiburon.

The hospital was built by contractor A. A. Hemmerling and designed by architect Michael Wornum, both of Mill Valley.

Belvedere Annex Reports Ready

Copies of the report on annexation of a portion of Tiburon to Belvedere are available from William S. Johnstone, member of the annexation committee, at his Raccoon Straits maritime office.

Report copies are available at cost to interested peninsula residents and organizations, Johnstone said.

Johnstone emphasized that the report shows a 13-cent tax increase only for those Tiburon residents in the lighting and fire protection district. He said a public discussion meeting on the report will be held soon.

Raft Skipper Readies For Greatest Voyage

REDONDO BEACH (UPI)—The experienced skipper who led raft expeditions across the Pacific is ready for his most ambitious endeavor, an 18,000-mile drift from Arabia to Central America.

De Vere Baker's greatest achievement heretofore was in the summer of 1958 when he sailed the Lehi IV raft from here to Hawaii within three days of the two-month time scientsts estimated drifting currents would take him.

The bearded captain from Tremonton, Utah, sees the expedition as the fulfillment of a life's dream to prove that the earth's population was intermingled by drifting ocean currents.

After various tryout cruises with earlier rafts up and down the coast of California, Baker, 45, and a crew of three made their drift to Hawaii in the 12-ton, 12-by-28-foot Lehi IV.

Baker, a Mormon elder, was exultant at the success of the voyage which he convinced two shipbuilding companies in the San Francisco Bay area to finance. His objective is to substantiate a section of the Book of Mormon which says the prophet Lehi used the drifting method to get the lost tribes of Israel from the Red Sea to Central America.

He set about planning the Lehi V immediately, financing it by lecture tours, and in June will put into drydock to have the mast of the 20-by-40-foot craft stepped.

After that, a series of brief cruises off the California coast and Baker and his crew of scientists and doctors will be ready.

In July the Lehi will be lifted aboard a freighter and taken through the Panama Canal to New York, where the group plans several television appearances.

By late summer, Baker and his raft will leave for England, where he will spend the winter anchored in the Thames River. He expects to make personal appearances, showing films made on previous adventures.

In the spring of 1962, the Lehi will be towed across the North Sea for a tour of the Denmark-Norway-Sweden area before moving up the Rhine to spend the winter in Germany.

The actual climax of the wanderings will come in the early spring of 1964, when Baker and his crew will be dropped into the sea at Oman and start the drift that will carry them in stages to Bombay, Ceylon, Malaya, the Philippines and Japan.

From Japan the voyagers will make the big jump across the Pacific to Seattle, Wash., and the culmination of Baker's dream, a journey down the coast to Guatemala.

Baker claims possession of ancient records which show that such a voyage was made 2,600 years ago from Jerusalem to found a new civilization in Central America.

Air Lines Merger Is Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board formally approved yesterday a merger of United Air Lines and Capital Airlines.

The merged airline, to be known as United, will be the nation's largest.

The merger was arranged in part to satisfy action by a British firm, Vickers-Armstrongs, Ltd., to collect some 34 million dollars owed to it by Capital.

The merger approval followed disclosure by Northwest Airlines that its proposed plans to merge with Trans World Airlines have been dropped temporarily.

The CAB approved the United-Capital merger subject to rate-making, accounting and labor protective conditions and restrictions to protect local service carriers.

Rickenbacker Son Pleads Innocent

NEW YORK (AP)—A son of Capt. Edward V. Rickenbacker, World War I flying hero and board chairman of Eastern Air Lines, pleaded innocent yesterday to a charge of refusing to answer a 1960 census special questionnaire.

The son, William F. Rickenbacker, 33, contended the questionnaire, of a detailed type sent to every fourth household, was snoopy, a violation of privacy and unconstitutional.

U.S. Judge Charles M. Metzner released him on his own recognizance and scheduled May 4 for setting a trial date.

Residents Putting Building In Shape

Renovation of the Terra Linda Community Building got underway last weekend, James B. Schryver, a director of the Terra Linda Recreational District, reported today.

The district plans to have the work completed by May 1, he said.

Most of the project will be done as a do-it-yourself project by district residents. The building will be painted and windows repaired on weekends.

Volunteers may contact Schryver or other directors.

Belveron To Bait Against Earwigs

The Belveron Property Owners Assn. is planning earwig bait distribution day on April 15, according to president Lawrence A. Hamman.

Property owners in Belveron may call chairman William J. Gray to order earwig control bait.

At a recent association meeting, Robert J. Filiatreaux was appointed chairman of a "plant bank" committee for residents who desire plant slips from members' gardens.

Firemen To Meet

Tiburon volunteer firemen will meet today at 8 p.m. in the main fire station to discuss the newest techniques of heart massage in resuscitation, according to association president Allen A. Olson.

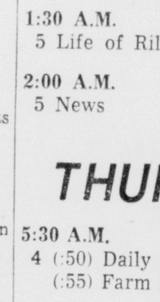
INCOME TAX FACTS

Child Care Deductions Allowed Up To A Point

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

You can deduct up to $600 for the care of your children to enable you to work, if you qualify.

This can be deducted only if if it is for the care of your child or stepchild under 12 years of age; or for the care of any other dependent for whom you are entitled to an exemption who is mentally or physically incapable of caring for himself.



Peter J. Wikel

The expense must be paid and it cannot be paid to an individual for whom you claim a dependency exemption.

You can make this deduction provided the cost is for you to earn a living or to enable you to look for work.

If you work only part of the day and pay for child care for all the day, then you can deduct only the part that corresponds to the time you were working.

If the person who receives the payment does work other than child care, the payment is allowed only for that part that is child care.

The deduction is allowed only to women and to widowers. Widowers include men who are divorced or legally separated and have not remarried.

Also, a married woman can deduct her child care expense only if she and her husband file a joint return and together earn less than $4,500 per year. If they earn over $4,500 per year, then the deduction is reduced by the amount earned over the $4,500.

If they earn over $5,100, then there is no deduction. This does not apply if the taxpayer's husband is incapable of self-support because he is mentally or physically defective.

Four Teachers Hired For Tam Schools

Four new teachers were hired Monday night by Tamalpais Union High School District trustees.

They are Duane A. Bailey, 25, 121 Brookside Drive, San Anselmo, who will teach physical education at Redwood High School; Gerald M. Lucey, 30, San Francisco, who will teach English and social studies at Sir Francis Drake High School; Beatrice Gruen, 22, San Francisco, who will teach German at Drake, and Edward B. McClellan, 31, now studying in New Mexico, who will teach mathematics at Tamalpais High.

In other action, the trustees:

1. Accepted the resignation of Harold Andersen, Redwood high mathematics teacher.

2. Accepted a request from Mrs. Harriet Crabb, assistant girls' principal at Drake high, that her resignation, offered earlier, be withdrawn. Mrs. Crabb said her family would not be moving from the area as planned.

3. Contracted with the American Seating Co. for 16 science benches for Drake high at cost to the district of $2,775. Remainder of the cost will be supplied by federal funds.

4. Announced the board would hold its next meeting on April 25, canceling the regularly scheduled April 17 meeting. Votes in the April 18 election will be canvassed at the meeting.

5. Heard a report on "how counselors are chosen," by five of the district counselors.

2,000 Bridge Players Due In San Rafael

Some 2,000 bridge players from all parts of California will seek prizes and points at the annual Marin County Sectional Championship which will open Friday afternoon at Bermuda Palms, San Rafael.

L. Severt Gaustad, president of the Marin Unit of American Contract Bridge League, announced the three-day tournament is open to all players, regardless of skill.

Friday and Saturday sessions will begin at 1:30 and 8 p.m. On Sunday, starting times are 1 and 7 p.m. In addition to the masters and regular events, special junior games are scheduled each day for the novice players.

President Gaustad and his committee are making final plans to handle the big crowds expected for the weekend. Committeemen include James Carbaugh of Fairfax, vice president; Eva Reed of San Rafael, secretary; Kenner Foote of Fairfax, treasurer; and Lura Crossley of Greenbrae, editor of Marin Bridge News.

Ray Oakley of Sacramento is tournament director.

Indoor Sports To Be Guests

Members of the Indoor Sports Club of Marin will be guests of the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club tonight at the last dress rehearsal of the "Rhubarb Revue of 1961."

In the traditional affair, indoor sports, people who are physically handicapped, are escorted to the clubhouse on Maple Street at Shoreline Highway by cast members.

The show opens its run Friday at 8:30 p.m. and will be open Saturday and the following two weekends. Reservations may be made through Charlotte Monteleone of 309 Starling Court, Mill Valley.
